PAIN ACRUSS THE STOMACH

Can Always be Relieved by a Fev Doses of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Doses of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I could not take the simplest food without a pain across my stomach." That was the miserable condition Marie Ann Bujold, of Maria Cap, Bonaventure County, Que., was in Thousands of Canadians could sympathize with her. For they know just how miserable she was. They are that way themselves. But listen to the rest of Miss Bujold's experience:

"I finally consulted the doctors, but they did me no good. Then an advertisement led me to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box completely cured me."

No one can appreciate the amount of condensed happiness contained in a box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets till they have suffered as Marie Ann Bujold did, and found the relief that came to her. That relief can always be found in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

STYLES OF THE DAY.

Moire and Taffets Directoire Gown-Attractive Light Wraps. Pearl gray moire, with steel gray taf-feta glace and Irish crochet lace, furnishes the material for the very chic gown shown in the cut. The skirt is circular, greatly flared below the hips The directoire coat has a fitted back and shows a lace vest that falls loose over the girdle. The mousquetaire un-dersleeves are of lace over chiffon, with deep wrist ruffles. Pale blue taffeta lines the vestee, and cut steel buttons add their distinctive touch. The pic chiffon scarf.

The second figure shows a carriage coat of silver gray shantung pongee and tinted gray escurial lace. The back and front are shirred for six inches below a shallow yoke and seamed under arm and at the back. Shirred liberty satin ribbon in self tone trims the coat. The pearl gray chip hat is trimmed with American Beauty roses and velvet ribbon.

Some slender, pretty women are wearing to great advantage shoulder capes drawn across their shoulders rather than fitting over them, and of ten are they most becoming when trimmed with several cross rows of ruchings, three or four usually. Lace, ribbon, pinked out soft silks or mous-selines are used in these ruchings, sometimes matching the capes, some times in contrast with all white capes They have a pretty Romney effect with bunched up ends over the bust or else permitting the ends to hang in a long stole effect.-Vogue.

To Can Tomatoes.

Have a large kettle of rapidly boiling water on the stove. Wipe the tomatoes fill a wire basket with them and plunge it into the boiling water until the skins begin to crack. Then plunge into cold water and remove the skins and the hard part under the stem. Mash thoroughly and let them boil quickly until soft, but not enough to evaporate all the liquid. Then season as for the table; to every quart allow one teaspoonful of salt, one saltspoonful of pepper and half a cup of sugar. Cook five minutes longer, then fill the jars almost full. Have ready some butter, melted, strained and hot, in the proportion of one tablespoonful to every jar. Fill to brim with hot butter and seal at once.

Whole Tomatoes For Winter.—Fill a large stone jar with ripe and sound whole tomatoes, adding a few cloves and a sprinkling of sugar between each layer. Cover well with one-half cold rinegar and one-half water. Place a piece of thick flannel over the jars, letting it fall well down into the vinegar. then tie down with a cover of brown paper. This will keep all winter and is not barmed even if the flannel collects

Pour into a buttered mold, set in a pan of cold water and bake in moderate oven for thirty min utes or until the center is firm. Then unmold quickly on to a hot plate and serve with butter and pulverized sugar

Sweet Apple Pickles, Select smooth apples below medium size and have them uniform. Peel carefully and leave the stems on. Al low two quarts of vinegar, four pounds of light brown sugar, one ounce each of ground cinnamon and Tie the spice in little cheese cloves. He the spice in little cheese-cloth bags and some sticks of whole cinnamon. When scalding hot put in enough apples to cook well. When they can be easily pierced with a broom straw skim out in a stone jar and cook the other apples. Pour the hot vinegar over the pickles, turn an inverted plate or saucer over the jar and tie up securely with white muslin.

A WONDERFUL WATCH.

M. Leroy, a Parisian clockmaker, has just achieved a triumph in watches. He has been at work since 1879 upon a chronometer which he has just completed. It contains 975 pieces, and has cost $4,000. On the case are the signs of the Zodiac, and on the main dial, besides hours, minutes and seconds, are numerous computations of time in years, months and days, the phases and age of the moon, the peasons, solstices, and equinoxes, and various time records. Then there are large and small gongs, and a little carillon of three notes for sounding purposes. On the lesser minute dial purposes. On the lesser minute dial are 226 stars of the Boreal and 200 of the Southern hemisphere, times at 125 different cities of the world, times of sunrise and sunset, and a thermometer, a hydrometer, and a barometer.

