FOUR DIE WHEN CANOE UPSETS

New Liskeard Outing Party Ends Fatally During Sudden Squall.

Searchers Fail To Find Any Trace of Victims' Bodies.

NEW LISKEARD, May 7.—One of the saddest tragedies in the history of the North Country occurred this morning when four young persons were swept under the waves and drowned when a sudden squall on Lake Temiskaming turned over their birch canoe about a mile and a half from shore.

The dead are: Norman Montgomery, aged 16, son of the manager of the Nipissing Central Railway; Percy Wall, aged 18, and James Wall, aged 21, sons of Mrs. Hoover, New Liskeard; Marshall McQuarrie, aged 15, a visitor in New Liskeard from Montreal.

The unfortunate party was on a fishing trip, and had set out on what looked like a fair morning for Dawson's Point, a distance of about three miles from the town. Their craft was a birch-bark canoe.

When they had proceeded about half way to their destination a sudden squall arose, and turning, the boys made a strong attempt to reach the New Liskeard wharf. Captain Reynolds, who was watching the canoeists from his window, stated that they were 300 yards from shore when they were hidden from view by the tops of the waves. This is the last glimpse that is known to have been secured of the four. Although a thorough search has been made by Mr. Montgomery in his motor launch along the shore between here and Haileybury, and to the east of the wharf, no sign has been found of either the bodies or the canoe. It is said that the northeast wind which was blowing here all day would deposit the light craft on the east side of the lake.

FREES SHUPE OF CHARGE OF OBTAINING TOO MANY 'PERS'

Magistrate Claims Evidence Insufficient To Show Liquor Improperly Disposed Of.

F. J. Shupe was charged with obtaining orders for liquor from doctors by unlawful means, in police court Saturday, but after hearing all the evidence the case was dismissed by Magistrate Graydon.

Dr. C. J. Karm said Shupe had obtained an order from him on May 2. Witness thought Shupe needed the liquor or he wouldn't have prescribed. Shupe got the order in the forenoon.

Dr. Penneccott of Hamilton road, said he had given a "per" to Shupe on the afternoon of May 2.

"He told me he was suffering from his usual complaint, and had just come in from England, and had just come in from England, and had just come in from England," said Shupe, it was said, was suffering from debility and nervousness.

"There is no case," stated Albert Judd, for the defence. "Both doctors thought he needed it. There is nothing in the act to prevent him from getting two orders."

"Doesn't it suggest that getting two orders in one day could not be for medical purposes?" inquired Mr. Graydon.

Shupe, in the witness box, stated that he took the bottle he received on Dr. Karm's order to his boarding house room and had a drink. He said, on returning from a trip down town, the bottle had disappeared. Witness had gone to Ingersoll and was so sick on the way home that he called at Dr. Penneccott's and got an order. It was refused at the licensed vendors.

"There is no evidence that Shupe sold the whiskey or improperly disposed of it," said Mr. Graydon, in dismissing the case.

FINDS FATAL FOOD WATER HEMLOCK

TORONTO, May 7.—J. W. McLeod, the nature of the plant which caused the death of seven members of the Lacroix family at L'Orignal, Ont., Thursday, has been cleared up. Dr. Hans T. Gussow, Dominion botanist, has announced that the fatal food was water hemlock. He stated that he received samples of both the cooked and raw material from three different sources, and all the samples were identical in their nature. The doctor stated that this plant was extremely poisonous, and was to be found throughout Canada from the Maritime Provinces to British Columbia.

CONFIDENCE MAKES MONEY SERVICEABLE AND BUSINESS POSSIBLE

Confident that our values are the best, positive we can give real service, and delighted with the business we are doing is a good sign that this is the place where you will eventually buy perfect blue white diamonds that have that winning way. John A. Nash, My Jeweler, 182 Dundas street.

INSPECTS SITES FOR S. A. HOSTEL

Brig. Jennings of the Salvation Army headquarters in Toronto, who recently succeeded Col. Miller as property secretary, arrived in the city Monday morning to look over prospective sites for the Salvation Army Young Women's Boarding Home, which is at present located at the corner of York and Clarence streets. Owing to the fact that the building has been let at a higher rental, the Salvation Army is being obliged to move the home to other quarters.

Will Seek To Protect Port Stanley Residences From Annual Looting

In an effort to induce the authorities at Port Stanley to afford them some protection against the persistent looting of summer homes which takes place every year, about 140 Londoners, owners of lakeside property, will journey to the village Monday night in a special car on the London and Port Stanley Railway, leaving London at 7:20 p.m., to attend the council meeting, at which they propose to impress upon the officials the serious condition which has arisen, caused by insufficient police protection, on account of which the pilferers apply their nefarious trade with great vigor. Several cases have been reported this spring where the residence has been entirely cleared of everything removable, therefore, the property-owners have decided to take concerted action to insure their being afforded a certain degree of safety with respect to their belongings. The delegation will return by special car, which will await the conclusion of the meeting. It has been announced that commutation tickets will be accepted from any wishing to travel with the delegation.

