Mining Stocks. Toronto, Aug. 3.—Following are to-day's closing quotations on the Toronto Mining and Industrial change:

sight of in the continued reports of do-mestic crop damage, which were so serious as to cause the market to rally as high as 150,000 acres, with probably

$1,300,000 worth of growing grain destroyed. Later cables showed some rally in foreign markets, and this also encouraged buying. Northwestern receipts were moderate, Minneapolis and Duluth reporting arrivals of 229 cars, against 392 last week, and 77 a year ago. Chicago receipts were 94 cars, 10 of contract grade. The total of primary receipts, however, was large—653, 000 bu, compared with 375,000 bu a year ago. Export clearances from Atlantic ago. Export clearances from Atlantic ports were large, 705,000 bu. Previous to this announcement the market reacted to 70c, which point was reached shortly after the opening, to 69% to 69%, but the liberal clearances caused a moderate covering movement, which again set the price up to about 69%c.

There were many minor rallies and reactions, but during the afternoon the market gradually tended downward. The seaboard reported Mttle foreign demand, but this, coupled with the continued large primary receipts, apparently had a good deal of influence on longs, for considerable wheat was put 69%c. Near the close Minneapolis wired that new spring wheat was offered to arrive there in two weeks.

This had a bearish effect.

The Yaquis' Insurrection Assuming Serious Proportions.

Three Sloops Attacked and Burned-Mexican Troops in a Trap.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—A special to the Tribune from the City of Mexico says: Dispatches from Guyamas show that the Yaquis insurrection is constantly growing in extent, and all the Indians in the towns along the rivers are rising in arms and taking to the woods and mountain to join their com-panions already arrayed against the authorities.

Jack Ramsay, the famous frontier character, and the American photo-grapher, Ed. Miller, were on their way to Alamosa when they were attacked by the Indians and killed.

THREE SLOOPS BURNED. Three sloops' on the Yaquis River, near Medaro, were also attacked, and Aurille F. Paredes, who had charge of them, was killed. The vessels were set on fire, but were saved by Federal forces, who drove the savages away. The body of Parades was found floating in the river. One of the sloops, the Alondre, was again attacked as it was leaving the mouth of the river on its way back to Guyamas, but the Indians were scattered. It is reported that the Romero family was captured as they were about to embark on one of the sloops, and that Paredes was killed in trying to rescue them. Troops are pursuing the bands supposed to have the family. The telegraph line, south from Alamosa has been cut. The Indians along the Mayo River are quiet, and do not seem inclined to join the insurrection. Col. Augel Garcia Pena telegraphed yesterday that Don Carlos Hale, the noted merchant, had not been killed as reported. Official advices up to Monday, however, state clearly that after Gen. Torre's forces took Bacum they found ten dead of the troops from Cocorit and four of the body guard of the Yaquis chief.

TROOPS ENTRAPPED. Austin, Texas, Aug. 4.-There passed through Austin on an east-bound express train for Indianapolis, a gold hunter named Arnold, who said that he was but recently from the scene of the Indian uprising in Mexico. reports that just before leaving that section it was reported that the Yaqui Indians had entrapped a force of several hundred of the Mexican soldiers in a defile in the mountains, and inaugurated an old-time warfare by throwing down rocks upon them, with the result that many of them were killed. He says that the war is being conducted on the guerilla plan, and that the Indians have sufficient force to maintain the war for months to come, as they are perfectly at home in mountain fastnesses, and the Mexican soldiers are no match for them. The reports coming to the mining camps to date are that the Mexicans have lost a number of soldiers, while the Indians have lost comparatively few of their members.

MINERS DRIVEN OUT BY INDIANS. Austin, Texas, Aug. 4.—A dispatch received here from Casa Grandes, state of Chihuahua, Mexico, states that four American miners have arrived there direct from the Upper Yaqui river country. They were driven out by marauding bands of Yaqui Indians. They state that there is probably 2,000 American miners and prospectors scattered through the Yaqui country, and that their lives are in imminent danger, as the Indians are getting bolder and more desperate each day. Harwell, one of the men, says that the news of the bloody outbreak among the Yaquis in the lower valley had not reached the upper part of the valley when he left, and that as soon as the news reached the Yaqui, men in the placer mining country, they would massacre every white man along the river. He estimates that there are 5,000 Yaqui braves and that it will take a force of 40,000 Mexican men to conquor them, if they are enabled to reach their former stronghold in the Sahuaripa range of mountains. During the two years the Indians have been at peace they have been quietly investing their earnings in arms and ammunition and they are now better equipped than ever for a long and bloody campaign.

THE BRITISH NAVY

An Interesting Experiment Now Being Tried.

Protecting Foodships From Canada-Details of the Maneuvers.

[Toronto Globe.]

peculiar interest, for one of the duties which devolves upon one of the fleets is to safeguard a convoy, supposedly of foodships, on its way from Halifax to Great Britain. The absolute de-pendence of the British Isles for their bread from oversea wheatfields in no small degree influences naval strategy, and at the present moment the problem is being worked upon the high in war be shepherded across the Atlantic and into British ports in reasonable safety, despite the flercest raiding of an alert commerce-destroying foe.

