Und r- Currents By The Duchess

"No? You mean the Am I then so believe this friendship of yours was contracted here—since you came into my house?"
"I met him" began the girl in a breathless stammering fashion, utterly daunted by the poverty of her case and the cruel brilliance of the searching eyes brought to bear on her.
"So much I know" pitilessly "You let him yesterday for example. That I witnessed for myself. What I am desirous of learning is, how it was you first arrived at a knowledge of his existence. You will excuse my persistence I am sure" with abominable sweetness "but may I ask the name of the mutual friend who introduced him to you?"
Dead silence.

Ho pauses, and fixes her with his unrelenting eyes. There is something revolting in the smearing tone in the cruel smile, that makes even thinner the already too thin old lips.
I think—if you will let me explain—I interpose Vera hurriedly I may be able to set right what now seems a little obscure a little open to misinterpretation. She comes quickly forward as she speaks, but Dyrart putting up his hand checks her.

You are really too good coming to my help like this, trying to take the trouble off my shoulders, but I assure you I am quite capable of undertaking this case" he says idly and your presence, as I before remarked, in not wanted here. What" turning again to Griselda—not a word Am I to understand that you, my niece, have commenced a low flirtation with a man unknown to you, a man who may be, for aught you can say to the contrary the common son of a common butcher, or baker or—
He is the son of no butcher or baker" interrupts Griselda, her cheeks aflame her eyes flashing.

No? You have discovered so much? You have made strides in your friendship apparently. Does he rise to the giddy height of the law? Is he, perhaps the fifth son of the local attorney?"
No," says Griselda.
You are better informed than I believed. This idyll of yours must have been of stronger growth than I imagined. You seem to have got a good deal of information out of the young man, person information, which, between lovers, I am told is always the most interesting. If not the son of the resident butcher, or baker or attorney, perhaps he told you whose son he was? If so, pray satisfy my burning curiosity!"
He has told me, certainly," says Griselda defiantly.

And sworn you in not to betray the knowledge I see" says Mr. Dyrart with an irritating laugh Cautious youth"
"He swore me to nothing; nevertheless I shall tell you nothing" retorts she.
The truthfulness of your attitude and expression conveys that to me without words" says Dyrart with a contemptuous shrug. "Unhappily for you, however heroes are completely thrown away upon me. Now hear me" his manner grows suddenly hard and stern, and leaning forward he compels her gaze to meet his "One word for all—you shall meet this lover of yours no more!"
"Lover?" cries the girl, stung by the insolence of his tone.
"Ay, lover. You forget, perhaps, that scene I saw with my own eyes yesterday. Capital eyes they are still in spite of my years—have you ever noticed their brilliancy?" fixing them with such a steady glare that Griselda shivers. Surely there is something uncommon about those awful eyes "They showed me this young man of yours, this wretched stray cast up out of the mud of humanity to gratify your vanity—this fellow whose name you are ashamed to pronounce—kneeling prostrate before you, worshipping at your feet so close to the public highway that all who ran might read—It was charmingly romantic, no doubt; ideally perfect, deliciously unconventional and—permit me to add—grossly vulgar and indecent."

"Gee!" breaks in Vera tremulously, but beyond a glance at her full of virulent malice, he ignores her interruption.
"I am your guardian" he goes on, a d-essing Griselda always "an unwilling to be a guardian, but still your guardian and as such I shall see that or the future you do not disgrace yourself or me."
"I forbid you to speak to me like this" says Griselda in a low choked tone that vibrates with wounded modesty. "It is you who disgrace yourself when you speak of—of—"
"Of your evident longing to fling yourself into the arms of the first man you meet?"
"Vera will you permit this!" demands the girl passionately, turning to her sister a face from which the angry blood of a moment since has flown leaving it white and set as marble.
"It is intolerable!" says Vera.
"Uncle Gregory I shall not stay here to listen to such words addressed to Griselda."
"I am not aware that I ever pressed you to remain. The first moment it occurs to you to leave this room I beg you will let no consideration for my comfort detain you. I shall not allow you so to insult my sister."

"No? And how do you propose to prevent me?" asks Dyrart leaning back in his chair and surveying her with a studied smile "But—to continue what I meant to say when you so—er—brusquely interrupted me—if you ever again once more concentrating his attention to Griselda, "seek this lover of yours if you ever again dare to disobey my orders, and go beyond the precincts of my garden and pleasure-grounds—all of which are to be seen from the front windows—if, in effect, you go out of reach of my eyes, I shall turn you and your sister out upon the highway to starve."

Mother's who have used Zam-Buk say it is so fine for the many little accidents of daily occurrence in the home—and especially where there are children—that they would not be without it. Not only so, but children who have had Zam-Buk applied to an injury or sore, when again injured, cry for Zam-Buk, and nothing goes, draws out the soreness and heals so quickly.
Mrs. I. Wilson of Sarnia, Ont., says: "I could not do without Zam-Buk for my children. It is the best ointment we have ever used for burns, sores and cuts."
Mr. L. B. Andersen of 1407 E. 22nd St., Minneapolis, Minn., writes: "When any of the children in my wife or I get with an accident, we immediately apply Zam-Buk. It has saved us many a doctor's bill."
Mrs. C. B. Ricey of Riverport, N.S., writes: "My baby had sores on her face, caused by teething. Zam-Buk completely healed them."
Zam-Buk is easily used for eczema, ringworm, running sores, blood-poison, ulcers, abscesses, skin, hair and scalp. All Druggists, 50c. box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send 1c. stamp for free trial.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, depressed, worried; some days headachy dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty-muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women whether sick or well are advised to drink each morning before breakfast a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate mix as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material waste, sour bile and toxins. This cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

The Invisible Conflict

From the moment of birth—and before—until the hour of death, there is going on within the body a constant conflict, unseen and usually unfelt, between forces that seek to defend, and others that strive to destroy.

Germs that enter from without are attacked and destroyed by the living guardians in the blood, the white blood cells or phagocytes. Poisons generated within seek entrance into the blood and are removed or destroyed by the functions of the intestines, liver and kidneys.

Food waste allowed to stagnate and remain in the intestines, unevacuated, poisons the blood and destroys its power to defend against outside or inside enemies. Such self-poisoning causes over 90% of human illness.

Constipation turns the tide of the invisible conflict against the body, in favor of the invaders. Nor does the taking of castor oil, pills, salts, mineral waters, etc., to force the bowels to move enable the body to defend itself. Not only will the constipation grow worse with the continuance of such remedies but the dose must be constantly increased with an ever-weakening effect.

On the other hand Nujol overcomes constipation and brings about the habit of easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals, because Nujol is not a drug, does not act like any drug. Nujol brings about a return to Nature's methods by supplying necessary lubrication of the bowel contents, by facilitating intestinal muscular action, by absorbing poisonous matter, and thus securing necessary cleansing of the intestinal canal and protection of the defensive properties of the blood itself.

Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist today and send coupon for free booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger."

Warning: Nujol is sold only in the Nujol Trade Mark. Insist on Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.
