

Elis' MATCHES
EVERY WATCH SOLD
RECOMMENDS ITSELF
THE J. E. ELLIS CO., LTD.
1 King St. East, Toronto.

DICKSON & TOWNSEND
SPECIAL ATTENTION TO ASSIGNEES
SALES AND SALES AT PRIVATE

SIR JOHN THOMPSON'S VISIT

John Chambers, E. R. Temple, Thomas Caswell, John Patterson, John Blevins and others.

Mr. W. G. Maclean, which had been stationed on the lawn, discoursed music at intervals.

Mr. Frank thought that the visit of the Premier would be a great success.

Mr. Coatsworth hoped Sir John would appreciate the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

The daily Spectator, her golden fittings gleaming in the morning sun, steamed to her wharf shortly after 9 o'clock.

Mr. Maclean also spoke briefly of the harbor, and of the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Coatsworth hoped Sir John would appreciate the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Maclean also spoke briefly of the harbor, and of the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Coatsworth hoped Sir John would appreciate the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Maclean also spoke briefly of the harbor, and of the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Coatsworth hoped Sir John would appreciate the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Maclean also spoke briefly of the harbor, and of the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Coatsworth hoped Sir John would appreciate the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Maclean also spoke briefly of the harbor, and of the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Coatsworth hoped Sir John would appreciate the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Maclean also spoke briefly of the harbor, and of the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Coatsworth hoped Sir John would appreciate the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Maclean also spoke briefly of the harbor, and of the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Coatsworth hoped Sir John would appreciate the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Maclean also spoke briefly of the harbor, and of the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Coatsworth hoped Sir John would appreciate the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Maclean also spoke briefly of the harbor, and of the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Coatsworth hoped Sir John would appreciate the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Maclean also spoke briefly of the harbor, and of the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Mr. Coatsworth hoped Sir John would appreciate the necessity of improving the harbor and deepening the channels.

Laurier at Brantford.

THE LIBERAL LEADER DELIVERED HIS OPENING ADDRESS.

Four Thousand People Crowded Into the Fair Grounds to Hear Reform Speeches.

Laurier of the silver tongue, leader of the Liberal party, opened yesterday at Brantford a campaign of talk.

It was 7:15 in the dusty a. m., and like a drowsy giant Toronto was waking itself from its enforced Sabbath sleep.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

Mr. Laurier, who complained that the wicked Tories had fouled down away from the political horizon.

READS LIKE A DIME NOVEL

HOW AN ABSORBED GUY CALLED AN INNOCENT MAN'S APOSTROPHES.

Quebec, Aug. 20.—A sensational story is recounted here from Dr. Spurr, a member of the Royal College of Surgeons.

In December last a man named Arrott of Newcastle, England, an employe of a bank, made off with a considerable sum of money.

Arrott fell from a carriage and broke his arm. His bed neighbor in the hospital was Annandale, who was suffering from a lung disease which was thought incurable.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

One night in a railway accident Arrott was killed. The coroner's jury placed the blame on the usual manner of the incident, and he was not knowing what had happened in London.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

READS LIKE A DIME NOVEL

HOW AN ABSORBED GUY CALLED AN INNOCENT MAN'S APOSTROPHES.

Quebec, Aug. 20.—A sensational story is recounted here from Dr. Spurr, a member of the Royal College of Surgeons.

In December last a man named Arrott of Newcastle, England, an employe of a bank, made off with a considerable sum of money.

Arrott fell from a carriage and broke his arm. His bed neighbor in the hospital was Annandale, who was suffering from a lung disease which was thought incurable.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

One night in a railway accident Arrott was killed. The coroner's jury placed the blame on the usual manner of the incident, and he was not knowing what had happened in London.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

READS LIKE A DIME NOVEL

HOW AN ABSORBED GUY CALLED AN INNOCENT MAN'S APOSTROPHES.

Quebec, Aug. 20.—A sensational story is recounted here from Dr. Spurr, a member of the Royal College of Surgeons.

In December last a man named Arrott of Newcastle, England, an employe of a bank, made off with a considerable sum of money.

Arrott fell from a carriage and broke his arm. His bed neighbor in the hospital was Annandale, who was suffering from a lung disease which was thought incurable.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

One night in a railway accident Arrott was killed. The coroner's jury placed the blame on the usual manner of the incident, and he was not knowing what had happened in London.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

READS LIKE A DIME NOVEL

HOW AN ABSORBED GUY CALLED AN INNOCENT MAN'S APOSTROPHES.

Quebec, Aug. 20.—A sensational story is recounted here from Dr. Spurr, a member of the Royal College of Surgeons.

In December last a man named Arrott of Newcastle, England, an employe of a bank, made off with a considerable sum of money.