Apart from all details, the spectacle presented by the mobilization of the British fleet has been most impressive. The Channel Squadron, eight of the finest battleships in the world, with a proving a form of median continues. proportion of modern cruisers, in all rather over a dozen ships, has for the purposes of this war-game been reinforced by something over a hundred ships. Twenty-eight of these are tor-pedo-boat destroyers whose sea-hawks which fight at the speed of an express train, 24 are torpedo boats, half a dozen are gunboats, but some 60 ships are cruisers and battleships, the smallest of them imposing vessels. On the evening of Monday. July 10, these vessels lay at their berths in the dockyards, reserve ships, with perhaps the eighth part of their complements of men on By noon on Tuesday, July 11, fifteen thousand men had been embarked upon them and they were all ready for a real war. And many more vessels still lay in reserve, two or three thousand seamen were ready to man them if need be, and the Royal Navy Reserve and the Coast Guard had barely been drawn upon. From the berths of the fleet reserve there had sailed out into the English Channel ten great battleships, five mighty cruisers, nearly thirty-two second-class cruisers. The battleships are older, slower, less well protected, of less deadly armament than the newer ships of the first line; but they are confessedly the second line, and what other power could in one summer morning send forth to sea so noble a reserve? The situation given to the opposing admirals is that Great Britain and hostile power, i.e., France, are at war, Ireland represents France, the west coast of Scotland, England and Wales is to represent the east and southeast coast of England. The Channel Squadron, with its fast battleships, rein-forced by cruisers until its strength in that arm reaches close upon a score, and supported by torpedo boats, is to simulate the French fleet and will have the Irish ports for its bases. The Reserve Squadron, more numerous, and therefore, by the rules of the game, the stronger, but also the slower, with a score of cruisers and nearly a score and a half of torpedo-boat destroyers, represents the British fleet. From Halifax a fleet of merchant vessels, represented by a couple of old and slow cruisers, one of them the Calliope which steamed out of Apia Bay so gallantly, is making for England. The swift "French" fleet is to search for it; the slower but stronger "British" fleet is to meet it at a specified rendezvous and try to escort it to Milford Haven. The most important point upon which the admiralty desire to gain information is as to scouting. The cloud of cruisers given the two sides is intended to be used to gain information; the convoy will be earnestly hunted by the "French" cruisers, the Channel Squadron battleships will be hunted with equal zeal by the "British" scouts. Newspaper readers will recollect the utter lack of information as to the movements of the Spaniards which so embarrassed the American fleet in the summer of 1898. No systematic attempt at scouting was then made. The art of employing cruisers as lookout ships is imperfectly understood, and the maneuvers are design ed to cast some light upon this problem. Dashing torpedo attacks may also be expected, for the narrow St. George's Channel will swarm with these craft and the rules favor their exercise. Wireless telegraphy is to be tried, and Marconi himself is on board a cruiser to experiment with the new discovery.

We in Canada may well hope for the success of the "British" fleet, for if it be satisfactorily worked out that in war-time grain and cattle ships from our ports can be reasonably protected from commerce-destroying attack, no-table advantages may accrue to us from the revelation which it will afford of a new source of strategica strength to the empire.

Twice on the Yangtse I used a rich and fragrant tea from the Keemung hills that had performed that journey to Odessa and return, because some mandarin knew what he wanted and was willing to pay for it.

The tea-taster is king at Hankow for the six weeks of his exclusive reign, and whatever he may do during the remainder of the year, he is a most rigid total abstainer during the high season, when every faculty of his keenest senses is on the alert. Although he never swallows a sample sip. the tea-taster's nerves and digestion are impaired at the end of ten or twelve years, even the stimulating effect of the strong, volatile aroma in the tea-hongs sometimes giving retired tea-tasters attacks of that tea-tremens which the Chinese and Japanese recognize as a disease; while temperance reformers, usually green-tea drinkers, seem ignorant of the fact that other stimulants than alcohol may be abused. The professional tea-taster at Hankow is said to drink only soda or min-eral waters during the scorching weeks of his exacting season, and when word goes round the settlement that such a one of the great experts was seen to take sherry and bitters at the club, it is a signal that the great tea season is declining, that little choice tea is being brought in. Then the tension relaxes, and a certain section of Hankow gives itself over to a jubilation and indulgence that are the scandal and byword of the other ports. Although the tea firms are all Russians or Siberians now, the tea-tasters are Englishmen, and, for reasons not flattering to Russian character, it is said that the tear tasters will always be English.

Ben Rafferty, of Winnipeg Division, Says Dodd's Kidney Pills Are O. K.

Winnipeg, Man., July 31 .- Probably the most enthusiastic man in Manitoba in regard to Dodd's Kidney Pills is Ben Rafferty, of the C. P. R. He is one of the drivers on the big trans-continental road, and the jarring of the engine and long hours combined to bring on Kidney Disease from which Mr. Rafferty suffered for twenty years. He was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. His case is so well known throughout Canada that a Toronto gentleman wrote to Mr. Rafferty recently asking him if he could recom-mend Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Rafferty wrote in reply:
"Winnipeg, May 30, 1899.

"Dear Sir,-I received your note of yesterday. I will recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills at any time to any person with pleasure. They are O. K. "Yours truly, B. RAFFERTY."

LAURIER COMING WEST.

Ottawa, Aug. 4.-Sir Wilfrid Laurier has consented to address a few public meetings in the Province of Ontario in the fall of this year. It will be im-possible for him to go to all the points from which heh has received requests, but the time at his disposal will be used to the very best possible advantage. The programme of the meetings will be arranged by Mr. Alex. Smith, Toronto, and besides the first minister. other members of the administration will speak at the demonstrations.

LIFE SAVED-Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.
