Great preparations are being made in Aberdeenshire to celebrate the silver wed-ding of Lord and Lady Aberdeen. They are both very popular and are untiring in their efforts to benefit the poorer classes, not only in the immediate neighborhood of Haddon House, but on all Lord Aberdeen's estates. When Lord Aberdeen was vicery of Iroland and communications. of Canada, Lady Aberdeen interested herself greatly in many philanthropic schemes, and she is now one of the chief supporters of the Irish industries and the supporters of the Irish industries and the Canadian Emigration Society.

The tablet which is to mark the birthplace of George Peabody, the banker and philanthropist, will be unveiled by the Peabody (Massachusetts) Historical Society on June 16. The tablet is of bronze and has the following inscription in raised letters: "Birthplace of George Peabody, February 18, 1795. Placed by the Peabody, Television of the Peabody, Tel Body Historical Society, June 16, 1902."
This tablet will be bolted to a rough stone post, five feet out of the ground, to be set two feet inside the fence, directly in front of the old part of the house in which Mr. Peabody was born. The date of the unveiling is the semi-centennial of the reception by the town of the gift from Mr. Peabody of the endowment of the Peabody Institute.

Woman's Suffrage Club

A highly interesting gathering, held last Saturday evening at the residence of Mrs. W. F. Hatheway, closed the winter weekreadings of the Woman's Suffrage lub. An artistically prepared parlor pic nic was arranged by a committee, the dainty viands being partaken of at small tables scattered around the rooms amid an atmosphere of genial pleasantry, jest and humor. After this came a programme which crowned the evening's success. Every member was prepared with an original paper or a reading from clippings on subjects not as formerly con fined to woman's work and status in so niety, but with a reference to the great questions of the day and woman's growng interest in regard to them, her cap milities in many new directions, her great Never has the little local club felt mor encouraged than at the present. Junior Officers Deficient in Military Knowled e-- Present Systems Condemned --- Promotion by Merit on Honest Tests Honestly Reported Upon is Recommended.

London, June 7 .- The report of the ommittee on military education and raining of the British army was issued oday. The committee's report, which s based on the evidence of the officer themselves from the commander-in-chiedownwards fills 48 printed pages with austic criticism of the existing system The witnesses were unanimous in saying that the junior officers were lamentably deficient in military knowledge, the desire to acquire knowledge and in zeal. The committee finds that the young officers will not work unless compelled to the third that the point of fastion. do so, that "keenness is out of fashion, and that "it is not correct form." The committee declares that many officers do not passess common elementary educion, and plaintively protests that officers ought "at least be able to express them-selves clearly and concisely in their own

The report condemns the systems on the Woolwich and Sandhurst, where edu cation is "far from satisfactory, the instructors having no inducement to teach the cadets, still less to work."

With the view of diminishing the expenses of officers belonging to cavalry regiments the report recommends that polo tournaments, regimental coaches and keeping hounds be forbidden. Perhaps the penultimate naragraph is the most the penultimate paragraph is the mos important of all. "So long as mediocrit is permitted to pass muster," says the committee, "and signal ability meets with no substantial recognition, it is useless to hope for any valuable results from verbal amendments to the regulations. Nothing but inducements, in the shape of certain reward for good work, either in peace or war can resise the standard of knowledge war, can raise the standard of knowledge war, can raise the standard of knowledge through the commissioned ranks."

The committee therefore, recommends an "honest system of promotion by merit, following upon tests honestly conducted and honestly reported on."

The report plainly hints that officers can hardly be expected to work so long as the present system of advancement through according to the present of the present system of advancement.
