

WITHIN THE PEARLY GATES.

By Author of "Feathers from an Angel's Wing."

A NEW AND ENLARGED EDITION.

Beautifully Bound in Cloth and Gilt, Price 50c. Paper Wrappers, 25c.

THIRTIETH THOUSAND.

Just the book for a birthday present, reward of merit, the sick room, family or Sunday School Library.

Her Most Gracious Majesty the QUEEN, and her Royal Highness the Princess LOUISE, through their private Secretaries, have each been pleased to acknowledge the receipt of a copy.

What the Press and others have to say about it:

"The description of heaven is so beautiful, as to almost make one long to mingle with the glorified throng."—Kingston News.

"This book translates its readers to the celestial world, where, amidst the splendours which no imagery can fully represent, they hear the old story from the distinguished worthies of the Bible and modern times, who have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. To the afflicted, this book cannot fail to bring consolation, and to all thoughtful readers encouragement to faith. The style is highly imaginative, without being fantastic, and the diction elevated and pure."—Christian Guardian.

"It is a book to do one's soul good. The author describes the Redeemed worshipping in the Heavenly Temple. . . . His descriptive powers are of a high order, and we may congratulate him on the ability with which he has wrought out his theme."—Meth. Quarterly, England.

"The imaginative powers of the author have soared aloft amidst the divine glories of the Better Land."—A. F. Munro, Prize Essayist on the Sabbath, Brooklyn, N.Y., U.S.

"I handed 'The Pearly Gates' to a dying young man, and he was so enraptured with it that he longed to depart and join the glorified saints."—Rev. W. B. Affleck.

"I have just finished reading your beautiful book 'Within the Pearly Gates.' I have enjoyed the same and have been profited. No wonder it has had such a large sale. It is safe to go anywhere; success to it."—Rev. Joseph Wild, D.D.

"The plan is novel, the thought fresh, the language pure, the style interesting. The book reflects credit on the mind and heart of the author, and merits the extensive circulation it has reached."—Rev. E. Humphries, Brooklyn, N.Y.

What better use could the wealthy make of their means than to purchase a few copies of this book, to place in the hands of the sorrowful, sick and dying? What a blessing it would be, to learn that they have been the means of lifting the shadows that gather in the valleys of life and death and hide the glorious future from their view.