Arrott fell from a carriage and broke his arm. His bed neighbor in the hospital was Annandale, who was suffering from a lung disease which was thought incurable.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

One night in a railway accident Arrott was killed. The coroner's jury placed the blame on the usual manner of the incident, and he was not knowing what had happened in London.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

Arrott's false name Arrott was able to travel about in disguise, and succeeded, however, in dodging the authorities.

SATOLLI NOT WARRING ON SALOONS

He Merely Approved of a Local Regulation and Made No General Denunciation.

New York, Aug. 20.—A Times special from Washington reports that the report of the Catholic University of Washington, in which he gives authoritative explanation of the purpose of Mr. Satolli's letters on the liquor question.

The letters of the apostolic delegate," said Mr. Schroeder, "cannot properly be characterized as an edict or a decree, or a law, as has been done in various publications. Furthermore, it is an exaggeration, if the approval is extended to a local regulation, intended for and limited to the diocese of the bishop, it is represented as the prohibition of a routine for other dioceses. It is a distortion of the utterances of Mr. Satolli to stamp them as a declaration of war against the proprietors or frequenters of saloons, or against the use of spirituous beverages generally."

What are the facts in the case? A bishop whose public purposes have never been doubted even by his adversaries considers it now opportune to call a halt to certain abuses by an incisive measure. Certain Catholic societies against which this measure was directed appeared to the apostolic delegate as having the regulations of the bishop set aside or modified. Mr. Satolli, however, does not in any way justify the various conclusions that have been drawn therefrom. He merely states that the steps taken by the Bishop of Columbus do not compel all other bishops to make similar regulations, nor is there even such a suggestion implied. Nor can it be implied that Mr. Satolli, in his letter, has issued a decree excluding all Catholics from saloons, or that he has proscribed the use of spirituous beverages. Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

Mr. Satolli has never in any way condemned the reasonable and moderate use of spirituous beverages, or the use of saloons.

THE IRISH MEMBERS REBEL

AT THE GOVERNMENT'S FAILURE TO PASS IRISH MEASURES.

Sexton and Justin McCarthy Accuse Harcourt of Being in League With the Tories Against Irregular-Harcourt Declines to Give a Straight Pronouncement.

London, Aug. 20.—In the House of Commons this morning, Henry Payton Cobb asked if before the close of the session the Government would announce its intention in regard to the veto power of the House of Lords.

Sir William Harcourt said the gravity of the question would prevent an answer at the present time.

Thomas Sexton suggested that a measure be inserted in the next Queen's speech which would prevent the House of Lords from making the House of Commons impotent in regard to Ireland.

Sir Edward Grey, Under Secretary to the Foreign Office, confirmed the report that the defaulting speculator, James Spencer Balloun, had been surrendered to the British authorities, and that he had been returned to England.

Irish Members Out of Patience. The Irish Nationalists in the House of Commons lost their patience early this morning and showed plainly their dissent from the Government's policy.

Sir William Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, had proposed the postponement of the vote for the Lords and officials, Thomas Sexton, anti-Parliamentary for North Wales, had insisted that the House should not be permitted to move to rise and report progress to the House of Commons.

Sir William Harcourt replied: "I hope such a method of hindering the Government for North Wales, had insisted that the House should not be permitted to move to rise and report progress to the House of Commons."

Sir William Harcourt again protested the delay, and the House of Commons adjourned at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Dalziel's motion and two other motions of similar import were rejected by a vote of 165 to 100.

Justin McCarthy Makes Charges. Justin McCarthy, leader of the Anti-Parliamentary movement, moved that the chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means be removed from office.

Sir William Harcourt made a comprehensive disavowal for the Government, and the House adjourned at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Dalziel's motion and two other motions of similar import were rejected by a vote of 165 to 100.

Justin McCarthy Makes Charges. Justin McCarthy, leader of the Anti-Parliamentary movement, moved that the chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means be removed from office.

Sir William Harcourt made a comprehensive disavowal for the Government, and the House adjourned at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Dalziel's motion and two other motions of similar import were rejected by a vote of 165 to 100.

Justin McCarthy Makes Charges. Justin McCarthy, leader of the Anti-Parliamentary movement, moved that the chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means be removed from office.

Sir William Harcourt made a comprehensive disavowal for the Government, and the House adjourned at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Dalziel's motion and two other motions of similar import were rejected by a vote of 165 to 100.

Justin McCarthy Makes Charges. Justin McCarthy, leader of the Anti-Parliamentary movement, moved that the chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means be removed from office.

Sir William Harcourt made a comprehensive disavowal for the Government, and the House adjourned at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Dalziel's motion and two other motions of similar import were rejected by a vote of 165 to