For.       Agst.         No.       1A	When Seen by The World Last Night at 8 o'Clock. F. S. Spence was seen by The World last night at 8 o'clock. He was found in his private room surrounded by half a dozen women and as many men. He looked some- what wilted, but his voice did not betray it, as he grasped his hat and prepared to go out to get the latest news. "Friends," said F. S., "I will say a few words before I go out. I will be back shortly and will have something more to say. But we have put the question of pro- hibition into the political issues of the day. We will get a majority in its favor, and we will be able hereafter to flaunt this fact in the face of the Government." Some one suggested, "Three cheers for fr. Spence," but the cheers were never raised, they died as a suggestion. Down the winding stairs of the Con- federation Building went Mr. Spence. Helf way down, he met Dr. Fisher, who was not so joyons as Mr. Spence. The loctor spence winced. "The cities hare all gone gainst us," continued the doctor in a doie tw tone. "What do you think of Toronto's vote?" neked the Wrid. Some one suggested, "Three cheers for Mr. Spence," but the cheers were never raised, they died as a suggestion. Down the winding states of the Con- federation Building went Mr. Spence. Half way down, he met Dr. Fisher, who was not so joyous as Mr. Spence. The Doctor said: "Quebec gives 12,000 against." Mr. Spence winced. "The cities have all gone gainst us," continued the doctor in a dole. "Wat do yon think of Foronto's vote?" asked The World. "Other World." "Other world." No longer will the clique intimi- date the people's municipal and legislative representatives. They have kicked them- selves out of the City Hall, out of the Legislature, out of the House of Com- mons. Influence they no longer have. All that remains is to give them a decent fun- eral. Every corpse deserves that much. The Globe well merits the contempt of the people of Canada. Once it was the champion of the people's liberty. Once it had principles of its own, and was a real leader of public opinion. To-day it is the donkey engine of political tricksters, of franchise-grabbers and of humbugs. Only a few months ago it was caught red- handed as the head and front of a con- spiracy to rob the people of the valuable coal fields of the Crow's Nest district and invest them in certain gentlemen who direct the policy of its editorial columns. When the Sunday car agitation was on The Globe took the side of the restrictionists. Atthough eternally prating about Liberalism and liberty, we doubt if the men who now run the organ really know the meaning of these terms. Fancy a Liberal newspaper,	district, to the development of a low area over the north shore of Leke Superior.
