not collect her thoughts sufficiently to In those days-the time is apparently recall aly good remedies with which Christ's retirement, after his withshe is acquainted. One way to avoid drawal from Galilee, (Matt 15. 21;) the place, the high table-land east of this is to write out a list of help in trouble and tack it upon the door of the Sea of Galilee, in the territory of your room, after the manner of hotel Decapolis, occupied largely by a Roman regulations. There is nothing better population. The former feeding was for a cut than powdered rosin. Get a on the northern coast of the Sca of few cents' worth of rosin, pound it un-Galilee, among the Jews; this one was til it is fine, and put it into an empty, among the heathen. It is very observclean pepper or spice box with perforaable that our Saviour had a continual ted top; then you can easily sift it out care that none who followed him should want. The three days are probably to be computed in the Jewish manner, that is, reckoning each portion as a whole day, so that three days do not necessarily include more than one whole day and portions of two others. They had with them no adequate supply for their wants. In the East, meat is used much less than with us. Milk, fruits, and various preparations of bread are staple articles of diet. Three days' sojourn in the wilderness would not, therefore, require with them so great preparation as with us.

How many loaves have ye ?- The bread of the East is baked in thin. round cakes or sheets, like our crackers in form. They were often baked by spreading the dough, when prepared, on stones previously heated, or throwing it on the heated embers itself. or placing it between layers of dung, which burns slowly, and is therefore esplace of peppermint. pecially adapted to the purpose. He blessed-they do right who in eating pray over each course. Did eat, and were filled .- The Disciples desired only that "every one may have a little," but the Lord provided such abundance that "they were all filled." Liberal profusion and true economy always go hand in hand. In nature how strikingly is this illustrated ! The earth yields her abundance, and although this abundance is more than can be made use of, yet nothing is wasted. The whole economy of nature has been made in accordance with the principle that "nothing be lost." The cast-off leaves, the decayed stems of the past winter, give strength to the vegetation of the coming spring. The refuse of the animal kingdom becomes the food of the vegetable; even the poison thrown off by the former is inhaled as the life of the latter. The progress of science and art is a progress toward the direction "that nothing be lost." The great discoveries of James Walt were but discoveries how to avoid waste of fuel : and the recent discovery how to extract the bright and fashionable dyes from the refuse coal-tar is but obedience to this direction, "gather up the fragments that nothing be lost." The expression there shall no sign be given does not, as has been maintained, exclude our Lord's miracles from being signs, but is the direct answer to their request in the sense in which we know they used the word, "a sign, not wrought by him, and so able to be suspected of magic art, but one from heaven." Beware of the leaven-The disciples doubtless were often exposed to the influence of the conversations of the Pharisees and Sadducees when our Lord was not present. Christ willed the Pharisees and Sadducees. It is that was full of corrupt leaven. (1) The Pharisees ; of the leaven of superstition, consisting in phylacteries, phrases, and observances and little else. (2) The Sadducees; of a leaven, that smelt strong of profaneness, in their liberty of prophesying, calling in question angels, and spirits, and the resurrection itself. (3) And a third times it is the bane of true religion, molded up with Jeroboam's and with it is fittest, to do their turns, that Jereboam may be safe.

rude was the spiritual material from which Jesus had to create the founders of Christianity! Great care was taken by the Pharisaic canons what leaven was to be used and what not; for example, whether heathen leaven might be employed is the subject of rabbinical discussions. The disciples thought that Christ reproved them for their carelessness in forgetting to provide bread, lest they corrupt themselves by using bread mixed with the Pharisees' leaven. The incident indicates the spiritual dullness of the disciples, (compare Luke 22. 38,) and refutes the idea of one school of modern rationalists, that many of the spiritual ideas of the gospels originated with the evan-
