Should the American Government therefore agree to make such equivalent concessions as may make it advisable to accord to its citizens the same privileges which are enjoyed by Her Majesty's subjects: here, the Fishery Question, in so far as Prince Edward Island is concerned, admits of easy solution: for the colony is in possession of numerous reserves, abutting on its sea shores, bays, harbors and creeks, where the tides obb and flow, expressly granted and secured for fishery purposes by His late Majesty King George the Third. With the advice of the Executive, I have forwarded to the Queen's Government a Map deleniating the localities of these reserves, distinguishing the tenures by which they are held, and copies of that Map will be haid before you.

I cannot conclude, without alluding to the advantages which must accure to the inhabitants of this Colony from the Electric Telegraph, which, notwithstanding their insular position, will enable them not only to interchange intelligence with their neighbours in the adjoining Provinces, but with the people in the remotest corner of the vast American Continent, in the shortest space of time. Man's intellect, the gift of his Creator, graciously bestowed to carry out His beneficent purposes for the good of the human race, cannot be more wonderfully exemplified than by the discovery that an Electric Cable "in the deep bosom of the ocean buried," may convey to the shores of Newfoundland, one hundred and forty thiles distant, in a very few minutes, the words I am now addressing to you. Such will be the result when this great undertaking is completed; and to the enterprising gentlemen who have embarked their capital to accomplish it, this Colony is much indebted,—and I hope-they will meet with that support and success which they so well deserve.

I shall be happey at all times, and on all subjects, to communicate with you, to expedite publi jects, to communicate with you to expedite pub-lic business, and to promote the welfare of the people.

After His Excellency's Speech had been read by John M'Neill, Esq., the Senior Clerk of the House, the House proceeded to the appointment of the usual Standing Committees.

Messrs. Clark, Davies, Mooney, Laird, Fraser, Montgomery, and the Hon. Mr. Pope, were appointed a Committee to prepare the Draft of an Address in answer to His Excellency's Speech.

and it is only emprissing thet; while every. Town and considerable Village in Great Britain, as also many Towns in the seighbouring Provinces, are lighted by Gas, this, the Capital of Frince Edward Island, should be utill in darkness.

To supply this desidenature, it is now proposed to form a Joint Stock Company—to be Incorporated by an Act of the Lagislature—with a subscribed Capital of £6000; in 1200 Shures, of £5 each, to be managed by a body of Directors, annually chosen by the Share-bolders.

**A mainy of the inhabitants of Charlottetows may be comparatively unacquainted with the practical results of Gas Companies, it may be priper to observe, that a Joint Stock Company for the purpose of lighting the Town with Gas, can hardly be called a speculation; because it is now ascertained, by reference to the sinual Reports and Dividende of the Gas Companies of Great Britain, and some of the neighboring Colosions, that wherever they have been managed with ordinary prudence and company, they have yielded a certain and steady return of annual interest on the capital invested.

Previous to bringing the scheme before the public, the Provisional Committee had been in correspondence with competent parties, both in the neighboring Provinces and in Great Britain, and from the information thus obtained, sid the estimates they have received, they are of opinion that the Land, Buildings, Apparatus, Machinery and Pipes requisite t

In addition to its greater coonomy, Gas Light may also be pronounced infer than any other ordinary Light. It produces no sparks—it cannot be carelessly placed in contact with bed curtains, or substances easily ignited, and it requires scarcely any attention. It may be turned down in an instant to the most minute speck of flame, ready to be restored to full brilliancy when necessary, by the simple turning of the stop cock; and even when it escapes by the carelessness of an attendant, or a defect in the fittings, it at once indicates the accident to the whole household, by the disagreeable simple which it accasions.

From the large quantity which must be mixed with atmosphere air before it becomes explosive, it is exercely possible that this accident should occur, in any ordinary apartment, even if the Gas were allowed to escape for the purpose. And as its smell so instantly indicates its presence in cellars, or other confined situations, where it may have escaped in quantity from the accidental breaking, or leakage of a pipe, it is only by the greatest carelessness, or ignorance, that a light will be approached to it, before it has been slowed to escape by the free admission of air. There is no such thing as the bursting of a pipe, or the blowing up of a Gasometer.

Rellative Expense.—The relative cost of Gas has been generally considered not to exceed one-third to one-half the cost of tailow candles.
