ARMISTICE DAY COMMEMORATED
Local Ex-service Men Parade to Baptist Church and Hear Eloquent Address.

On Sunday evening last the local returned men assembled at the Board of Trade rooms and paraded to the Baptist Church where they were addressed most appropriately and effectively by the Pastor, Rev. A. J. Prosser. The pulpit platform was adorned by handsome sprays of flowers and a poppy wreath was added by the local G.W.V.A.
Mr. Prosser in the course of his address referred to the matter of a public forgetfulness of the significance of the sacrifices made by the men who responded to the call of King and Country in the days of war and went forth to battle, many of them never coming back. The press of other things and the succession of other events obscured the memories of war days. "This was not right but nevertheless human."
The aftermath of war which formed the subject of his address, was taken up and reference made to the slogan of the post, "Safety for Democracy." "A war to end war". Things had not worked out that way and while the soldiers did their duties nobly and well the politicians were still falling out and the world was in an uncertain condition. The remedy for this was applied Christianity. Education alone without the Christian spirit along with it was a menace to the world.
A number of the returned men made up the choir and a male quartette composed of Messrs. A. C. Charlton, E. C. Hall, Dr. C. B. Sims and Kempton Hyson, rendered appropriate selections including "After" and "The Land We Love". The only drawback to the occasion was the small number of ex-service men who were able or saw fit to attend. A community like Bridgetown and surrounding country should have made a much better turn out.
