THREE HUNDRE MAY BE DEATH TOLL IN A FIRE WIPING OUT 7 TOWNS

73 Bodies Already Found—Towns on Fire and Still More Threatened With Destruction

RAINY RIVER, ONT., IS BADLY SCORCHED

WARROAD, Minn., Oct. 9.—Beaudette, Spooner, Pitt and Graceton, Minnesota, were wiped off the map of Minnesota by the most terrible forest fire ever witnessed by Minnesota settlers.

It is reported that many settlers, crazed with grief at the loss of their families and property, are roaming the woods, and searching parties are constantly going out after the injured, the dead and the demented.

Whole Country on Fire.

The whole country east of here is on fire. Roosevelt, Swift, Williams and Cedar Spur are in great danger.

The people of Beaudette and Spooner, and the settlers thru the northern part of the state, have lost everything they own.

International Bridge in Flames.

This morning this town was on fire from the International Bridge to Sixth-street, a distance of a mile.

Included in the burned area are the Rat Portage Lumber Company's mills, and lumber yards containing ten million feet of lumber.

Fire is raging in the woods as far as can be seen along the banks of Rainy River.

Train Went Thru Bridge.

Canadian Northern Railway trains have been stalled here since Friday night, when a freight train went thru a bridge near Pitt.

Fever Patients Carried Away.

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn., Oct. 9.—More than 250 dead, millions upon millions of dollars' worth of property destroyed, 3000 refugees fleeing from the flames, is an epitome of the happenings of the day's hell season in the Beltrami County fires.

Half the Houses Burned.

Perhaps half the houses were burned in Rainy River.

Two Thousand Homeless.

There was probably thirty-six million feet of lumber in the yards burned up in Beaudette.

Winnipeg Sends Firemen.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—As the result of an appeal from Mayor Moody of War Road, Minn., Winnipeg this evening despatched Assistant Chief Code, and up in the stream, with two steam fire engines and other equipment.

Men dropped in the streets from inhaling the heated air, and were blown off their feet by the high wind, which even unroofed buildings and tore up trees by the roots.

The tales of horrible suffering being brought by the refugees beggar description.

MADEIRA RETURNS YACHT TO HIS COUNTRY

The Royal Fugitives Are Now the Guests of the Governor of Gibraltar — Thousands Congregate Outside Church Where They Attended Mass.

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 9.—The fugitive royal family of Portugal left the yacht Ample-to-day, and are now the guests of the governor at Government House.

The people of Gibraltar gave the exiles a warm welcome. When they attended mass at St. Mary's Church this morning, the edifice was crowded, and thousands had congregated outside.

On their departure from the church the members of the party were cheered again.

At the entrance of the church Monsignor Chinotas received them and conducted them to seats near the high altar, not far from the beautiful stained windows, which were recently placed as memorials to the murdered King Carlos and the crown prince.

The buggy was smashed, but the horse was uninjured. The optician hired from a liverman at Islington.

Laurier Generous In Reciprocity?

Forecast for the U.S. Readers of What the Premier is to Say To-night at the Montreal Demonstration

The following Associated Press despatch, with Montreal date line, was featured in many U.S. papers yesterday:

Extraordinary interest is felt throughout the Dominion in the speech to be delivered by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Canadian Premier, in Montreal Monday night.

The premier, during the past summer, made a tour of the western provinces for the first time in ten years.

Everywhere he was beset by delegations from grain growers and other organizations with petitions for better trade relations with the United States and for an increase in the Canadian transportation facilities.

In his speech Monday night the premier will give the answer to these petitions. He will practically re-cast the policies of his government.

It is said on excellent authority that the premier will declare unequivocally for a generous measure of reciprocity with the United States and that he will detail the steps already taken and about to be taken to bring about that end.

Eastern Canada, including the large manufacturing centres, is admittedly against reciprocity and in favor of an enlargement of preferential trade relations with Great Britain.

Added interest is lent to the meeting, in that it is intended to make it a demonstration of personal loyalty on the part of Sir Wilfrid's French-Canadian patriots.

The premier's position as the leader of his race in Canada has recently been challenged thru the French-Canadian press, part of which is attempting to place Henri Bourassa, ex-M.P., leader of the Nationalists, in that position.

The buggy was smashed, but the horse was uninjured. The optician hired from a liverman at Islington.

RUN OVER BY STREET CAR SMALL BOY LOSES LIFE

Albert Charles Blake, Aged 9, is Terribly Injured in West King St. While Trying to Board Car.

While running across West King-street, opposite the Mercer Reformatory, Albert Charles Blake, of 913 West Queen-street, nine years of age, and son of Chas. J. Blake, was struck by an eastbound King car at 5:20 Sunday night, and had his left leg almost severed below the knee and his left arm fractured in several places.

