Bank Clerk—You will have to be identified, ma'am. Lady Customer—My friend here will identify me. Bank Clerk—But I don't know her. Lady Customer—Oh, well, I'll introduce you.

Marvellous Healing Power.

The most severe test to which a healing agent has ever been put in the case of a woman, so successful has Dr. Chase's Ointment been in the cure of torturing itching eczema that many people refer to its effects as magical and marvellous. After the first few applications it positively stops the dreadful itching and then gradually and naturally heals up the area.

She—I married my first husband for money and my second for love. He—And were you happy? She—No; unfortunately my first husband married me for love and my second for money.

Cured When Doctors Failed.

Mr. Felix Villeneuve, Clarence Creek, Ont., writes: 'I was a great sufferer from kidney disease, indigestion of the bowels and liver troubles, and doctors could not help me much. Could not sleep, water contained sediment, had frequent desire to urinate and often passed blood. Had dreadful headaches, one side almost paralyzed and was dead in left ear for eight years. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cured me and I am very grateful. I want to thank you.'

'The automobile is a great institution.'

'For instance?' 'You can sit up in it as you pass a friend, and crawl under it when a creditor hovers in sight. 'It isn't the loss of the tree,' said George's father. 'You expect to take up statesmanship, do you not?' 'Yes sir.' 'Then I wouldn't go in for detestation. It isn't popular.'

First Passenger—Pardon me, but would you mind lending me your spectacles a moment? Second Passenger—With pleasure, sir. First passenger—Thanks, awfully. And now as you can no longer read your newspaper, would you kindly pass it over to me?

'Since it went dry,' announced the prominent citizen, with pride in his voice, 'our town is unexcelled.' 'How do you make that out?' asked the casual visitor, who had seen better towns. 'Because,' replied the prominent citizen, 'it is now a good town, bar none.'

'Little Edwin, in answer to his question, had been told that God made him. At his bath the next morning his mother saw Edwin examining his skin closely, and looking at his arms and legs, and trying to get a glimpse of his back in the glass. Finally he said, 'Say, mamma, God made a good job not to leave any seams.'

'Oh, Mabel has sent me back my ring. What's the matter?' 'We've—we've had a quarrel.' 'But what about?' 'Why, I heated when she asked if I was sure I'd have loved her just the same if we'd never met.'

I loved a horse of the name with MINARD'S LIVERY. CHRISTOPHER BARNES, Detroit. I loved a horse, badly torn by a pitch fork, with MINARD'S LIVERY. ROW LINDLEY. I loved a horse of a bad swelling with MINARD'S LIVERY. THOMAS FAYNE, Bathurst, N. B.

Two ladies were sitting in close conversation in a hotel parlor. One said to the other: 'Are you married?' The second answered: 'No.' The second then asked the first if she had been more fortunate, and she said, no she too, was on the single list, and added: 'Strange two such estimable women as ourselves should have been overlooked in the matrimonial market.' The second then pointed out a lady who had been widowed four times, two of her husbands having been cremated. 'That woman,' she said, 'is plain and unattractive, and yet she has three husbands.'

Flounced Skirts Again Worn.

The old-time double flounced skirts are again being made use of, says a writer in the Chicago Record Herald. Some of the handsomest lingerie frocks are made of two deep flounces of fine embroidery with narrow lace. The sleeves end at the elbow with triple frills of deep lace. The Dutch neck is invariably seen in dresses of this character; sometimes it is finished with a band of embroidery and a double frill of narrow lace; then again there will be a simple finish eyelet work struck with ribbons. Such picturesque little gowns call for hats of corresponding quaintness. The flower-trimmed poke bonnet straddled coquettishly under the chin makes a pretty young girl look as though she might have stepped from a portrait frame of her own great-grandmother taken in the nineteenth century. Flower-laden hats, too, are tied under the chin with long ribbon streamers, which often have their ends decorated with little nosegays of buds and leaves.

BAD LEG FOR 90 YEARS.

Zam-Buk Works a Complete Cure. Mrs. J. Minnet, of 193 Thorburn Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, has been cured by Zam-Buk of a bad leg, which had defied all remedies for sixty long years. She says:—'When a child of eight, I was bitten on the leg by a dog. A doctor cauterized the place, but it never healed up soundly and I have suffered with an ulcerated leg for over sixty years. This occurred in England, and many English doctors tried in vain to heal the sore. At one time I was a patient at the East Suffolk Hospital for a long period, and for three years I was in and out of hospital. I was continually in pain, and the sore would not heal, but continued to discharge. Twelve months ago I came out here to my daughter, and during the voyage I had to keep my bed. The ship's doctor examined my leg, and gave me a plaster, which I had to take off again; it made the pain so intense. When I reached my daughter's house she sent for a medical man, who said nothing could ever do it any good, and although I tried other American doctors, they did me no good. They said my leg would never be well.'

