Mother Carey's Children.

When the drift spins white and the winds are cold,
And the black clouds race in the milky sky, Then Mother Carey, down in the sea, Blows her children up from her home,
With a sob and a sigh, and she bids them fly.

"Oh the white foam swirls and the waves heave and sing."
So up, my pretty ones, strong of wing, There is many a good ship out, to-night, Sheeted with spray and blind with fog, So follow them close till the lights show And bring us the stars that beam on you.

They say that the fog is a magic ring
For a sailor's wealth of Johnnying; That leaves eyes close in a sudden sleep, All's well with never a watch to keep,
And the fog is a magic ring,
When they follow the dip of the fishing wing.

Their wish sea voices will lift no more When the anchor is cast for some strange shore, But when the fog is down and the waves are
And the fog is a magic ring,
Add the red words cling to the wooden mast,
And a sailor's wealth of Johnnying.

They say that the fog is a magic ring,
When they follow the dip of the fishing wing,
And when the fog is down and the waves are
And the fog is a magic ring,
Add the red words cling to the wooden mast,
And a sailor's wealth of Johnnying.

While Ned Balked.

The rain was falling in torrents as the congregation came out of the little church at Auburn. Not a cloud had marred the clearness of the sky when the sexton pulled the time worn bell rope to call the good people to service, and it was not surprising that the fair sex were arrayed in their smart spring frocks and bonnets.

The women tucked up their skirts and huddled together on the shallow porch while the men made hasty dashes through the rain to nearby homes for umbrellas, or to the old fashioned top buggies in which they had driven to church. They returned laden with protection of some kind for the girls and gossams.

"Land sakes, Inez, whatever'll you do?" asked a prim looking old lady in black of a pretty girl in a pale blue frock, at her side. "You'll never walk that two mile in this rain and that get up."

Inez Taylor looked anxiously out at the willful little raindrops dancing on the board walks. "I'll just wait here until it's over, Aunt Betty," she answered, but her pretty blue eyes looked ready to help the rain with their tears. She was thinking of the mud through which she must walk when the rain ceased, and she looked down sadly at her dainty French heeled boots and the billowy muffles.

As the rain poured on an old white house attached to an equally ancient church. The occupant, a young man, puffed from beneath the seat some side curtains and prepared to put them on.

"Well, if that ain't Robert Davis!" exclaimed Aunt Betty. "Robert, oh, Robert, come!"

"Don't Aunt Betty," interrupted Inez quickly, as she drew back into the church door. But she was too late. The young man had heard and was on the porch in a minute.

"Robert, you're just the man we want. You can take Inez home, for you're a girl's right by the house.
Ain't it fortunate? Aunt Betty might have observed from the expression of her niece's face and the somewhat embarrassed attitude of the young man that they did not agree with her.

"I shall be only too glad, Mrs Wetherby, to drive you and Miss Inez home." Old Ned is slow, but he gets there in time," said the young man, looking directly at the elder woman, and avoiding Inez's eyes.

"Oh, but Fair's a girl's home, I'm agoin' to step right across the way to take dinner with Susan and Matilda, and you and Inez will have more room anyhow. That's a dear boy," she patted him affectionately on the arm; she could not reach the big, broad shoulders. "My sakes, but you're a growin', Robert! How's your mother? Come, Inez, let me see you started home." Aunt Betty, womanlike, asked more questions than she expected to have answered.

Inez drew back into the church.
"Aunt Betty, I can wait until the rain is over, and not bother Mr. Davis," she said, averting her eyes from the young man, who stood awkward and silent.

"Nonsense, child! As if you and Robert hadn't driven home many a time. Robert, indeed! Come away, child."

Aunt Betty was perfectly right.
They had driven together many a time, and perhaps if the old white horse could talk he might add that the conversation would not convey the impression that either one was "bothered." But it was fully a month since he had joggled along before his handsome young master and the fair Inez, whom he had ventured, to think was his mistress to be.

"Come, Inez," said Bob, looking into her eyes for the first time.
"Why never a I suppose you mean," she replied tucking up her skirt and Pale, Weak Women, Take New Hope.

There is a Remedy for All Your Troubles. Thousands Have Been Cured.
Why Not Get Back Your Strength and Vigor by Using the Food Tonic, Ferreroze?

Ever since the world began woman has borne more than her share of suffering. Secret troubles undermine her strength, yet she seldom complains. But because she has suffered in the past is no reason why she should be forever dragged down by misery and sleeplessness.