The car was in charge of Motorman Geo. Williams of 18 Carroll-street, and Conductor Chas. Donnelly of 297 St. George-street, but nobody on the car saw how the accident occurred, and it is supposed that he really made an attempt to board the car and was run over by the trailer.

Geo. Dixon and his wife of 5 Manning-avenue were on the sidewalk and saw the boy helpless on the road. The screams of the boy were heard by the attendants of the Mercer, one of whom telephoned to Cowan-avenue police station and Dr. Harrison of 127 West King-street was summoned. The boy was removed in the police ambulance to the Hospital for Sick Children.

He died at 1:30 this morning. The scene of the accident is only a short distance from where, on Saturday, an 11-year-old boy was killed by a car on Dufferin-street.

CONFERENCE IS REGARDED AS FAILURE

And Balfour Will Fall Back on the Constitutional Aspect of the Lords' Issue — Mr. Balfour's Opening "Gun" and Its Reported Effects.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The London correspondent of The Tribune cables: While the Unionists have not received much inspiration from Mr. Balfour, they expect a decisive lead when the failure of the conference, now generally expected, is formally announced.

The ministers will be attacked for plotting against the constitutional order, undermining the double chamber system, and destroying the safeguards against democratic license and establishing the dictatorship of Mr. Redmond in Ireland.

Discontented Tories who have been clamoring for more aggressive tactics are promised a strenuous fighting canvass when the seals of secrecy are broken and the facts about the conference are known, with the demands and concessions made by each group.

While Mr. Balfour is in a position to denounce the ministers as revolutionists who are subverting the established order and substituting one chamber for two bodies of co-ordinate power, he may succeed in satisfying the malcontents who regard Edward A. Gouding as a practical politician and Fabian Ware and L. J. Moxe as oracles.

Constitutional Question.

On the other hand, he will raise the constitutional question, in which the general electorate was not supposed to take an active interest nine months ago. If the country was apathetic then, when the ministers were condemned the lords as revolutionists in holding up the budget, it may be equally indifferent and sluggish when they are denounced in turn as enemies of political order.

There evidently will be a fine display of tactical skill on each side when the failure of the conference is disclosed. Messrs. Asquith and Balfour, who are well matched tacticians, will seek to outmanoeuvre each other and evade the responsibility for the failure to effect a statesmanlike settlement.

The legal changes involved by the retirement of Lord Coleridge, the promotion of William Robson as the new law lord, will involve two elections for safe Liberal seats, Rufus Isaac's successor is J. A. Simon, a brilliant Liberal barrister, who will be the youngest solicitor-general of recent times.

Didn't Make a Hit.

The Times' London correspondent cables: Ex-Premier Balfour fired the first gun in the political campaign on Wednesday in Edinburgh. There are many among his supporters who are disatisfied with his shooting.

Insurgency is not confined to the United States, and about 100 members of the British Tory party show symptoms of a desire to cast off from the leadership of the opposition. The insurgent hundred are clamoring for a fighting program. They wanted Mr. Balfour to pour red-hot shot into the Liberal ranks in the shape of an undertaking to repeal the land taxes when the Conservatives came into power, and an explicit declaration in favor of tariff reform.

Mr. Balfour failed to satisfy them in either particular. Even his retirement of the question into the payment of members of parliament is considered disappointing by those of his followers who wanted a lead. The Unionists are hopelessly split over this matter.

The insouciance of Unionist opinion, however, is still opposed to the payment of members. Mr. Balfour offered only a mild opposition to the proposal for payment. His chief objection is "the danger of corruption in parliamentary character."

A Tory paper responds to this argument by saying that the house of commons in the most heroic age of its history was a salaried institution, and that the moral fibre of Pym and Hampden does not appear to have been corrupted by the circumstance that they were entitled to their wages.

But perhaps the most pertinent comment on Mr. Balfour's reluctance to follow the counsel proffered by the fighting section of his followers is that it arises from his unwillingness to plunge deeper into the morass at bidding of the tariff reform newspapers.

Session Will Be Lively.

The Sun's London cable says: Mr. Balfour's speech, which was suspended in May by the king's death, was a watershed in public attention this week by the Portuguese revolution. It must be confessed that the Unionist leader's words were a great disappointment to the aggressive section of his party. They looked for a hot fighting speech carrying war into the enemy's camp. Instead, Balfour considered that the ethics of situation, while the compromise committee was still considering the house of lords question, demanded silence on that subject at least.

The feeling of exasperation among the Unionists at the invariable moderation of their leader's attitude at all times since the present crisis arose has been growing for months. They describe his policy in less polite terms than moderate. There is not yet any open revolt against his leadership, but a considerable number of prominent Unionist organs are outspoken in their criticism this week. The coming session of parliament will witness a very hot political struggle than any of the present generation.