'One day my youngest daughter brought home a box of Zam-Buk, and induced me to try it. With the first application I seemed to find ease, and further treatment with Zam-Buk did me so much good that I sent for a proper supply. I kept on with the Zam-Buk treatment, and soon saw that the wound was getting better. The discharge was reduced and the pain eased. I persevered with the Zam-Buk, and to cut a long story short, it effected a cure. It is marvellous to think that, after suffering for sixty years, Zam-Buk has been able to make my leg perfectly sound.'

Zam-Buk is a combination of power and purity. Purely herbal, it is superior to all known remedies for chronic sores and wounds, eczema, salt-rheum, ringworm, eruptions, varicose ulcers, cuts, burns, bruises, skin diseases. It also cures piles. All Druggists and Stores sell at 50c a box, or post-free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Three boxes for $1.25.

These are Milking Short-Horns.

Those who are so strenuously maintaining that if a cow is profitable at the stall she will prove of little account as a producer of calves that will make high-class feeders, will find much food for thought in the following: A farmer bought twenty steer calves from the milking Shorthorn herd of Mr. Hobbs in England. The mothers of these calves averaged nearly 1,000 gallons of milk a year. In the herd of their former owners these steers were finished and sold at about 33 months of age. Prices received varied from $97.50 to $133 per head and prices were won by them at local fat-stock shows to the amount of $150 more. The average price received per head was $123 which shows that the calves from the Shorthorn dairy cows made excellent beef from the English standpoint of view, and there is none higher in the world. Shorthorn cows when properly managed and bred can produce profit at the stall and in the feedlot.—Breeders' Gazette.

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least, a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity fail. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by A. V. Rand.

'I'm sure,' said the interviewer, 'the public would be interested to know the secret of your success.' 'Well, young man,' replied the captain of industry, 'the secret of my success has been my ability to keep it a secret.'

A pain prescription is printed upon each box of Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. Ask your Doctor or Druggist if this formula is not complete. Pain means congestion, blood pressure. Head pain, womanly pains, pain anywhere got instant relief from a Pink Pain Tablet.

Two Worlds.

'We don't live in the same world, said a man of his next door neighbor. 'He lives in one that is getting worse all the time; he says so. The rich are getting richer and the poor poorer, and all bonds of union between them are weakening. Fraud and corruption are increasing everywhere. Old fashioned honesty and old-time religion are dead, and as for the young people of this generation, they are all headed toward destruction. My world isn't bound in that direction. It has sin, sorrow and evil enough, that is sure, but it is fighting against them more bravely than ever before. It is wiser, freer, more humane and better world than it was one hundred years ago.'

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her. Toronto, Canada.—'I shall endeavor to describe to you how I felt before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I scarcely knew what it was to be well. I had awful bearing-down pains and usually before my monthly periods I suffered terribly and had to go to bed. I was not able to walk across the floor the pain was so bad. I doctored for a long time, but the doctor's treatment did not do me any good. I gave up all hopes of ever being well again until one day my husband saw the Compound advertised in the paper. He decided to get me a bottle, and I am thankful to him. I had not taken one bottle before I began to feel better, and I kept on taking it until now I am a different woman. It also helped me during maternity and childbirth. I can thoroughly recommend your Vegetable Compound to any woman who is afflicted with female troubles.'—Mrs. J. M. TWEDALE, 138 Nassau St., Toronto, Canada.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, sterility, dried tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, faintness, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

Cured His Rheumatism in Three Weeks. James LeB. Johnstone, a prominent member of the Citizen's Band, of Chatham, writes: "I contracted Rheumatism by exposure five years ago, and was ailing for two months and in great pain all the time. I got Father Morrisey's No. 7 Tablets and took them for about three weeks, when the Rheumatism all left me and I have had no return of the pain since."

Rev. Father Morrisey's "No. 7" Tablets have cured thousands of this terribly painful disease. Rheumatism is generally brought on by exposure, but is really caused by Uric Acid in the blood. This Uric Acid is an irritating poison, formed from the waste matter of the body. The kidneys should remove it, but when they fail it poisons the blood, and settling in the joints, causes Rheumatism. "No. 7" Tablets clear out the clogged-up Kidneys and stimulate them to perform their task of filtering the Uric Acid out of the blood. When this is done the Rheumatism simply and naturally vanishes. "No. 7" Tablets cost 50c. At your dealer's. 28 Father Morrisey Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B.

Alcohol Injurious in Military Practice. A remarkable series of experiments has recently been carried out in the Swedish army to test the effects of alcohol on rifle marksmanship. A battalion of five hundred men was selected, and doses of alcohol, ranging from strong to weak, administered from immediately previous to practice to long intervals previously, were furnished to men under conditions calculated to test the effects of liquor on nerve and muscle. In the result, even a moderate quantity was found to effect injuriously both eye and hand, and the experiments in the whole test are stated to furnish remarkable evidence in favor of total abstinence.

Some Drinkers' Logic. Russel Sage was much opposed to drinking. He would often rail with homely humor on his wisest friends. "Don't drink," he said one day, "to a broker, because they are happy, but to a man of business, because they are not."