KING GEORGE TO VISIT BELGIUM

British Ruler and Queen Mary To Make Trip On Invitation of Belgian Royalty.

Will Inspect Soldiers' Cemeteries and Scenes of Battles.

LONDON, England, May 7.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—Their Majesties King George and Queen Mary leave for Belgium early on Monday. Their suite includes Earls Beatty and Haig, who are making the journey at the special desire of the king of the Belgians.

The diplomatic functions will mainly occupy the first two days. King George then enters upon a round of self-imposed duty, proceeding to Ypres to inspect cemeteries stretching over great spaces of the country-side.

The greater part held by the British in the great battle will be traveled with several halts on the way. The journey will be extended to Mons, where a fine monument shows the British entering amid the acclamations of the people. King George here will find preparations for setting up a line of twenty-eight memorial stones to mark the farthest limits of the German invasion, which line is to be extended through France to the Swiss border.

His majesty desires that the visit to the war graves shall be the simplest and most private character. He will live two days on the special train provided for the party, and on it will proceed to a point nearest the cemeteries. The king will then motor to those spots "which are forever England," there to pay tribute to the glorious dead. The tour ends at Boulogne, where the king and queen will lay wreaths on a cemetery high on the cliffs above the town. Representatives of the French army will attend on this occasion.

It is anticipated that during their stay in Brussels, their majesties will visit the scene of Nurse Cavell's death.

PREDICTS BEAVERBROOK WILL EFFECT BIG MERGER

Northcliffe Says Hulton Newspapers Standard Would Be Improved As Result

LONDON, May 8.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—Lord Northcliffe, in a long article in the Daily Mail, one of the string of newspapers owned by him, with regard to his resignation from the Newspaper Proprietors' Association and disassociation from the movement to reduce printers' wages, says that many people predict that Lord Beaverbrook will effect a merger of the Hulton newspaper interests. He says this would be an extremely good thing for the cause of some of Sir Edward Hulton's publications. Lord Beaverbrook owns the Daily and Sunday Express of this city. Sir Edward Hulton entered London some years ago from Manchester, where he had been highly successful in newspaper production. He now owns the London Evening Standard and the Daily Sketch.

THINKS END OF WORLD IN SIGHT

Hamilton, Ont., May 8.—Preaching on "current events in the light of prophecy" in St. George's Anglican Church last night, Rev. Canon F. E. Howitt declared that the Russo-German pact portended the reconstruction of the old Roman empire in a tenfold form and the formation of a German-Russian-Turkish combination outside the empire with great possibilities for conflict in the future. This was the subject of the sermon, which was a prophecy contained in Ezekiel 38, and was a sign that these were the last days and the coming of the Lord was an event near at hand.

OUTDOOR BILL IS FINE SUCCESS

Talbot, Ealing and Lorne Avenue Schools Tied, Winners.

Lions' Club Managed Saturday Competitions in Splendid Manner.

"The most interesting and instructive program that I have ever seen," was the comment of many who witnessed the Boys' Day Out of Doors, staged by the Lions' Club at Queen's and Thames Parks on Saturday afternoon in connection with the "Better Boy Week" in London.

Bands were in attendance at both parks and provided plenty of musical entertainment during the afternoon. At Thames Park a fairly large crowd witnessed the events, but at Queen's Park there were very few people, and the only regret of Lieut.-Col. C. M. R. Graham was that more citizens, and especially the fathers and mothers of the boys, were not there to see the London school boys compete in some of the most novel athletic events ever held in London for the benefit of the boy.

A great deal of credit is due to the Lions' Club and especially to Col. Graham, for the enthusiasm they inspired in the boys beforehand by visiting the schools and explaining the day's program, and also for the capable manner in which the events were handled at both parks.

Talbot street school won the honors at Thames Park by three of its boys capturing first prizes in three events: F. Gowers in the seed planting contest, Carl Perkins in the rose bush planting contest, and Allen Patch in the chicken-coop-making contest. The latter was a father and son contest, but on account of Allan's father being unable to come the boy rolled up his sleeves, and entering alone, won first prize.

The camp fire, potato planting and tree planting contests were called off on account of the rain. The judges were the members of the Lions' Club, the parks superintendent and his foreman, and Mr. White, manual training instructor of the public schools.

At Queen's Park, Ealing and Lorne Avenue schools divided the honors by each winning two firsts. The results were: Seed planting contest, Wm. Knowles, Ealing; rose planting contest, R. Wright, Ealing; chicken-coop-making contest, H. Hogarth, Lorne Avenue; 110-yard dash, prize, the model chicken-coop, Jack Rolland, Lorne Avenue; tree planting contest, G. Wilson, Lord Roberts.

The Chesley avenue team consisting of Master Powell, Purdy, Livermore and Demmick, won the relay race. The potato planting and the camp fire contests were cancelled on account of rain.

