

Lawrenceville.

Haying commenced the first of the week. The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Seely died on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Goucher are visiting at Silver Spring.

Master Burton Jefferson is spending a week or two with relatives at Annapolis.

Cherries, currants, gooseberries, etc., are in the market, and good crops are reported.

Rev. J. H. Toole will occupy the Methodist pulpit here for the first time next Sunday.

Mr. Howard Jackson of Boston is on a fishing trip here and is a guest at the Elm House.

Services for Sunday 14th: Episcopal 11 a.m.; Baptist 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Methodist 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Stanley Barreux of New York, and Miss Hartman of Annapolis are guests of Miss Sadie McKown.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Bent of Bridgewater, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Dodge of Beltsville were guests of Mr. Bent on Sunday.

Jubilee Brigade of the S. A. hold a concert here to-morrow (Thursday) evening.

Our hand boys are home again, and camp life seems to agree with them, as they all have an excellent record for facial appearance.

Mr. J. O. Marshall of Lawrenceville, Mass., and Master Everett, of Gloucester, Mass., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Pease.

Miss Gates, who has been in the store of Mr. Geo. Armstrong, Kingston, is now in the store of W. E. Palfrey, recently purchased from Mrs. Wheeler.

Miss Oakes still has charge of the millinery department. A general feeling of dissatisfaction exists here among teachers and students, from the fact that, when they were studying for the purpose of standing the provincial examination, held the past week in Bridgewater, they were informed by the leading authorities that no new books would be used, and that all questions would be taken from the books in use; but when they began to write their papers they found that some of the papers were composed wholly of questions taken from books that they had never seen, and claim that this mode of business is not fair.

Miss Agnes Mear, of Amherst, has been the guest of her cousin, Miss Maggie Geiser during the past week.

Miss Lavinia Troop, of Dartmouth, has been visiting her many relatives and friends here during the past week.

Mr. F. Mearns of Bridgewater, son of J. O. H. Parker, Esq., spent last Friday with his uncle here, Mr. A. D. Parker.

A large number of our residents went to Bridgewater last week-end to witness the races. They all spoke in the highest terms of the new driving park.

Miss Louise Wade, one of our most popular young school teachers, returned from the Normal School last Saturday. She succeeded in capturing a first-class diploma.

The Rev. Mr. Higgins will take the Mianit Troop of Helton, Vermont county, made a short visit among their relatives and friends here last week.

Mr. Howard Troop and wife, Mrs. Minnie Troop and son Frank, our genial young mail carrier, made a flying visit to William last week.

William Bishop, who has been the guest of Mrs. William Bishop.

The many friends of Mrs. Margaret Parker will be pained to hear that her daughter, Mrs. S. Bancroft, at Round Hill, she slipped and fell, fracturing her collarbone, but last accounts stated she was doing well.

Application for board is coming from Philadelphia, Yarmouth, Halifax and Boston.

Posts have been handed to us in infidelity the grounds leased by the S. S. company.

Mrs. J. S. Deane, of Chester, Hants, sister of our esteemed friend Mrs. W. Gates, is clerking at the store of Messrs. Calhoun & Gros.

Mrs. G. D. Campbell and children, Master Dupel and Miss Catherine, who have been staying at the S. S. House, returned home last week.

The volunteer drill closed on Saturday. Some of our young men have defied the red coat and are marching to the music of the moving machine.

J. H. Hall, Kingston, has purchased from A. F. Dodge, part of the old homestead of the late Swedish Dodge. He will take possession immediately.

Farmers are having a hard time to find all kinds of insecticide. The parties are extensively used.

Hymenae.

One of the most fashionable weddings which has taken place in this town for some time past was solemnized at the Baptist church at 11 o'clock this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dodge of Beltsville were guests of Mr. Bent on Sunday.

Jubilee Brigade of the S. A. hold a concert here to-morrow (Thursday) evening.

A Word to Summer Tourists.

The immense growth of tourist travel from the United States during the last few years has shown men in this country, who make their livelihood by catering to the demands of the stream of travel, that in many of our towns there has not been the hotel facilities necessary for the comfort and accommodation of visitors who desire to stop off for a day or two in the larger towns along the Valley.

This fact, although not generally recognized, has never been considered of such importance as to assume any definite action in the way of improvement till within a year or two, during which time large and commodious hotels have been constructed at Yarmouth, Kentville and elsewhere, while all along the coast the more comfortable and hospitable hotels have been erected to old established hotels, so no fear but that they can find splendid accommodations in any part of the country.

But the fact that they can find splendid accommodations in any part of the country is not the only thing that has been accomplished in the way of improvement. It is to be regretted that the hotels in Yarmouth, Kentville and elsewhere, while all along the coast the more comfortable and hospitable hotels have been erected to old established hotels, so no fear but that they can find splendid accommodations in any part of the country.
