Twice before this season have the colors of the local club been lowered by the speedy Darrell lads, but the locals succeed ed in recruiting the services of their old captain, F. D. VICTORY FOR CHATHAM.

The foregoing intricate, classical poetical composition-more or less artistic-set to music and rendered lads of the Chatham football club to the fortunate (or unfortunate) pilgrims who paraded the popular precincts of this magnificent commercial metropolis ere the curfew's summons homeward.

It might be mentioned, incidentally that the performance was an impromptu arrangement by the now celebrated musical maestro, William McKenzie Messer, while W. H. Brackin (the referendum member of the sinner wing) majestically swung the baton and devoted exceptional

The work of the Chatham forward line was especially brilliant and speedy. The honors of the day were earned by H. E. Kellington, who plac ed all three points to his credit. In his successful rushes he was cleverly assisted by R. K. Grant, the new centre forward, who seemed always to be in the right place at the right time, and whose playing throughout

P. B. Fetterly won the toss for Chatham and chose to kick with the wind, Darrell in consequence taking the kick off. J. Fisher started the game with a pass to the right wing and a rush was started down that side of the field, but the combination was soon broken by Percy Piggott' aggressive kicking, and the ball started in the opposite direction, getting a return ticket from Dick Asher. With ends changed and the home eam now having the advantage of the wind, the game resumed and the Chatham boys secured the ball, but some one fouled it, Pettipiece kicking it to the Chatham end. The sphere, however, was again returned and captured by Sissons, who rushed down the side line, making a pretty centre to Grant, who skilfully passed it on to Kellington, the latter sending the second goal in. It was now growing quite dark and the playing went on with difficulty. Gregory and Jenks made many well managed rushes on the left wing but Parrott's effective work on the right half back line usually broke the combination but, if he failed, there was Wilson, always aggressive and full of checking qualiies. Gregory, however, played at an disadvantage, his knee being weak and in no condition for