The Boy Scouts of this city and the Royal Naval Brigade gave excellent exhibitions of scout and naval drills at both parks.

RELEASE LARKIN ON $15,000 BAIL

New York, May 8.—James Larkin, Irish labor leader, who was released on Friday from Great Meadow Prison on $15,000 bail, on a writ of habeas corpus, was re-arrested Saturday at Conestock, N. Y., on a second indictment charging criminal anarchy. He was taken to the Tombs Prison, where two federal warrants, both charging him with violation of the immigration laws, were served.

Larkin was sentenced May 3, 1920, to serve not less than five nor more than ten years, following his conviction as a criminal anarchist.

Upon issuance of the writ of reasonable doubt, Larkin's bail was fixed at $15,000.

WORLD NEWS

CAPE TOWN, May 7.—The estimated expenditures of the South African union for the year 1922-23 total approximately £29,000,000, which is £1,500,000 below the revised estimates of 1921-22. The cost of dealing with the recent Rand disturbance, however, is not included.

TURKS ISLAND, Bahamas, May 7.—The British schooner B. R. Tower, bound from Lemerara, British Guiana, in ballast, was totally wrecked last night on a reef northeast of Grand Turk Island. The crew was rescued.

PARIS, May 7.—The Seine River continues to rise. The overflow is causing much damage. Navigation is at a standstill, and many wharves are flooded. The famous Berry docks and cellars, containing thousands of casks of wines of all vintages, are under water.

BERLIN, May 7.—A new series of movies of the Genoa conference has opened in a Berlin theatre. The audience registered what it thought of some notables in this manner:

Richard Washburne Child, the American ambassador to Italy, applauded by two persons; Chancellor Wirth and Dr. Rathenau the German delegates, dead silence; M. Barthou of France, hissed; Premier Facta of Italy, light applause; Prime Minister Lloyd George, great applause; M. Tchitcherin, head of the soviet delegation, thunderous applause, and cheers.

A paper comments: "Vox populi is right again."

PANAMA, May 7.—The British explorers Mitchell Hedges and Major Fitz-William, have just returned from a trip into the San Blas and Chucunague River country, being the first white men, it is said, to succeed in penetrating that section of the Isthmian jungles.

They brought back with them a large collection of Indian idols and primitive weapons and pieces of cloth woven by the natives. These objects are said to resemble in many ways those produced by the ancient Egyptians. The explorers were received by President Porras today.

LONDON, May 7.—Covent Garden is once more the home of a grand opera company, after having been reduced to motion pictures and boxing contests for several years.

The dissolution of the old Covent Garden company during the war left London without grand opera of the first order, and Sir Thomas Beecham, millionaire music lover, made a gallant attempt to put the garden on a paying basis with native talent, but found the burden too heavy. Now, the British National Opera Company, financed by popular subscription and composed exclusively of British artists and conductors, has been formed and has opened the famous old playhouse, after several weeks of try-outs in provincial cities.

ROME, May 7.—The Rome Year Book giving the list of diplomatic representatives accredited to the Vatican for 1922, issued today, shows the name of Alexander Lissakowsky as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary from Russia. He was appointed by Alexander Kerensky while the latter was president of the provisional government which preceded the Bolshevik regime.

Lissakowsky presented his credentials Sept. 30, 1917. Several times he has expressed a desire to withdraw, but decided to remain at the earnest request of the Holy See. Some of the Rome newspapers today called attention to the fact that Russia, but not the soviet government, was represented at the Vatican.

SEEDING OPERATIONS PROGRESS.

REMA, Sask., May 8.—Seeding is now well under way in Southern Saskatchewan, although in many sections the work has been retarded by water-soaked land and a shortage of farm help.

"Where You Will Eventually Buy."

Dad's boy wants to start in business

He may be but 8, 10 or 15 years of age—but some day—perhaps ten years from now, he will want a start in life.

What will your answer be when he says: "Dad, can you lend me a thousand dollars?" Will it mean a mortgage on your home or will you have the ready cash?

The Huron & Erie Insured Savings Plan will provide that $1,000.

For illustration, let us suppose you are 38 years of age. You decide to save $1,000 to give your 10-year-old son a start in business.

You apply for a Huron & Erie Insured Savings Account. You agree to make monthly deposits of $9.51 for 120 months.

At the end of that time The Huron & Erie will hand you $1,160.

You also receive the accumulated dividends plus interest thereon.

Should your life end (say for illustration at the end of the 60th month) your loved ones will receive $1,000 in cash and in addition your accumulated savings of $156.00, plus dividend accumulations.

Fathers and mothers, this is a sound, practical method of insuring for yourselves, or for your children, a definite reserve of cash for the future. Your savings are protected by The Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation with assets of over $22,000,000. The Insurance is guaranteed by The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada, whose assets total over $48,000,000.

Come to the Corporation's Offices today and open an Insured Savings Account! Phone or write. A representative will gladly call and explain the entire plan without obligation on your part.
