

Crutches Thrown Away.

The Remarkable Case of a Young Girl in Walkerton.

For Three Years She Could Only go about With the Aid of Crutches—Had to be Helped in and Out of Bed—Her Restoration to Health Was Unlooked For.

From the Walkerton Telescope.

A couple of Walkerton ladies were recently discussing the case of a mutual friend who, owing to the sudden development of a bad attack of sciatica, had been compelled to take her bed, when a third lady present, but who was a stranger to the young lady in question, made the remark, "I would advise your friend to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." Asked to give her reasons for making this recommendation she proceeded to give the details of a most remarkable cure that had been effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on the daughter of her nearest neighbor, a Miss Rebecca Greenhow, and the story as told by this lady, having subsequently been repeated in the hearing of the editor of this paper, we decided to investigate and find out from personal inquiry all the circumstances of this seeming remarkable instance of the power of medicine over disease. That evening we called at Mr. Greenhow's residence. Both Mr. and Mrs. Greenhow were at home, but their daughter had gone down town. "Yes," replied Mrs. Greenhow in answer to a question in regard to the reported cure, "My daughter has been cured; I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved her life." She then gave the circumstances of her daughter's illness and cure as follows:—

"Rebecca is now seventeen years of age. When she was eleven she was attacked with tonsillitis and following this for the next three years she never had a moment free from pain. She began to complain of pains all over her body but chiefly in her back. She became so weak and run down that she was unable to walk without the assistance of a crutch. The doctor said she was suffering from inflammatory rheumatism brought on by an impoverished condition of system. He prescribed various remedies but nothing seemed to do her any good and finally we decided to try another doctor. He also pronounced the trouble to be rheumatism but though he gave her bottle after bottle of medicine, she still continued to grow weaker. By the end of the second year she was unable to leave the house and could only move from one room to another by the use of her crutches. We were advised to get her an electric belt and did so, but though she wore it for a long time it did her no good whatever. During the third winter she became so bad that she had to be assisted into and out of bed, and could not even raise from a chair without assistance. We had given up all hope of her recovery when a Mr. John Allen, who had himself been similarly afflicted, but who had been cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, advised us to give them a trial. We had tried so many things without success that we hesitated to accept his advice, but he insisted so strongly that we finally yielded. The first five boxes seemed to produce no change, but before she had finished the sixth box we were sure we could notice some improvement, and we felt encouraged to continue their use. From that on she continued to improve steadily, and by the time she had taken eighteen boxes every trace of pain had left her. She threw away her crutches and soon forgot that she had ever needed them. For months past she has been filling a position in the rattan factory and can work as well as any one. Indeed I do not believe there is to-day a healthier girl in Walkerton."

Such is Mrs. Greenhow's story of the cure of her daughter through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after years of great suffering. We may add that a day or two later the writer called once more at the Greenhow abode in the hope of seeing the young lady herself. This time she was at home and she came into the room. She presented an appearance of the most perfect health. She repeated the story of her sufferings in substantially the same terms as her mother had done, and, like her mother, gives all the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, nervous headache, nervous prostration, and diseases depending upon humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc., all disappear before a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions. Sold by dealers and post paid at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Do not be persuaded to take some substitute.

Replying to a question on the subject in the House of Commons on Tuesday, Gerald Balfour admitted that the county council of Kerry had petitioned the government to purchase the Herbert estate in Killarney. But, he added, there was no evidence of a general demand on the part of the public to purchase the estate.

Rev. David Morelle, Episcopal, formerly of Wilmington, N. C., attempted suicide at New York on Friday by turning on six jets of gas in his apartments. It is said his wife deserted him several days ago with a young doctor. Mr. Morelle is seventy-one years old. He is crippled in his right leg. Mrs. Morelle is thirty-eight years old.

The work of the peace conference at The Hague is now so far advanced that the delegates will probably take a holiday after June 28, in order to allow them to refer to their respective governments for final instructions. The information from Germany is that Emperor William will not separate himself from the other powers in the arbitration question.

The monster telescope which is now being built for the Paris exposition, where it will be one of the chief attractions, is of such a size as to put even the Yerkes instrument into comparative insignificance. It will be over 210 feet long and the diameter of its tube will be 72 inches. The difficulties of its construction have been enormous, but it is now believed that they have all been satisfactorily overcome and that the huge telescope should easily outvie the Eiffel tower, and, besides, it will have a scientific value which that architectural abortion has not.

In the German Reichstag Monday the Anglo-German treaty was referred to a committee of twenty-one members. During the course of the debate Herr Leibermann Von Sonnenberg attacked Great Britain's proceedings in Samoa. The minister of foreign affairs, Baron Von Buelow, in reply, said: "I have no objection to again define our attitude on the Samoan question. We shall not depart from the stipulations of the Samoa treaty nor allow others to turn us from our course. We recognize the rights of others while maintaining our own. We shall provide for full indemnification of the Germans whose property was destroyed by illegal British or American action."

Personal.

We are sorry to hear that as the result of a bicycle accident, Pastor Thomas of Digby is for a time deprived of the use of his left hand and arm.

Mr. Perry Stackhouse who has recently graduated from Acadia College has entered hopefully upon his work in connection with the Tabernacle church, St. John.

We deeply regret to say that a note received from Rev. Lewis F. Wallace informs us that his father, Rev. Isaiah Wallace, is very seriously ill and suffering greatly from heart failure. Bro. Wallace desires his friends to know of his illness that they may pray for him. The request will doubtless find a sympathetic response in many hearts. Mr. Wallace had not reached his home in Lawrence town when he was taken ill, but is with his daughter, Mrs. Roblee, in Lower Canada.
