EASTERN LEAGUE RECORDS.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 6.—The Eastern League Association circuit committee met at the Kemmors Hotel here yesterday to discuss applications for franchises. Albany's application was favorably considered, but no action was taken. The meeting adjourned till next Tuesday.

The Eastern Baseball League has just compiled the official records of the players for 1938. Records are not taken of players who took part in less than fifteen games. In batting, Cassidy, of the Providence team, has the lead, with a percentage of .355. He played, however, in only 67 games. Weight is second, and Smink third. Freeman, of Toronto, led among the players who took part in 122 games, with a percentage of .347. Of the veteran league players, Broutures, Householder, Pickett, Hemming and Earl finished well up. Of the catchers, Ewell, of Springfield, is credited with doing the best work, having a percentage of .965. Gunson, of Rochester, is only one point behind, while Jackitz, Diggins and Duncan are tied for third place. Goeckel, of Wilkes-Barre, leads the first basemen with .965; Doolley is second and Beaumont third. Stouch, of Providence, leads the second basemen with .970; Eagan is second and Atherton third. Coughlin, of Wilkes-Barre, leads the third basemen, with .951; Casey is second and Smith third. Among the shortstops, Hanavin, who played in both Syracuse and Toronto, leads with .916; Cooney is second and Gleason third. Among the outfielders, Knight, of Ottawa, and Wilkes-Barre, leads with .916; Cooney is second and Gleason third. Among the pitchers, Brown, of Buffalo, played in the largest number of games, 40; Williams, of Toronto has the best percentage, .976; Baker and Abbey come next.

IN THE PRIZE ARENA.

JUDGE DIXON ON PRIZE FIGHTS.
Paterson, N. J., Jan. 6.—Judge Dixon, in charging the grand jury, referred to the McFadden prize fight of a month ago. He said:

"There is one other offense which has been brought to the attention of the court, and which deserves mention. It is said that in one of the clubs or halls in the city of Paterson some time last fall there was a prize fight in which one of the combatants was quite severely injured. There has come to be a sort of notion abroad that you have only to dub a prize fight a boxing match and you rid it of all criminality. If the purpose is to inflict injury or bring about the disability of each other, it is a fight; and the mere fact that the combatants enter upon it willingly makes no difference. The men in an innocent boxing match do not intend to injure or bring about the disability of each other. And everybody who was in any way interested in promoting that prize fight was likewise guilty, and they should be all indicted. It makes no difference whether it was carried on in a respectable place and before respectable people, or whether it was carried on by rowdies before rowdies."

BOXING IN BUFFALO

Buffalo, Jan. 6.—Boxing was revived

in this city last night after an interval of several months, the last attempt at a contest being the memorable Ernie Lavigne fiasco. At the Olympic Club last night, before a small crowd, three bouts were pulled off. The principal event was a 20-round go-between Thomas Kennedy and Jack Falvey, lightweights, both of this city. It ended in a draw. There was no interference on the part of the police.

NOTES OF SPORTS.

Sharkey refuses to have George Siler for referee.

Toronto papers credit Director Soole with being in Detroit talking baseball, but he has not been seen by the Detroit magnate.

Curlers are wondering what will be in store for them on Jan. 23 and 24, when the bonspiel is held at Windsor and Detroit. Last year the visitors found nothing but slush in Detroit.

Puglist-Actor Jack Burke got knocked out in a new way the other night on Broadway. He was looking for trouble, and kicked by a row with a saloon-keeper, who picked up a sword and hit Burke across the head with it. To make matters more binding, the policeman arrested Burke for starting the trouble.

POLITICAL.

West Elgin Nomination—Charge of Impersonation Laid.

At Dutton on Thursday Mr. Donald Macnisch was nominated to contest the riding at the Reform standard bearer, and Mr. G. Macdonald as the Conservative candidate.

A report is in circulation at Ottawa that Mr. Hutchinson, M.P., is to be appointed postmaster of Ottawa in place of Mr. Gouin.

Mr. John Taylor (white), a Macnisch voter, who was entitled to vote in St. Thomas at the last election, but did not because John Taylor (colored), a Macdonald supporter, who had no vote, and who voted under the name of the real and the white John Taylor, has laid an information against the colored John Taylor, charging him with impersonation.

BANNER.

Thomas Loughlin is collecting material for the transformation of his outbuildings into bank barns.

Robert Gordon will build a comfortable residence, in view of an anticipated domestic occurrence.

Too Weak To Work.

Two years ago Mrs. A. Walton, Sunny Brae, N.S., was so weak she couldn't do her housework. B. B. B. restored her health and strength, and she's been perfectly well since.

