A ROMANCE OF PRONOUNS.

It was evening, it was moonlight, it was late and it was fair.

I was courting, I was happy, I was brave, for she was there.

She was pretty, she was blushing, she was willing to be ween. He arrived and he objected. He was papa, so I fied. I returned. He was repentant. She was coaxing her mamma.

He "rejented, and I thanked him and forgave him—dear papa!
Then he blessed us. I was happy, while she blushed a rosy red.
He was willing. She was willing. I was willing. We were wed.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

The time to get your Printing is now, the place is the London ADVER-TISER Job Printing Department. Will our friends everywhere remember that we print positively everything, from a book down to the smallest card? Either call in or write for prices and samples. You will be gratified to find how well, how reasonably, and how speedily your order will be filled. We try to keep every promise to the hour. -Yesterday was pay day with the Middlesex county officials. -Hallowe'en was quietly celebrated in London West, still a number of residents woke to find that their gates had been carried away and used as a decoration for a ree or their fences torn down. Scores of outbuildings were overturned.

-Voters should be sure and register in he ward where they live. See the list of places in another column.

-Mr. George Biddlecomb, an employe of Tambling & Jones, received a cable from Cornwall, England, yesterday announcing that his father, a railway conductor, had been badly injured and his mother was seriously ill. Mr. Biddlecomb left at once for England.

-The Board of Works did not meet last night. Ald. Thos. Jones (chairman), Shaw and Taylor were on time, but the latter left before Ald. Garratt arrived at 8:30, thus preventing a quorum. City Engineer Graydon, Secretary Bell and Commissioner Owen were the officials in attendance,

-Let it be remembered that today and tomorrow are the last two days for registration. After that every man not on the lists will be without a vote. Go to the Liberal rooms, Oddfellews' Hall, and see for Liberal rooms, Oddfellews' Hall, and see for up the aisle by her father. -Do not fail to register today, if you have not already done so. It is not safe to postpone this important duty. Young man, if you do not register you cannot vote. The hours of registration are from rain have fallen over Manitoba. Elsewhere 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., with recesses from 1 to 2 in Canada the weather has been generally and from 6 to 7 p.m. Register, and remind your friends to register.

-The St. Thomas Street Railway Company (in which several London people are interested) have applied to the Yarmcuth Township Council for right to extend their track on the boundary line, between the city and Yarmouth on the east and south sides of the city, and also along the first sideroad east of the L. and P. S. gravel road to Port Stanley.

-Mr. Higginbotham, of London, the Grand Trunk auditor, who has been in Hamilton for several weeks looking into the accounts of Fred Filgiana, the defaulting cashier of the G. T. R. freight department, returned to Montreal last evening. He would give no information as to the exact amount of the shortage, but intimated that it was under $20,000. Filgiana's whereabouts has not been ascertained by the railway company, but the guarantee company have detectives at work.

-Mr. Gustave Frohman announces his strongest attraction in his William Morris "Lost Paradise" Company, which comes to the Grand Opera House tomorrow—matines and night. Mr. Morris has already become a successful star, and his powerful portrayal of the character of Reuben Warner in "The Lost Paradise" has received the most favorable recognition from critics everywhere. This play is by the late H. C. De Mille, and the greatest triumph of that most successful playwright. Mr. Morris is supported by a very strong company, including Miss Etta Hawkins as "Cinders." The production is prettily staged and the ladies' costumes are said to be magnificent. Be Sure to Register.

Register today or tomorrow. If you do not you cannot vote. These are the last days of registration, and after tomorrow all who have neglected to register will lose their votes on Nov. 20. It is important that everybody entitled to vote should register. It is a duty every loyal Londoner owes to himself and his Province.

Symphony Concert.

The London Symphony concert to be given by the orchestra under the leadership of Roselle Pococke, on Tuesday evening next, at the Grand Opera House, promises to excel all the previous successes of this organization. Marie Louise Bailey, a famous pianiste, will take part in the programme. The following criticism of her playing was given by Prof. Schemmel, of Weisbaden: Miss Bailey is a finished Miss Bailey is not a piano player; she is more, she is a true musician, not one of the thousands, but one of the select few whose names may almost be counted on the fingers of one hand. Only two of these brilliant star pianistes have preceded Miss Bailey to America-Aus der Ohe and Mme. Bloomfield-Zeisler. In technique Miss Bailey is perfect, clear, distinct and powerful; but she rises superior to technique, she is inspired with the divine spark that calls into life the hidden possibilities of the pianoforte, and in the compositions which she interprets with such wonderful skill she carries her own personality. She holds in her hand the mystic key of genius, at whose touch all the secret beauties of which music is capable lay revealed and become servile to her will. Miss Bailey has a physical strength which enables her to execute all

I became pale as a corpse: my blood seemed to be turned to water. I had dizziness and a ringing noise in my head; my hands and feet were cold all the time, and my limbs were completely swoolen up to the body. Some doctors called it consumption of the blood. I got so weak that I could not walk, and finally took to my bed." Mrs. Weir says: "All M. Weir has told you is true, At times he lay for days unconscious and unable to take nourishment of any kind, and was reduced to a mere skeleton of 84 pounds; and I fully believe that if we had been one day later in getting Williams' Royal Crown Remedy he would be in his grave to-day. So it may well be said "Williams' Royal Crown Remedy saved John Weir's life. The best druggists keep Royal Crown Remedy, but if your druggist does not, remit direct to Isaac Williams Company. merly of this city, and Miss Josie Mackey, youngest daughter of Mr. Wm. Mackey, lumber merchant, of Ottawa, took place at St. Patrick's Church, Ottawa, on Wednesday morning in the presence of a large number of friends and spectators. Archbishop Walsh performed the ceremony. The bride, dressed in white surah silk, en train, trimmed with old point lace, with a wreath and long veil to match, and carrying a bouquet of cream roses, was escorted and Miss L. Miall, of Ottawa. The groomsmen were Capt. E. Streetfeild and Mr. J. -Mrs. Ann Clay, who died in Mount W. Pugsley. A dejeuner followed. Among
