Asiatic volcanoes are galming a re-putation for spuriousness. A lately reported eruption in a mountain near fraintsk, in Siberia, has been investi-gated, and has proven to be nothing more serious than a fire-probably some beds of curbonneous shale. Like cases are not uncommon. Lists of volcanoes in the Thian Shan chain have been compiled by some authori-ties, but recent Russian traveliers, when the state of the volcanoes exist.

Balloon photography as a means of military map-making is being developed by Rev. J. M. Baker, the English aeronaut. He uses a small balloon, and, to avoid the trouble and ieffated by hot air from a petroleum heater. A small automatic camera is carried. In a recent trial the ascent was made in two vinitive after between the second trial that the system will revolutionize army observations.
