

The masonic bodies in Cuba have also arrived at an understanding, and are now united, being known as the Grand Lodge of Colon and Cuba.

I find that Westmoreland Lodge, No. 10, still owes a balance of ten dollars on their warrant, besides dues from organization, and unless their members come to an understanding with the Grand Lodge, I am of opinion that the best interests of masonry will be served by recalling their charter.

My Brethren, in now returning to you the badge of my office, I do so with feelings of both regret and pleasure. Regret that, for the five years I have held the high position of Grand Master, I have been able to accomplish so little. The limited time at my disposal prevented my doing many things which I hoped and wished to have done;—Pleasure from the kindly recollections I shall always have of the courteous and generous treatment I have on all occasions received, not only from the members of the Grand Lodge, but from every member of the fraternity I have met in this jurisdiction.

JOHN YEO, G. M.

On motion of Bro. P. Albert Carvell, it was

Resolved, That the Address of the M. W. Grand Master be referred to a Special Committee.

The M. W. Grand Master then appointed the following brethren as members of said committee :

BRO. P. ALBERT CARVELL,

“ ADAM MURRAY,

“ WILLIAM T. HUNT.
