Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets
I keep Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in the house and every member of our family uses them occasionally after a hearty meal or when any of us have a pain or ache in the digestive organs. Mr. E. H. Davis, of Hampton, Va., says: "I detected five years ago dyspepsia, but in two months I got more benefit from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets than in five years of the doctor's treatment."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heart burning, neuralgia, sympathetic heart trouble, St. Vitus's Dance, and every ailment that has its origin in the stomach. It is a cheap cathartic but an active digestive remedy containing the pepsin and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and they cure stomach troubles because they digest the food eaten and give the weak, abused, over-worked stomach a chance to rest and recuperate.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold in every drug store in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

—The nearer the opening of the Pan-American Exposition approaches, the greater is the interest upon the part of almost every one to read and see what has been done towards the construction of the buildings. A lot of magazines, brochures and circulars have been spread broadcast over the continent, still one does not realize the magnificence of the buildings until photographs are shown. Mr. George D. Cameron, the Canadian commissioner, has placed on view in the window of the P.A. Reform Wardrobe, through the kindness of Mr. R. M. Burns, a half-dozen photographs of the buildings taken on the grounds on Oct. 18. These are productions of Arnold, who had the photographic concessions of the World's Fair, and has also the same rights at the Pan-American exposition. The pictures are artistic to a degree, and tend to show what will greet visitors at the Exposition next summer.

ENTHUSIASTIC CONVERTS.
There Are Thousands of Them Who Believe as This Woman Does.

Mrs. Ira Knowlton, of Butte, Montana, is a most enthusiastic convert to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as a cure for obstinate stomach trouble. She says: "I had poor digestion nearly all my life. It now seems to me that for years I never knew what it was to be hungry, but had a good natural appetite. I was troubled with gas in stomach, cutting pressure on the heart, and palpitation and short breath. Nearly everything I ate soured on my stomach, sometimes I had cramps in the stomach which almost resembled spasms. Doctors told me I had catarrh of the stomach, but their medicines would not reach it and I would still be a sufferer had I not, in sheer desperation, decided to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I knew they were an advertised remedy and I didn't believe anything I read about them as I had no confidence in advertised remedies, but my sister living in Pittsburgh wrote me last spring telling me how Stuart's Tablets had cured her and her little daughter of indigestion and loss of flesh and appetite and I hesitated no longer. I bought a 50-cent box at my drug store and took two of the large tablets after each meal and found them delightful to take, being as pleasant to the taste as caramel candy. Whenever during the day or night I felt any pain or uneasiness in the stomach or about the heart I took one of the small tablets and in three weeks it seemed to me as if I had never known what stomach trouble was. I keep Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in the house and every member of our family uses them occasionally after a hearty meal or when any of us have a pain or ache in the digestive organs. Mr. E. H. Davis, of Hampton, Va., says: "I detected five years ago dyspepsia, but in two months I got more benefit from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets than in five years of the doctor's treatment."

Deanery Meeting.
The annual meeting of the Rural Deanery Chapter of Huron was held in the vestry of St. Paul's Church, Clinton, on Tuesday, Oct. 30. In spite of the very wet day there was a good attendance. Among those present were: Rev. Rural Dean Hodgins, Seaford; Rev. W. Lowe, Wingham; Rev. Mark Turnbull, Goderich; Rev. J. E. Parke, Clinton; Rev. A. P. Farney, Gorrie; Rev. E. H. Jennings, Bayfield; Rev. W. Tolinger, Elmhurst; Rev. G. Macquibbin,

When an M. P. wishes to get credit for something that would be shown to be a fake, if it were discussed in parliament, he puts in a buncombe bill, gets it read a first time, and then sends copies to electors in his constituency. Then he lets the matter violently alone. He never permits the measure to come to a second reading. That would expose his game, and cause him confusion. This is the way Mr. Beattie did with his so-called bill providing for an eight-hour day.

Mr. Beattie brought in the bill on March 1. It was read a first time that day. It was never read a second time, though the records of the house show that it was called dozens of times. Mr. Beattie shook his head, and it was passed over.

Thus the fake measure remained untouched by him all through March, April, May, June, and part of July, until the house rose and parliament was dissolved.

Then Mr. Beattie sent a circular to the electors, claiming great credit for the fake bill!

He also claimed that a similar law had been passed by the British Columbia Legislature.

The facts are now established:

1. That Mr. Beattie's bill is a buncombe one.
2. That he never intended that it should be seriously discussed, or it could have been considered by parliament months before it rose.
3. That Mr. Beattie never moved its second reading, though given many opportunities to do so.
4. That he misrepresented the British Columbia law, which he declared was an act providing for an eight-hour day for all employments, whereas its provisions expressly referred to miners working underground.
5. That every intelligent member of parliament knew that the British Columbia act was repealed against the governor-general-in-council by the mine owners of British Columbia, and that the law was declared unconstitutional, its provisions being entirely within the constitutional powers of the province to enact.
6. That if Mr. Beattie had chosen, he could, as a member of parliament, have called for the reports of the legal advisers of the crown, showing these facts.
7. That the deputy minister of justice, who by the way, is a Conservative, and the minister of justice (Hon. David Mills), both reached the conclusion that the British Columbia measure, providing for an eight-hour day for underground miners only, was within the powers of the legislature, because of the express provisions of the imperial act, known as the British North America act, which defines the respective powers of parliament and of the provincial legislatures.
8. That if Mr. Beattie had read the British North America act, he would have seen that the Dominion Parliament have no power to pass any law governing the hours of labor.
9. That section 91 fully sets out upon what subjects the Parliament of the Dominion may legislate.
10. That section 92 states upon what subjects the provinces may exclusively make laws, and among these are property and civil rights. A law governing the hours of labor is a law governing a civil right. Therefore, by the British North America act—the charter of our liberties as a Canadian people—it is enacted that the provinces alone can pass a law dealing with hours of labor.