Long, Long Ago. Where are the friends that to me were so dear? Long, long ago, long ago. Where are the hopes that my heart used to cheer? Long, long ago, long ago. Friends that I loved in the grave are laid low; Long, long ago, long ago. Hopes that I cherished are fled from me now; I am degraded, for ram was my foe. Long, long ago, long ago. Sadly my wife bowed her beautiful head; Long, long ago, long ago. She was my angel, my love and my guide; Long, long ago, long ago. Vainly to save me from rum she tried; Long, long ago, long ago. Poor, broken hearted, it was well that she died; Long, long ago, long ago. Let me look back on the days of my youth; Long, long ago, long ago. I was no stranger to virtue and truth; Long, long ago, long ago. Oh, for the hopes that were pure as the day; Oh, for the loves, that were purer than they; Oh, for the hours that I squandered away; Long, long ago, long ago.

How He Quit the Business. A man who keeps a restaurant has his two children wait on the table. One of them is a boy about ten years of age. A customer was attracted by the quickness of the little fellow, and said: 'You have a splendid waiter.' 'Yes,' said the proprietor, 'he is my son. I used to sell liquor, but he made me quit it.' 'How?' asked the visitor. 'The father told the story. The boy had come home one day and said: 'Papa, my boys at school had a talk to-day about the business of our parents. Each father told his story. 'What does your father do?' One said, 'My father works.' Another said, 'My father keeps a store.' I said, 'My father sells liquor.' That is the meanest business on earth,' said one of the boys. 'Father, is that so?' 'And the father said, 'Yes, John, it is, and God helping me, I will get out of it.' And so he did.'

America Free and Sober. The liquor traffic in America appalled. What then? There might be less revelry, but there would be more joy and pleasure. There would be fewer workhouses and more workshops, healthier workmen, wealthier wives and happier children. No longer would the little folk, as they often do now, shrink from a tipsy father or a drunken mother. There would be fewer prisons and more schools and libraries. There might be fewer saloons ablaze with gas and electricity, but there would be more private homes made bright by sweet affection and glorified by love. The victory of Temperance will not solve all our problems, but it will help to solve them. It will at least help to solve them with clean hands. The nineteenth century has witnessed the rise of the temperance movement; the twentieth century will see its triumphant progress.—Selected.

'How?' asked the visitor. 'The father told the story. The boy had come home one day and said: 'Papa, my boys at school had a talk to-day about the business of our parents. Each father told his story. 'What does your father do?' One said, 'My father works.' Another said, 'My father keeps a store.' I said, 'My father sells liquor.' That is the meanest business on earth,' said one of the boys. 'Father, is that so?' 'And the father said, 'Yes, John, it is, and God helping me, I will get out of it.' And so he did.'

America Free and Sober. The liquor traffic in America appalled. What then? There might be less revelry, but there would be more joy and pleasure. There would be fewer workhouses and more workshops, healthier workmen, wealthier wives and happier children. No longer would the little folk, as they often do now, shrink from a tipsy father or a drunken mother. There would be fewer prisons and more schools and libraries. There might be fewer saloons ablaze with gas and electricity, but there would be more private homes made bright by sweet affection and glorified by love. The victory of Temperance will not solve all our problems, but it will help to solve them. It will at least help to solve them with clean hands. The nineteenth century has witnessed the rise of the temperance movement; the twentieth century will see its triumphant progress.—Selected.

When the Nerves get out of Tune. You can remember the aches described here and revitalize the wasted nervous system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 'When the nerves become exhausted and you are threatened with nervous prostration, it is in the morning, the first thing you do is to get up. Nerve Food and you will get well. But you must be patient and persistent.'—Mr. Wm. Long, Long Ago. Where are the friends that to me were so dear? Long, long ago, long ago. Where are the hopes that my heart used to cheer? Long, long ago, long ago. Friends that I loved in the grave are laid low; Long, long ago, long ago. Hopes that I cherished are fled from me now; I am degraded, for ram was my foe. Long, long ago, long ago. Sadly my wife bowed her beautiful head; Long, long ago, long ago. She was my angel, my love and my guide; Long, long ago, long ago. Vainly to save me from rum she tried; Long, long ago, long ago. Poor, broken hearted, it was well that she died; Long, long ago, long ago. Let me look back on the days of my youth; Long, long ago, long ago. I was no stranger to virtue and truth; Long, long ago, long ago. Oh, for the hopes that were pure as the day; Oh, for the loves, that were purer than they; Oh, for the hours that I squandered away; Long, long ago, long ago.

How He Quit the Business. A man who keeps a restaurant has his two children wait on the table. One of them is a boy about ten years of age. A customer was attracted by the quickness of the little fellow, and said: 'You have a splendid waiter.' 'Yes,' said the proprietor, 'he is my son. I used to sell liquor, but he made me quit it.' 'How?' asked the visitor. 'The father told the story. The boy had come home one day and said: 'Papa, my boys at school had a talk
