MONDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1900.

THE PLAY IS THE THING.

Last night the Eagles of Dawson presented at the Savoy theater a production of a comedy which in many respects would quite equal similar efforts in first-class theaters on the outside.

The packed house which greeted the players gave striking evidence of the fact, as often set forth in the Nugget that a legitimate dramatic performance devoid of everything suggestive of filth, would prove a popular and paying enterprise in Dawson.

Dawson is today a city of families. Hundreds of women and children came in during the past season of open navigation to add to the large number who were here before, but the fact still remains that no consequential effort has been put forward to cater to their patronage from a public amusement standpoint. During the entire week the performances presented at the different houses are of such a nature that attendance on the part of ladies is an impossibility. Or, if the plays themselves are not objectionable the surroundings effect the same result. It is probably a fact that a theater conducted throughout the week on strictly legitimate lines would not be a paying investment. The whys and wherefores of this condition open up a field for discussion outside the limits of this article. The facts as they are, must be recognized and the difficulty overcome as may best be done under existing circumstances.

We wish, therefore to point out to the theatrical managers that there is a demand in Dawson for legitimate public amusement—amusement of such a nature that men will feel justified in permitting their families to attend.

How many nights during the week this demand could be met with profit to the promoters of the enterprise can be determined only by experiment. We are of the opinion that the public would respond willingly and generously to such a movement. Certainly the appreciation which was shown for the production given at the Savoy last night indicates something. Our own belief is that it proves conclusively that Dawson wants good, clean wholesome amusement, and is willing to properly compensate the person or persons who will provide the same. The play's the thing, only it wants to be the right kind of play. Where is the man who will solve the problem?

The Nugget's presidential election will close tomorrow at 6 p. m. At that hour the ballot boxes will be withdrawn from the various polling places and the count of votes will begin. The interest which has been manifested in this election has far exceeded our expectations and the vote which will be cast will be an extremely large one. A great many have refrained from voting until election day, preferring to cast their ballots with the knowledge that some 12,000,000 of their fellow countrymen are engaged almost simultaneously in the same act. We again urge every American citizen who has not already voted, to cast his ballot tomorrow. A list of polling places is published elsewhere and at all of them ballots will be provided. Remember the polls will close at 6 o'clock sharp tomorrow evening and no ballots will be received after that hour.

The Democrats are putting forth tremendous efforts to carry New York state. Boss Croker anticipates no particular difficulty in carry the city for Bryan, and it is quite possible that Tammany will be able to deliver enough votes to make Croker's promises good. The boss is more concerned, however, in preserving his own prestige in New York city than he is in electing Bryan, and outside the limits of the metropolis his interest in the election is of a most perfunctory sort. It will be a most remarkable thing, in fact a seemingly impossible thing to defeat McKinley and Roosevelt outside of New York city. It is merely a question of a sufficiently large vote throughout the state to overcome any possible majority which Tammany may poll for Bryan in the city. Roosevelt's personal popularity is such that there will be no difficulty in offsetting any majority which Croker may secure in the city of New York.

The arrival of cold weather has always in previous years, been the signal for a series of fires. The same thing will occur again this year unless care is taken by occupants of buildings. It is all well enough to have ordinances passed to compel the observance of precautions but unless individual care is taken, fires are certain to occur. Now that many buildings require heating all night long special attention should be given to stoves and flues. It is the old story of one ounce of prevention, which, though it be a worn out truism, is still a very valuable point to bear in mind. It is much easier to prevent a fire from starting than it is to extinguish the flames when once they have gained headway.

COMING AND GOING.

R. Kirby is down from Dominion.
J. W. MacKee, of Dominion, is in town for a short visit.
Walter Baker, of Chechako Hill, is visiting the city.
J. M. Partridge, of Last Chance, is registered at the Flannery.
M. W. Field is in from Dominion on a business trip.
N. W. Faulkner, of Last Chance, is a guest of the Donovan hotel.
John Mellish, of French Hill, is stopping at the Yukon hotel.
Geo. E. Vickery, of Adams Hill, is in town for a few days of business.
C. R. Ellerton, of the Yukon Gold Fields, is registered at the Fairview.
A. Fassbender, of Bonanza, is among the guests registered at the Fairview.
John C. Lilly, of the firm of Lilly Bros., arrived Saturday evening from up stream.
R. S. Ames, of 10 above, Dominion, is stopping for a few days at the Donovan.
The smallpox ambulance was taken from its wheels this morning and put on runners.
Mrs. F. M. Thompson and little daughter are in from 43 Bonanza on a visit to friends in the city.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Worden are visiting friends in the city for a few days, but will shortly return to Sulphur.
Wm. Jarvis and wife are down from Hunker creek, and are stopping during their stay in the city at the Fairview.
The chemical fire engine comes off its trucks today and will come out on runners at the next tap of the fire bell.
This was the coldest morning of the year so far, the thermometer registering 31 below zero. Numerous noses touched with frost were seen on First avenue.
The fire in the postoffice building this morning has led to repairs to the furnace which necessitated the putting out of the fire so that work in the commissioner's office had to be stopped for the day.
The lowest temperature ever recorded in Dawson was in January, 1896, when the thermometer one day recorded 67.9. The coldest day last year was also in January, when 55 below zero was recorded.
Barney, the pet cub of the fire department, met a mad dog a week or ten days since, and has been wearing a poultice on one of his forepaws since in consequence. His confidence in canines has been considerably shaken.

Mail is Delayed.

The men who were dispatched up the river with dogs to bring in the mail which is stranded near Stewart, mention of which was made in the Nugget of Friday, had the bad luck to fall into the river several times with the result that they returned to this place Saturday evening, having given up attempting to accomplish the trip. This morning another outfit was dispatched from here for the same and even if they accomplish the trip safely it is not expected they will get back with the mail before the last of the week as travel on the river will be very laborious until a trail is broken.

Many people who probably do not own thermometers, did not know how cold it really was until they had been out some time this morning. As a result several noses and ears were frozen before their owners became convinced that winter is regularly on.
