and of paragraph (a) and by repealing paragraph (b).

1959, c. 7, s. 24(1)(f) (3) The definition "utility" in subsection 109(1) of the Act is replaced by the following:

"utility" means a navigable water, a highway, an irrigation ditch, a publicly owned or operated drainage system, sewer or ditch, an underground telegraph or telephone line or a line for the transmission of hydrocarbons, electricity or any other substance;

"utility"
« installation de service public »

Construction of pipelines

Installation des pipelines

215. (1) Where, immediately before the coming into force of section 183, there is in force in respect of a pipe line a pipeline permit, within the meaning of Part VI of the National Transportation Act, 1987, as that Act read at that time, subject to the National Energy Board Act, the permit continues in force in respect of the pipeline and is deemed to be a lease to open the pipeline granted under section 47 of the National Energy Board Act and a certificate issued under section 52 of that Act.

Idem

(2) Where, immediately before the coming into force of section 183, there is in force in respect of a minor pipeline a permit, within the meaning of Part VI of the National Transportation Act, 1987, as that Act read at that time, subject to the National Energy Board Act, the permit continues in force and is deemed to be an order under subsection 58(1) of the National Energy Board Act exempting the pipeline from the provisions of sections 29 to 33 and 47 of that Act.

Idem

Idem

Idem