There is a remedy, one that will lift that awful burden and remove the ills from which women suffer. The name of this remedy is Ferreroze which to day is a household word throughout the length and breadth of the American continent. New Hope has been brought into the life of many a downcast woman, a new era of health has dawned for thousands who have tried and proved the merit of Ferreroze.

There is no girl or woman who can afford to miss the benefit that is sure to come from the use of this great remedy. It acts directly on all the organs and insures functional activity upon which health so largely depends. Your days of weakness and headache, your hours of nervousness and despondency will all depart. Life will hold for you many new joys as it does for everyone that uses Ferreroze regularly.

Your whole body will feel the quickening influence of Ferreroze.
The blood will be purified and enriched. You will no longer suffer with suppression and interference with the menstrual functions. Ferreroze cures all such ailments and prevents their return.

Mrs. Mary F. Cowan, of Hillsboro, writes: "If half the ailing women in this world would only use Ferreroze regularly they would save a great deal of sickness. Before using Ferreroze I was fatigued and tired out with exertion. I spent half my time in bed and was forever bothered with some trouble or another. After using a few boxes of Ferreroze I became more robust, my strength increased and the irregularities I formerly had have disappeared. Ferreroze is a grand medicine for women."

You really ought to use Ferreroze.
It will do you so much good. Don't listen to the druggist who urges something just as good. No substitute compares with Ferreroze, which does all that is claimed for it. Price $5.00 per box or six boxes for $25.00, at druggists or by mail from the Ferreroze Company, Kingston, Ont.

WEEDS

Consumption is a human weed flourishing best in weak lungs. Like other weeds it's easily destroyed while young; when old, sometimes impossible.

Strengthen the lungs as you would weak land and the weeds will disappear.

The best lung fertilizer is Scott's Emulsion. Salt pork is good too, but it is very hard to digest.

The time to treat consumption is when you begin trying to hide it from yourself.
Others see it, you won't.

Don't wait until you can't deceive yourself any longer.
Begin with the first thought to take Scott's Emulsion. If it isn't really consumption so much that the better; you will soon forget it and be better for the treatment. If it is consumption you can't expect to be cured at once, but if you will begin in time and will be rigidly regular in your treatment you will win.

Scott's Emulsion, fresh air, rest all you can, eat all you can, that's the treatment and that's the best treatment.

We will send you a little of the Emulsion free.
We send this picture in the form of a label to the manager of every bottle of Scott's Emulsion.

Quick Witted Man.
The woman fainted, and these are some of the things that the half dozen men in the room with her did: Two of them made a dash for the dining room to get water, and fell over each other at that door.
One hastened to a neighboring drug store for a mixture of vichy and ammonia.

One appeared suddenly with a glass of whiskey, obtained nobody knows where.
Able-bodied and excited masculines put it out and left the party in total darkness.

Four men fanned the invalid with music, handkerchiefs, hats or whatever was at hand.
One held a popoutri jar under her nose. Another said 'Here, dear,' and tried to wipe her brow with a fan.

One put his arm around her tena-tively, not sure that the corpse wouldn't sit up suddenly and smite him for his temerity.

Two said, 'There, there,' and looked at each other and asked, haggardly, if she were quite dead.

And just as they were in despair a woman came into the room. She took in the situation at a glance.
'Let her lie down,' she said, 'and stand round her, so that she may get some air. She'll be all right in a minute. Take away that whisky and let me have some water.
There you are!'

And there she was, sitting up and blinking.

The fact that so called soothing medicines put children to sleep is no sign that they are helpful. On the contrary they are dangerous and distinctly harmful—the little one has been merely dragged into temporary inseparability, the seat of the trouble has not been reached: Never give a child an opiate except under the watchful eye of a competent physician, and remember that all 'soothing' medicines contain opiates. When your little one is not well, when it has any little stomach or bowel trouble, or any of the minor ailments of little ones, give it Baby's Own Tablets, and it will be safe. This medicine is sold under a guarantee that it contains no opiate or harmful drug.
Ask any mother who has used this medicine and she will tell you how well her little one has thrived and grown well and strong after taking the tablets. Mr. T. B. Mitchell, the well-known druggist, Ottawa, Ont., says:
'I can safely recommend Baby's Own Tablets from the splendid results they have given my customers and from having used them in our own home.' You can get the Tablets from any druggist or by mail from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 25 cents a box.