The record of permanent cures B. B. B. is rolling up is one of the marvels of modern medicine. Case after case is being presented where Burdock Blood Bitters cured, and cured permanently, some of the severest and most malignant diseases, after everything else failed. There is nothing like it for driving all poisons and impurities, which are the cause of disease, from the system, and building up the health on the foundation of pure, rich blood.

Mrs. A. Walton, of Sunny Brae, Pictou Co., N.S., is one of those who have been permanently cured by B.B.B. Recently she wrote the following account of her case:

"Two years ago I was completely run down. I remember on one occasion, when I arrived home from the gold mines at Fifteen Mile Creek, I was so weak I could scarcely sweep a room. At any rate in doing my housework I would have to sit down and rest every few minutes. I had no appetite and began to be alarmed at my condition. I was not only weak but very short of breath. Finally I tried Burdock Blood Bitters. I took two bottles, and soon my appetite improved, and I became strong and well. It is now two years since I took the B.B.B., and I have remained in good health since. I think that all who feel weak and worn out will try B.B.B., as I am convinced it will not fail to effect a cure."

HOT TIMES

Ottawa Has a $40,000 Blaze in a Dairy Establishment.

Destructive Fires at Cobourg, St. Hyacinthe and Other Points.

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—The barns, stables, sheds, carriage sheds, together with carriages, machinery, total crop of grain, hay, etc., belonging to J. G. Clarke, dairyman, on the Richmond road, near Britannia, were completely destroyed by fire on Wednesday. Loss estimated at about $40,000; partly covered by insurance. Mr. Clarke has been singularly unfortunate lately, as last summer, when the tuberculous disease was so prevalent, he lost several thousand dollars in cattle, which had to be destroyed because affected.

St. Hyacinthe, Que., Jan. 6.—Fire yesterday completely destroyed the building of the gas and electric light works. Loss, about $10,000.

Thornhill, Man., Jan. 6.—Yesterday afternoon, while Mr. and Mrs. Bond were attending a wedding their house caught fire and was burned to the ground, together with the contents.

Port Robinson, Ont., Jan. 6.—Mrs. M. A. Bennett's large frame hotel, the Bennett House, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is very heavy, as there was no insurance.

Bellevalle, Ont., Jan. 6.—Calvin Hoards' barn in Rawdon was burned, with all its contents. Insured for $340.

Cobourg, Ont., Jan. 6.—The Victoria brewery, owned by Dickel & Co., was yesterday destroyed by fire on Wednesday night. Loss on contents, about $8,000; insured for $2,000; loss on buildings, about $12,000; insured for $5,000. The cause was evidently incendiary. An attempt was made to burn the brewery a few months ago.

Catonsville, Md., Jan. 6.—Grace Fuller, aged 10, John Wesley, aged 3, and the latter's infant brother were burned to death at Catonsville, during the absence of their parents.

ELOPED WITH THE HIRED MAN

A Wealthy Farmer's Daughter Creates Commotion Among Her Acquaintances.

Toronto, Jan. 6.—There is much excitement in the adjoining townships of East Gwillimbury and Scott, in the counties of York and Ontario, and the reason is that before the robin or the spring, Patrick Johnston's fancy lightly turned to thoughts of leaving the place, or rather a hired man, aged 21, and not unprepossessing, and Mary Rieborough, daughter of a wealthy farmer of Scott, is 16 and fair.

During the summer Patrick worked in the vicinity of Mount Albert, and frequently visited the home of the Rieboroughs, on the first concession of Scott, just east of Mount Albert village. Recently the parental Rieboroughs, all unsuspecting, hired Patrick to work around his place.

Now the worthy farmer is minus his daughter and his hired man, and he is as one distracted. Johnston is a Roman Catholic, and the Rieboroughs are Protestants, and this makes things more interesting to the Mount Albert and Scott township residents.

TRAGEDY OF AN EMPIRE

True Story of the Death of Prince Rudolph of Austria.

Edward A. Steiner contributes to The Woman's Home Companion this interesting fragment of Austrian history which is a prohibited topic in that country:

"The carnival was at its height in gay Vienna. The noisy masqueraders were returning from their revelries and were making the old city ring with shouts and laughter. The sun was struggling through the mists of the January morning, but almost before it had risen high enough to touch the golden cross of St. Stephen's cathedral all Vienna knew that there would be no more dancing during that carnival. The crown prince had been murdered, some declared; falling in a duel, others conjectured; accidentally killed, said the papers.

