Tuesday's Football Game

In the first of the football games for the Victory Cup, the Stars on Tuesday night defeated the Saints—this season's League champions—by 2 goals to nil. The game was a spirited one all through, and though the Saints made some fine attempts to reach their opponents' net, they were unsuccessful. J. Kavanagh and Power in turn did the needful for the Stars, one goal being notched up in each half. Mr. W. J. Higgins was referee.

A Refutation.

Editor Morning Post.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of to-day, in a report of the meeting held in the Casino Theatre last night on behalf of a political party led by Hon. R. A. Squires, you quote Mr. Cullen, a returned Naval Reservist, as alluding to me in the following terms.

"Mr. Cullen cited the case of a soldier who had lost both legs and on going to P. T. McGrath, he was told that he could shovel coal. Mr. Cullen brought down the house when he said, that if he had been in the man's place with a crutch he would have knocked the head off McGrath."

Permit me to say, in reply, that only one soldier has returned who has lost both legs. This is Private James W. Moore, of Holytown. Mr. Moore, on being discharged from the Regiment was immediately granted the maximum pension allowed him under the law, namely that for total disability, $50 a month, with $10 a month for a helper, the same that would be allowed him, if he were in Canada, this being the highest Pension paid by any allied country. In addition, of course, his artificial legs are renewed from time to time and repaired as they require the same. Moreover, it is quite open to him to engage in any business he thinks fit without his pension being reduced in the smallest degree.

When Capt. Butler brought him to me, and I talked with him, I suggested to him, off my own bat, the idea of his taking up the work of a linotype operator in a printing office, an employment that would admit of his sitting all day long, and which is much in vogue in Canada and America for men suffering from such a disability. He was taken with the idea, and I offered to have him trained in the Herald office and find him permanent employment there, if it could be arranged with the Typographical Union for its rules to be waived so that he could be brought in and receive such training. He came to the office, looked over the linotypes, and then made an application to the Civil Re-Establishment Committee for training in such work, such being the prescribed procedure.

Dr. Blackall took up with the Typographical Union the question of his being admitted for this purpose, but the Union being only a branch of the International Union, and the rules of that body not permitting such training except for men who had been employed in printing offices before the war, except they entered apprentices and went through a four or five year course, it was not possible to work out this scheme. However, with a view to this or other employment for Mr. Moore, the Civil Re-Establishment Committee, on our representations, arranged to give him a course of training in the school maintained by that body, and he entered there accordingly. But trouble again occurred to his injured legs, and he had to interrupt his course to go into hospital for further treatment, and when he finishes his course it is hoped to be able to find him permanent employment of a nature suited to his condition.

These facts can be verified by Major W. H. Parsons, M.C., R.A.M.C., Secretary of the Pension Board, Dr. W. W. Blackall, Vocational Officer of the Civil Re-Establishment Committee, Capt. Bert. Butler, D.S.O., his assistant, and Mr. M. F. Quigley, President of the Local Typographical Union.

Obituary.

MATILDA PELLEY LOCKYER.

We regret to record the passing of Matilda Pelley Lockyer, wife of William S. Lockyer, who died at her home in Trinity on the 21st August, after a protracted and painful illness, which was borne with Christian fortitude and resignation. The deceased lady leaves to mourn their loss her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Sam. Grant and Miss Stella Ellis, one sister, Mrs. A. W. Miller, and a large circle of other relatives and friends. She was an earnest church worker, and interested herself in all good works. To the poor and needy her charity was unbounded, and many among the poor of Trinity will miss her sympathy and ready help.

Do You Seek Better Tyres?

The thing you want most in a tyre is the thing The Good Year Tyre & Rubber Companies try hardest to put there.

That is great mileage at small cost. The Good Year Tyre & Rubber Companies do put it there, and make sure of it by guarding every step of manufacture with jealous care.

To start properly, The Good Year Tyre & Rubber Companies own and operate their own rubber plantation in the East Indies, their own cotton plantation, and their own cotton mills.

To continue properly, The Good Year Tyre & Rubber Companies insist that other materials they use shall conform to the same high Good Year standard.

And they pursue in the same critical spirit every one of the processes of tyre-building—they watch and weigh, test and try, up to the moment of wheeling the completed product into the stockroom.

By fitting Good Year's to your car, you will, we feel certain, enjoy better tyre service than ever before.
