

(a) If they have not been initialed by the deputy returning officer.

(b) If they are not similar to those furnished by the deputy returning officer.

(c) If they are marked otherwise than by a cross.

(d) If, besides the cross, there is any writing or any mark which could serve to identify the elector e, g, a second cross, a straight line, etc. But it would be well to make no definite objection before the counting of the ballots is finished, in order to see if the objection will turn for or against us.

32th Insist that the deputy returning officer note the objections and mark, on the back of the ballot that they have been made, and the number of the order of this objection, etc. Sec. 185.

33th As soon as the counting of the ballot is finished make the deputy returning officer give a certificate of the number votes given for each candidate, and of the number spoiled for each of them, and take good care of said certificate.

34th As soon as the counting is finished go to the central committee or wherever the representatives of the candidate have agreed upon.
