POSTMASTER MACDONALD ON EIGHT-HOUR MOVE

Says the Men Here Do Not Work More Than That at Present.

In speaking about the rumor that a uniform 8-hour day was to be inaugurated at the postoffice, Dr. Macdonald, the postmaster, stated that there had been no thought of such a thing. As a matter of fact, he said, that system is practically in vogue at the present time. The night men, it is true, go on at 7 p.m. and work till 7 a.m., a total sity vary a good deal with the amount 12th and 13th, and the third week at tistics seemed to show that they did not work, on the average much beyond eight hours a day

Some Statistics. In the first week of October, 1906, 26 carriers averaged 8 hours and 3 minutes. In the same week of 1907, 28 carriers averaged 7 hours and 54 minutes, in 1908, 7 hours and 56 minutes and in 1909, 8 hours and 10 minutes. The men in the money order and registered branch also work at approximately that length of time. Some days it may go a little beyond and ome days it will be less.

It was impossible Dr. Macdonald Snowshoeing weather has come, and thought to make an absolutely hard
