Oftentimes men who come to us expecting to pay fully $18 or even $20 for the suit they want, are surprised to find that we can give them just the quality they have in mind for $15.

More of these cases are occurring this year than ever before, for our line of $15 suits (as well as our $12, $18 and $20 suits) is unquestionably better value than we have previously secured.

The coats, for instance, are most carefully cut. The collars fit the neck closely behind. The shoulders are broad and smooth, and materials of a superior grade. The styles are absolutely correct.

We invite especial attention to these $15 suits, as the price suits many of our customers best, and we know that the quality will prove permanently satisfactory.

"There is a world wide cry against the dentists that they torture their patients. Those of strong physique submit and endure the agony. With a second class this is simply impossible, and thousands of teeth are neglected and lost even though the patients may be able to pay for our most skillful services. There is a third class who, after months of mental torture in anticipation, finally come into our hands, and, with nerves strung to a hurtful point, pass through the ordeal, but at what a cost! We do not sufficiently consider the consequences of shock in the dental chair, yet undoubtedly many suffer for months and even years from injuries to the nervous system received whilst in our hands."

The greatest duty of our profession today is to discover and adopt a mode of painlessly performing our operations."

POLICE COURT*Several Cases of Drunkenness—Wife Charges Husband—A Junk License Matter

Judge Ritchie made quick disposal of a number of cases before him in the police court this morning. He fined Frederick Forester $4 for being drunk in Brussels street, Ernest Magnuson a like amount for a similar offence, but doubled the amount in the case of Thomas Davis, charged with drunkenness in Brook street and also placed him on the interdiction list.

Sanford Smith, an old man, charged with drunkenness in Brussels street, had a fine of $4 struck against him, but, as he was allowed to stand.

Philip Bushan and Sarah Moran, charged with being drunk in Sheffield street, were remanded. Policeman Rankin, who made the arrest, said that he met the two in Sheffield street together and he thought they were intoxicated. Bushan, who is offered, while the Moran woman is white, has a wife, who told the policeman that he did nothing for her support but spend his time with this woman.

Looking at the woman, his honor said: "You will be remanded and if you can find one person in St. John who will say you are a decent woman I'd like to see you do so."

John Burk, remanded yesterday on charge of being drunk and profane, was fined $8 this morning, and James Caldwell $8 for drunkenness.

James Thompson, arrested on a charge of assaulting his wife, told the court that he had simply "shoved her." His wife, a small woman, told a pitiful story. She said she lived in Carleton in Winslow street, and yesterday her husband had come home drunk and abused her. She was busy at her household duties and was ironing at the time. He shoved her violently, as he had done often before. She had a hard time getting along, as she was the principal support of four children.

His honor asked her if she would wish her husband to be allowed to go free or be remanded, and she said she would not like to see him imprisoned. When he got drunk was the only time he abused her.

His honor remanded Thompson until tomorrow.

Judge Ritchie told him to get a license and bring it to court this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Ritz asked his honor to make it tomorrow, but the judge answered that tomorrow would be the Sabbath for him, so he had better come today.

FINE OF $100 IN LIQUOR CASE*Inspector Jones Tells of Visit Made to Mr. Harney's Premises

Before Judge Ritchie in the police court this morning, the case of Michael Harney, charged with selling liquor on his premises on Sunday last, was heard, and a fine of $100 imposed.

Inspector Jones testified that on Sunday afternoon last he visited Mr. Harney's premises at the corner of Duke and Prince William streets, went up stairs and when he reached the landing he heard the tinkling of a spoon in a glass. Passing a bedroom he saw several men sitting inside and recognized one of them. In the dining room Mr. Jones said he found four men at a table. They were strangers to the witness, who said they were foreigners, each with a glass in front of him, containing liquor. The witness said that he tasted the contents of one of the glasses and it proved to be whiskey, mixed, he thought, with ginger beer.

Mr. Jones said, "Are you drinking, gentlemen?" and they answered, "Yes, yes." And the reply was "Yes."

Mr. Harney came along just at that time and said, "They got no whiskey from me. It is ginger beer, they say."

The witness denied this, and said it was whiskey, for he had tasted it. The defendant replied that they must have brought it in with them.

Mr. Jones said he then left and went into the bar, the door of which was unlocked by Mr. Harney. Sergeant Baxter was there with them and the three men went back to the dining room, where Mr. Jones asked the men if they had brought any liquor into the room that day, and they replied, "No." The men wrote their names on a piece of paper, at the request of the inspector.

This finished the evidence of Mr. Jones, and on being asked by the defendant as to the number of people in the bedroom, said that there were three, one of whom belonged to north end and was not a member of Mr. Harney's family.

The defendant said that he had known these men for a number of years. They were sailors, and having met them on Friday, he invited them to his house on Sunday, where they were treated as guests. His wife gave them a glass of ginger beer, but he did not know where they got the whiskey. He had always kept a respectable place and did not think he had done wrong on Sunday last.

Police Clerk Henderson read the act referring to the violation of the law in such cases.

His Honor weighed the evidence and said that the explanation given did not meet the case, and struck a fine of $100.

GAVE RING TO WIFE OF SERGEANT BAXTER*Welcome Home From Chicago and Also a Birthday Remembrance

There was dancing games were played, refreshments enjoyed and a jolly good time was spent by all. Among those present was Miss Louise Moore, of Boston, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. William Boyle, King street east.

Sergeant and Mrs. Baxter enjoyed their Chicago trip very much. While there they were the guests of Mrs. John Wallace, sister of Mrs. Baxter. In the Windy City they met O. V. D. Jones, formerly of St. John, who is now enjoying a flourishing practice as a dentist there.
