PASTORAL ADDRESS.

BELÖVED of God, grace unto you, and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. Being once more, through the Divine watch-care, assembled in our Annual Conference, we again send you our pastoral greeting. Death has again invaded our ranks. Our beloved and efficient brethren, P. Smith, Jr., and J. W. B. Johnson, have been called from toil and suffering to rest and reward. May we follow them as they followed Christ.

The appalling prevalence of rationalism, ritualism and formalism, and of the culture of the spirit, customs and amusements of worldlings among professed Christians, demand that, with unflinching strictness, we adhere to the Divine command, "Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate. Receive ye the Holy Ghost. Be not conformed to this world, but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God, even your sanctification." This is emphatically the dispensation of the Holy Ghost; hence we enjoin upon you most earnestly the necessity and benefits of Holy Ghost religion,—the promised baptism of fire, even the fire of perfect love, illustrated in acts of continual obedience and Christ-like self-denial.
