"Exports by Commodities". With the exception of items classified under commodity class 930-99 (military weapons ordnance and parts), military equipment exports are not separately identified as such in this publication but are included in their appropriate commodity class. No department other than Industry, Trade and Commerce compiles statistics on all military equipment export sales as separate from all other export sales. Military equipment export sales figures as compiled by the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce contain information provided by Canadian companies on a voluntary and confidential basis and, therefore, details cannot be made available since such disclosure could be considered a breach of confidentiality and could compromise a company's competitive position.

2. (a) Since 1963 Canada has sold military equipment to the countries as tabulated below:
