SOME PRICES ARE

REPORTED LOWER

(Hardware and Metal, April 9.)

Further reductions have been made this week in prices of cotton goods, such as some lines of woodenware such as stepladders, clothes hampers, lawn swings, all kinds of chairs, tables, benches, pipe wrenches, blacksmiths' wrenches, glass butter churns, boat and barrel nails, carpenters' chisels, saws and axes, tire taps, chain nails, pipe fittings, and some lines of food choppers. Fuel oil, linseed oil and turpentine are also being quoted lower. Heavy hardware such as bar iron and steel, black and galvanized sheets and plates, wrought pipe, lead products and nails are holding steady in price. The market is still listless and irregular with tin showing a decline, and the coal strike in Great Britain.

The iron and steel industry in primary U. S. markets has not as yet experienced the ordinary spring demand, and business is largely in carload lots. The Pittsburgh reports indicate that the steel pipe market is weaker, with shading of prices.
The sheet market is lower on black and galvanized sheets, but other products have shown little change for the past month.

A continued improvement in the demand for spring lines and shelf hardware is reported by wholesalers, but heavy lines are still moving slowly. Good sales are reported in oil stoves, and electric stoves and ranges are moving well.

GROCERY REPORTS

The following comment on the market situation as regards food stuffs appeared in Canadian Grocer last week.
The condition of business during the week under review has shown an improvement, and wholesalers generally report a more liberal buying movement.
There is a diversity of opinion in regard to collections, some wholesalers stating that there is a slowing up in collections, while others report them satisfactory.
Retailers are reporting business much improved and with the spring weather permitting people to get out, the future looks very promising.

Refined sugar is holding firm at the refiners price basis and the tendency is that sugar will rule around the present price for some time.
Cereals are fairly steady, although rolled oats in bulk is slightly easier, and in view of this fact a slight decline can also be expected on packages of oats.
Currents are firmer on account of the small stocks both in Greece and in Canada. Last year Greece had a carry-over of several thousand tons but this year the carry-over is expected to be very small. Evaporated apples are firmer and a more active export demand is noted. Raisins are steady under a limited demand.

A strong advance in Ceylon teas and the possibility of the tax being increased has created an active movement in the tea market. India teas, however, are not showing the same strength as Ceylons, in fact they can be considered as easy, especially on the coaster trade.
Walnuts are steadily advancing in primary markets and the stock in France is very small. Brazil almonds are also also firmer but not to the same extent as walnuts. Pecans are in a strong position and supplies are limited. Brazil are easy and prices are considerably lower than last year.
Flour declined during the week, also millfeeds are lower.

In the Ontario and the eastern provinces eggs are lower with tendencies for easier prices, but throughout the western provinces eggs have shown a firming tendency with prices advanced.