Mr. Beattie's bill, therefore, was clearly a fake. If it was intended to mislead the electors, Mr. Hyman's exposure on nomination day was most timely, for a more glaring piece of buncombe has rarely been attempted to be passed off upon an intelligent electorate than Mr. Beattie's bogus bill.

ERRONEOUS IDEAS OF THE PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION ARE BEING RAPIDLY CORRECTED BY VISITORS.

THEIR EYES BULGE WHEN THEY BEHOLD.

THEY DIDN'T BELIEVE SUCH THINGS POSSIBLE AND THE ERROR INTO WHICH THEY HAD FALLEN EMBARASSED THEM.

(Buffalo Enquirer, Oct. 28.)

Any number of visitors to Buffalo the past three months have visited the Pan-American grounds. Many have come with a very incomplete idea of the immensity of the exposition, a few evidently thinking it some exaggerated state fair at the best. None have been more imbued with the notion that Buffalo was holding a 25 cent show on the grounds than the thousands of Canadian charge for admission than our neighbors from Canada.

A number of Canadians from all over the Dominion, bringing his Canadian friends here, his method of properly impressing them is to take them first to the Elliott Square, and through a few of the fifty or more Pan-American offices there, and then direct them to the grounds. This simple method has never failed to remove any thought the visitor might have had that Buffalo's exposition is in the second class.

This morning James C. Duffield, the president of the City Gas Company of London, Ontario, came to Buffalo with Commissioner Cameron and made his tour of inspection of the Pan-American grounds and some talk with a few of the officials in Elliott Square, he did not hesitate to express his delight and admiration.

"It's the biggest surprise I ever had," he said to the Enquirer. "Why, I'd supposed that the people in Canada suppose that you were to have a show something on a par with the Toronto Exposition. I was entirely unprepared for the immensity of this thing. We've heard something of the Pan-American, to be sure, but thought it was some Yankee scheme to corral Canadian money with the plea of having a show for all the Americas."

TALK IN THE PROVINCE.

"To show you how the thing has been received in Canada, I can tell you of the talk that has been made about the province since starting a counter attraction in the shape of an exposition in Toronto. For this exposition it was proposed to donate $100,000 to the province, we thought; but, goodness, here you're putting in $10,000,000.

"I'll tell you, the Canadians don't appreciate in the slightest what you are going to have down here. Canadian manufacturers and others who could exhibit, particularly, I'm sure that about 90 per cent of the people of Ontario will come to Buffalo next year. They can't help it when they realize, and they surely will, what a big show you've got. It will be the opportunity of a lifetime for anyone within several hundred miles of here. From 50 to 60 per cent of the people of Quebec will come."

"Canadian manufacturers could only see what I've seen today, there would be a rush for space with every exhibitor in Buffalo, the Canadian manufacturer will reach his own public as quick as he possibly could in his own country, and with the added advantage of all the superlative attractions of the Pan-American, for most of the people of Quebec and Ontario and a large percentage from the other provinces are sure to attend."

STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY.
An elderly farmer, named Nichol, living near Lambeth, was found lying in the bottom of his wagon, which was standing on the Wharfedale road, near Railway street. The man was removed to a nearby house, and Dr. James D. Wilson, summoned. He found the man suffering from a stroke of paralysis, and so ill that it was considered dangerous to remove him to the hospital. His condition improved slightly, but he still continues to be in danger.

THE DEMOCRATS WIN.
Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 2.—In the court of appeals the judgment of the lower court was affirmed, establishing the title of the Democratic incumbents of all the state offices except governor and lieutenant-governor, the contests over which were settled by the legislature.

SERG. MACBETH IN HALIFAX
Returned to Canada on the Idaho With Other Canadians.

Sergt. George Macbeth telegraphed the news of his arrival on the Idaho to his father, Col. Macbeth, yesterday. He was in Cape Town when the Canadians left, and probably received orders to return home, as it was his intention to stay to the finish. Until he met with an injury in September he had not missed an hour from duty. After leaving the hospital he tried to return to the front but was refused permission. He then went on furlough to Cape Town.

Full Dress

We have set the pace on Full Suits. This department is changing gentlemen recently connected with New York's most renowned merchant tailors, where his originality and accuracy of design won the emphatic favor of Father Knickerbocker's sweetest sons.

We are almost daily in receipt of good words from patrons of this department.

"Equal in value and only half as much as any brother-in-law paid the home tailor for his full dress," says one correspondent.

There's only one thing about it: a full dress suit must be absolutely flawless or it is the most unsatisfactory aggregation (and we might say aggravation) of fabrics that a man can get into.

We realized this and spared no cost to make our facilities as good as art, and skill, and money can make them.

The season of social festivities is close at hand—in fact, it is here. The dance; the theater; the party; the evening dinner. These and all kindred functions call for full dress. Every gentleman should have a full dress suit.

We make them, and make them right.
