LOCAL NEWS

Chief Officer Bethel of the steamer Harlow, and Captain Brinkman, Chief Officer of the P. and B. liner Quira, have changed ships.

The police report putting out a bon fire on Richmond street last night. They also report the finding of five doors open in well known business houses last night.

A meeting of the Safety Board will be held at three o'clock this afternoon. Among other business the board will open the tenders for new hoses for the fire department.

Taking pains that no foot may suffer, is the pigeon way of shoe-fitting. With the right kind of shoes at the right price, it is easy to accomplish pleasing results. At corner Main and Bridge streets, D. Hunter Department that can save you money and give you the greatest comfort and best style in the bargain.

At 8.20 o'clock this morning an alarm was sent in from box 21 for a slight fire in the rear of Mrs. M. W. Maher's house on Golding street. Some kindling wood that caught fire in the oven of the kitchen stove had been placed in the porch and water thrown on it, but the fire had not been thoroughly extinguished and started again. The walls and roof of the porch were damaged to the extent of about $20.

Dr. J. V. Anglin informs the Star that he has communicated with Premier Hazen in Albert County regarding the release of Mrs. Thos. Y. Doucet, who killed her baby in a fit of insanity and was placed in the asylum here, but has received no reply. He considers that the matter will be brought before the commissioners at the next meeting. Mr. Doucet is making strong efforts to secure her release for it is said she has been cured.

On Sunday afternoon last, Miss Aigar started to come down stairs with the seven months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Odell in her arms. A projecting nail caused her to trip and she fell headlong down the stairs with the child. They were both unconscious when picked up. Miss Aigar's head struck on the newel post, bruising her face. She recovered consciousness shortly afterward and is now quite herself again. The injured child is improving.—Herald.

The long drawn out task of raising the tug engine No. 5 was attached to a pump in an effort to empty her, but without success. Today a large steam pump is being fitted to work on her and this afternoon the tug Neptune will assist in the effort to pump her out. The work of raising her with jackscrews is being continued, and the hull is now nearly up to the surface of the river.

Factory Inspector John McMullin has returned from a trip of inspection through Charlotte County and the western half of St. John county. While away he visited among others the pulp mill at St. George, Gregoire's mill at Lepreau, and the Laglewood Co's mill at Musquash. He reported that conditions at all these places were satisfactory. At St. George all the granite works except the Utopia are still closed on account of the strike.

Willie Thompson, aged six years was found by Acting Sergeant Scott, wandering about Brunswick street in the rain yesterday afternoon and was taken to Central Station. The little fellow told his name and said he lived on Fort Howe. The police at Central Station made inquiry and found that the little fellow was the son of Albert Thompson and had wandered away from home. The charge of not giving a satisfactory account of himself was not made against the child by the officer.

There has been a shake up among the fire department drivers during the past few days. On Monday two men were discharged from No. 2 station. Yesterday morning a driver named Taylor was discharged from the H. and L. Station, King Street East. Taylor was only appointed Monday and in answering to an alarm early yesterday morning No. 2 engine collided with the sliding pole, tore it away and damaged one of the doors. The vacancy was filled yesterday by the appointment of Alex. Crawford.

The horse owned by Captain J. W. Grant and used by him on his milk route struck down a young son of Andrew Marrs, on Thursday of last week, and had it not been for the timely arrival of Capt. Grant would undoubtedly have killed the child. It seems that the horse had been tormented a lot by children in different parts of the city, and when the Marrs boy, who is nine years of age, ran in front of the animal as it was standing on Spring street, the horse suddenly jumped towards him, reared and struck him down with its forefeet, then proceeded to do its best to crush the life out of the prostrate boy. Capt. Grant who was delivering milk at a nearby house, came out just as the boy was knocked down and at once went to his assistance, but the vicious brute was loth to leave its victim and was driven off with difficulty. The injured boy was carried home and a physician summoned who did everything possible for his relief, but his sufferings from internal injuries are severe, although hope for his recovery is now expressed. An unusual feature of the affair was the fact that the child did not sustain a single bone fracture.—Courier.