THE SMALL-POX QUESTION. Any intelligent physician will admit that you don't catch small-pox because someone else has it, but because your condition favors it. CHUOSING WIVES

Herbert Spencer, in "An Autobio-

Herbert Speneer, in "An Autobiography," tens of a gentleman who, having adopted a boy with a view to educating him after a system of his own, found that he had underestimated the magnitude of the undertaking. He therefore cast about for a wife, whom he gave clearly to understand that his principal reason for marriage was to secure a fit person to rear the boy.

A postically-minded literary man, hailing from North Dakota, not long since married his landlady, who keeps a small hotel in the Latin quarter of Paris. This young man, who for 11 years had paid not a single sou for board or lodging, was at length taken severely to task by his long-suffering hostess, who threatened summary ejection. Such a cold prospect was little to his liking, so he proposed to cancel his bill by marriage. The lady was willing, and the twain were made one.

weight was taken into considera-Weight was taken into consideration in the wooing of Miss Plumb, a fair and fat damsel of Huntington, Connecticut, whose father promised to present any eligible youth who should be willing to take her for wife £1 for every pound of her avoirdupois. Upon ascertaining that the lady's weight was 400 pounds, a Mr. Harang promptly closed with the offer, and shortly afterwards led his substantial bride to the altar.

A gentlemen residing in one of the southern suburbs of the Metropolis, who is an ardent devotee of philately, who is an ardent devotee of philately, met some while since a fellow collector in a lady, whose album contained certain rare specimens he much coveted. To obtain them he suggested exchange, purchase—in vain. At last, in desperation, he made an offer of his hand. It was accepted, and the lady and her stamps passed into his possession.

This strange courtship recalls that of John Henry Maedler, the astronomer, who died at Hanover in 1874. One day this savant, whose pet study was the moon, encountered a fellow-selenologist in the person of Frau Witte, the wife of a State Councillor who owned a wonderful model of seienologist in the person of Frau Witte, the wife of a State Councillor who owned a wonderful model of his favorite luminary, which she herself had fashioned out of wax.

To gain possession of this globe was Maedler's sole aim, and as—the worthy councillor being still alive—he could not espouse the lady, he paid court to her daughter Minna, to whom, in the natural course of events, the coveted model would descend. All turned out to his satisfaction. He married the daughter, and on Frau Witte's death the marvellous globe came into his keeping.

Though a bitter tongue does not generally recommend a wife, it did so lately in the case of a rich Yorkshireman who for some years had been pestered by the importunate assiduities of a horde of poor relations. Failing the case of a rich to the same content of the council of the case of a rich Yorkshireman who for some years had been pestered by the importunate assiduities of a horde of poor relations. Failing the case the case of a rich years the case of a rich year pestered by the importunate assiduities of a horde of poor relations. Failing to keep these at a distance he, as a last resort, took to himself for wife an acr.mon.ous spinster, whose venomous speech and uncertain temper had the desired effect of clearing his house of un.nvited legacy-hunters.

That silence is golden was clearly the opinion of a French lawyer who, two years back, was smitten with the enforced taciturnity of a lady whom enforced taciturnity of a lady whom he took for better or worse. Unforenforced taciturnity of a lady whom he took for better or worse. Unfortunately it was for worse, for if his wife was dumb she had a temper so violent as to drive him to despair, and ultimately into the arms of a very garrulous dame with whom he eloped.

The late Augustus Hare, in "The Story of My Life," vouches for the truth of the following extraordinary story. A certain lady, the unfortunate story. A certain lady, the unfortunate possessor of a cork leg, was wooed and won. One day soon after the marri-age she had the curlosity, during her age she had the currosity, during her husband's temporary absence, to open a wardrobe that he had always kept religiously fastened, and found there-in, to her horror, two wooden legs, each labelled with the name of a lady, carefully stowed away on one of the shelves. Aghast with fear she hastened to the house of some mutual acquaint-ances, to whom she confided her grueances, to whom she confided her gruesome discovery, only to be assured that, although the false limbs were those of her husband's former wives, there was no cause for alarm. Her husband, the friends explained, had originally wedded a one-legged lady, and so happy had been the marriage that on her death he had vowed never to mate again save with a wife similarly situated.

A short while afterwards he met a lady whom, as she fulfilled the requisite stipulation, he courted and won. His second marriage, which turned out even more felicitous than his first venture, had caused him, on
