We could therefore say under the law that a mother is killing her child so that he will not have to struggle for life. This is punishable just like murder. To my mind, a mother is not free or so-called free to decide whether the child must live or die once he is born. Now we would give this so-called freedom to the mother in respect of her unborn child?

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Richard): Order, please. The private members' hour has now expired.

[English]

It being five o'clock p.m., this House stands adjourned until Monday next at two o'clock p.m. I will not make any more predictions about the weather. I hope it will be pleasant and that hon. members will be able to enjoy a day outdoors.

At five o'clock the House adjourned, without question put, pursuant to Standing Order.