WHEN GREEK MEETS GREEK POLICE COURT WILL BE BUSY

Young Fellow Sent Here From Salem Will Not Remain With His Guardian.

A few weeks ago a young Greek was before the police court for running away from his guardian, Peter Petropoulos, the King street shoe shiner. It was then shown that the young fellow had been sent from Salem, Mass., by his father with strict orders not to leave Petropoulos and the latter was held responsible for the care of the boy. The boy was ordered by the court to not leave Petropoulos, and others were warned not to harbor him. He remained with Petropoulos only a short time when he again ran away. A few nights ago Policeman Marshall took the boy out of John Spardakas' pool room and handed him over to his guardian. This caused an altercation between Spardakas and Petropoulos police court. The Greek boy once more ran away from his guardian and was found in King Square this morning by Officer Marshall, who took him to Central Station, where Petropoulos called for him. The boy will very likely be sent to his father in Salem.

KINDERGARTENS NEED A HUNDRED DOLLARS

Deficit as the Year's Work Which Must Be Met Immediately.

The Free Kindergarten Association faces the end of the school year with a deficit of $100. This amount is necessary to pay the teachers and settle all accounts when the schools close. The association feels it necessary to again ask contributions from citizens as possible, by the Women's Council, those on the Every Day Club grounds on Monday next, and the Centennial as soon as the school board gives permission. The council requires more funds than it has on hand and therefore appeals to the citizens for contributions large or small. Any subscriptions left with the Star will be duly acknowledged. The following have started the fund:

THE PLAYGROUNDS

The people of St. John do not need to be told of the value of the supervised playgrounds for children. These grounds will be opened as soon as possible, by the Women's Council, those on the Every Day Club grounds on Monday next, and the Centennial as soon as the school board gives permission. The council requires more funds than it has on hand and therefore appeals to the citizens for contributions large or small. Any subscriptions left with the Star will be duly acknowledged. SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNICS

St. Stephen's Sunday school picnic went out to Westfield on the C. P. R. this morning. The Scotch companies of the Boys' Brigade attended in uniform.

The annual picnic of Victoria street Baptist Sunday school is being held at Day's Landing today. A large party went back by the steamer Hampton this morning.

St. Luke's picnic, which was to have been held today at Watters' Landing, was postponed until tomorrow on account of the threatening weather.

POLICE COURT

The police court bench was today occupied by nine prisoners. Seven were drunks and two others were charged with not giving a satisfactory account of themselves at the Market Square at an early hour this morning.

The men were Jesse Vincent, of the United States and Anton Tolvori, of Sweden. Vincent was fined $4, but the Swede could not understand a word of English and as the police could not understand him he was allowed to go. He created some amusement when the court sergeant told him to go, and pointed towards the door. The Swede was still ignorant of what had been said to him and took a position outside the rail in line with some spectators who he thought were also prisoners. He had to be escorted to the door before he learned that he had regained his liberty.

The drunks were fined $4 each with exception of Murray Ann Field who was remanded to jail. Mary Ann was arrested and sent to jail on Thursday, June 11th. She had to be taken to the station from the Westmorland Road yesterday on a sloven.

Rockwood Park

Band concert and free vaudeville tonight. Full change of vaudeville programme. Show starts at 8:15 o'clock sharp.

Contractor S. A. Drury will resume the work of repairing the Suspension Bridge this evening and the bridge will be closed for traffic at six o'clock.

Shortly before ten o'clock this morning an alarm was sent in from box 4. The cause of calling out the department was the boiling over of a tar pot in the kitchen of James L. McAvity's house on Hasen street. The tar was being heated by some tinsmiths who were repairing the house. With the exception of a great lot of smoke there was not much damage.