"Six years prior to this unhappy night Crown Prince Rudolph was forced by the circumstances of his station to marry Stephanie, the daughter of the king of Belgium, whom he did not love, while his heart was given to the Baroness Vetsera, the most beautiful woman in Vienna.

What her character was I do not pretend to know, but the favor of a crown prince is enough to turn the head of almost any Austrian woman, particularly if she has been reared in Vienna, under the demoralizing influence of its court. His disappointment drove him to dissipation, the crown princess wept and scolded, the city was scandalized, and the emperor had to seek a way out of the difficulty. Count Hoyos, an officer in the Austrian army, the owner of the numerous admirers of the young baroness, was promised promotion in the army and the assistance of the emperor if he would gain her consent to marry him. This the count succeeded in doing. Then came the end. The count and his fiancée were invited to spend the evening of Jan. 30, 1889, with the crown prince in his hunting lodge at Meyerling. Wine flowed freely, and the hours were full of mirth. But suddenly, without warning, Rudolph drew a revolver, shot the count, then the baroness and at last drove a bullet through his own heart."

TWO NEWSPAPER STORIES.

Young Men Who Were Ready to Dare Anything For Fame.

Over in Vincennes, Ind., there lived a young man who, on reading of the destruction of the battleship Maine, became filled with a desire to invade Cuba with the first batch of war correspondents. His name is J. Willoughby Weep, and he is said to have written to Bob Faine, managing editor of the Cleveland Press, as follows:

"For $10 per week I want to go to Cuba as your correspondent and will live with the Cubans, camp with the Cuban army, and, if necessary, fight by the side of General Gomez."

The recipient of the letter is a wit, and in a caustic reply to Mr. Weep inquired what sum would he demand to go and die with the Cubans. He was amazed a few days later to be handed a letter from Vincennes in which the would be war correspondent made this answer:

"Fifteen dollars per week and expenses."

It goes without saying that Mr. Weep was employed, and, most strange to record, he was one of the best men in the field. He is now numbered with the regular writers for the Cleveland Press and at more than "$15 per week and expenses."

About the same time Managing Editor Faine was surprised to reach his desk one afternoon and find a telegram awaiting his arrival on which $1.80 was due. It was a carefully worded application for a job from a young man who resided in Zanesville, O. Such assurance appalled Faine, and he sat down and dashed off an answer in keeping with a popular song he had heard the night previous:

"Read your answer in the stars," read the dispatch, and it was sent "collect."

But on the following day he tore open a second telegram from Zanesville. Here it is:

"The stars say come." Within 24 hours the applicant was on hand in Cleveland, and the editor gave the young man a position on the paper.

Flower of the Family.

Mr. Watson, the postmaster of Willowby, has four sons who inherit their father's amiable disposition, but are wanting in "faculty," that characteristic of the successful New Englander.

"What are your sons doing, Mr. Watson?" inquired a former resident of Willowby, who had not seen the postmaster before for 12 years.

"Well," was the answer, "Jack, my oldest boy, he's a minister without a pulpit. Fred, the next one, he's a lawyer without a client, and William, the third one, he's a teacher without any school."

"But I've got some hopes of Sam, the youngest of the lot," said the head of the Watson family, with commendable cheerfulness. "He's set out to be a farmer without any land, but he's hired out a place and worked it to halves, and we ate vegetables off it all summer."

"I paid him for supplying our family, and when he'd settled his bill for what he put into the ground to start with, he had within 50 cents of what he owed the boy that had helped him hoe and so on all summer."

"And I handed him over that 50 cents with a real light heart and told him he needn't ever think of it again. Yes, his mother and I feel to be encouraged about Sam; we think in the course of time he'll make a likely farmer."—Youth's Companion.

The Happiest Man in the World.

The more nations I make the acquaintance of the more deeply confirmed I get in this conviction that the Frenchman, with all his faults and shortcomings, is the happiest man in the world. Of course the wealthy classes have everywhere found the way of enjoying life more or less, but to the obscurity of national characteristics these classes are uninteresting. Good society is good society everywhere. For a study give me the masses of the people, and it is among the masses in France that, after all, I find the greatest amount of happiness. The Frenchman is a cheerful philosopher. He knows best of all how to live and enjoy life. Moderate in all his habits, he partakes of all the good things that nature has placed at his disposal without ever making a fool of himself.—Max O'Rell in North American Review.

Bethrothal ceremonies in Russia take place a week and a day before the wedding ceremony, and during these days the bride is obliged by custom to weep and wail and be comforted by her girl friends. This custom is in practice among the Chinese also.
