ALL BRITISHES IN GERMAN CAMPS MUST BE FREED OR NO ARMISTICE

sealed book of rumors, and truthful people's stories of German barbarities toward the inhabitants have been flooding out.

Finally yesterday's discussions in the House of Commons on the treatment of British prisoners appeared to have been about the last straw breaking the back of British patience, patience which the country generally seems now to think has been carried much too far. The Germans have only themselves to blame that these revelations came at a time so unfortunate for German interests. The topic was forced upon the house by a strong public demand for light upon the circumstances of what is termed, German blackmail in refusing to ratify an agreement drawn up for an equitable exchange of prisoners unless the British consented to go outside that subject and give guarantee against the deportation of Germans from China.

Old parliamentary reporters say they have never seen such a bitter and strong feeling pervade the House of Commons. The only group of members who held aloof was a handful of pacifists, who appear to object to any unpleasant words about Germany more than they object to the war.

The general nature of the military guarantees which the Allies will require has been outlined as the occupation of strategic German bases, as well as the retirement of the German army to its own soil. Maritime matters are considered equally important to Great Britain. Their nature thus far is not so definitive, but the intention of the German submarines, if not the surrender of the whole fleet, appears to be the minimum terms which would satisfy the British people. The sea is as important as the land to this island nation, and the only detail in President Wilson's fourteen points on which there is constant questioning is what the president means by "freedom of the seas."

Suspicion is the word which still summarizes the public attitude toward the Central Powers' manoeuvres.

FAINT WIRELESS CALL MAY MEAN PATROL STEAMER GALIANO IS LOST

Canadian Naval Vessel Was Caught in Heavy Gale Off the Coast of British Columbia—Search Being Made

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 31.—"Holds full of water; send help."

This was the faint wireless message picked up at 8 o'clock this morning from the Canadian patrol steamer Galiano. Although the worst is feared, in view of the fact that no further message has been picked up in answer to the calls flashed since the first one was received from the foundering steamer, it is considered possible that the naval steamer's wireless aerial apparatus was carried away during a high gale blowing off Triangle Island during the night. Furthermore, it is realized that the emergency dynamo may have been put out of commission by the heavy seas which, according to the first message sent out, must have flooded the vessel as she was battling against the storm.

The vessel left Triangle Island at 9 o'clock last night for Ikeda Bay and it is expected that after overtook her off Cape St. James, a rocky point at the southern end of the Queen Charlotte group. Rescue vessels have been rushed to the scene.

While it is impossible to secure any official information regarding the number of men on the ship, when she cleared from Esquimalt naval yards it is understood that she carried a crew of fifty. The majority of her officers are residents of Victoria.

The complement of the Galiano follows: Lieut. M. F. Pope, commander; F. Greenfield, chief engineer; J. Gilbert, chief officer; M. J. Neary, wireless operator; J. Winnie, boatswain; P. W. Watson, P. J. Edmond, P. Williamson, A. Jewkes, A. O. Jones, W. A. Ebbis, H. M. Giffin, R. E. Newell, G. G. Peter, R. McLeod, A. E. Hume, C. Chadbury, R. Musty, C. S. Bale, J. Sanborne, R. Stewart, A. E. Munro, C. C. Poore, T. F. Kane, W. G. Pheriat, T. Wallace, W. J. Stafford, J. J. King, H. Merco, J. Young, M. Dobbin, F. Allen and A. R. Orlando.

PURSE OF GOLD TO H. R. STURDEE

Fine Gift From Pender Employees as Secretary Leaves for Post With Compensation Act Commission

H. Russell Sturdee, for twenty-seven years secretary of James Pender & Co., Ltd., left for his post with the Compensation Act Commission, recently created.

Before leaving his desk Mr. Sturdee was called to the rooms of Supt. Wm. I. Knoll, where the office staff and employees of the works through Edward Purchase, one of the veteran employees, read an address of appreciation, following which Mr. Sturdee was handed a bulging purse of golden coins.

The popular ex-secretary was overwhelmed by the display of good fellowship but managed to make a reply fully reciprocating the felicitous things said to him and to thank the men for their laudable gift.

The address was as follows:

St. John, N. B., Oct. 31, 1918.

Dear Friend,—It is with feelings of regret mingled with pleasure that we, the members of the office staff and employees of James Pender & Co., Ltd., learn of your intended severing of the ties which have bound us together during the last quarter of a century; pleasure at the thought that you are only leaving us better your position, and in this move we heartily extend to you our best wishes, and assure you our interest will ever follow you; but, at the same time, we view your departure with regret, as it breaks up to some extent, the pleasant relations which have extended over the last twenty-seven years, and to others, while not of so long duration, still the relations having been just as pleasant, therefore, the broken ties are just as unpleasant.

We feel we cannot allow this occasion to pass without in some small manner (beyond mere words) expressing to you our feelings of appreciation for the many acts of kindness and the courtesies which you, in your official capacity as secretary of our company, have always cheerfully extended to one and all of us, and in the accompanying gift hope that you may have a constant reminder of the friends you have left behind, and in its contents a golden reminder of our best wishes for your future health and prosperity, and may it always be full of "the coin of the realm" as it leaves us full of best wishes and kindest remembrances.

Mr. Sturdee will take up his new duties tomorrow.

MRS. BARRY G. ADAMS

The death of Mrs. Barry G. Adams, aged twenty-six years, occurred early this morning at her home in the Manawagonish road after an illness of only a few days. Death resulted from pneumonia.
