My dear Mr. Meighen,

First of all I wish to explain why I was not present at the dinner last evening. As you probably know, I made a speech in the Senate last week against State Medicine. I understood that Senator Croll of Toronto was to speak in rebuttal of my remarks. Therefore, I considered it my duty to be here.

I want you to know, Sir, that as a young boy I was always a great admirer of yours. You will probably recall the close association my father had with you. Never will I forget the two very kind letters that you wrote to me: First when I was appointed to the Board of Governors of the University of Toronto, and secondly when I was made a Fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine, England. I can only reiterate everything that was said last night and I assure you of my prayerful good wishes. God Bless you.

Yours very sincerely,

J. A. Sullivan, M.D.

Right Honourable Arthur Meighen,
