TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Rise up ye Women that are at Ease

RELIGION AND TEMPERANCE.

I protest against that old argument which has been used, now a little too long, by many good people, that as soon as ever a minister of the Gospel who desires to do good in his generation joins this glorious total abstinence cause, he is putting total abstinence in the place of the Gospel. What if they think that we have not yet learned that the Gospel of Jesus, wherever it comes into the human heart, is the only balm for the sins and sorrows of the human race; that if it were received into all hearts, it would cure every ill against which we plead?

But I do say, this, that Total abstinence has been to many a man his first step towards religion.

ONCE DRUNK.

"Just once" is the devil's plea, an enticement which has ruined many a soul.
One hour of passion may blast a life of carefulness. One hour of sleep on the part of a pilot may send the noblest vessel to the bottom of the sea; and one single indulgence in the intoxicating cup may throw the balance of a man's will into the devil's hands; and he, knowing that it is his only chance, may do his worst.

"Never," says Dr. James Burns, "shall I forget the end of one member of the Church of which I was pastor at Perth.
He was a moderate drinker, and, at the solicitation of a traveller with whom he had business, retired one evening to the hotel. For the first time in his life, he became intoxicated, went home, and in the heat of passion, excited by liquor, committed upon his wife injuries of which she died.

"In due time he was tried, the evidence was conclusive, and a sentence of death pronounced. Never will it be effaced from my memory. I attended him in his cell, and was the last to leave him on the scaffold; and there, within sight of the church of which he had been forty years a member, he was hung like a dog!"

How needful for us to be ever pray-fully watchful, lest we fall into temptation! Who can tell what the consequences of a single step in the way of sin may be? Lord, lead me in Thy truth, and teach me: teach me Thy way, and lead me in a plain path!—From Gospel Trumpet.

Inflammation of the Bowels

Of course the safe way is to send for the doctor without delay. But in the country, one is often obliged to wait a long time. Anxiety makes the time seem long anywhere, and simple remedies are often very efficient helps. So while you are waiting, make a paste of lard and salt, fold a wide pillow-case (or that is always at hand) into a large square, spread on the paste and lay the cloth smoothly, paste side down, over the bowels stomach sides, and as far towards the back as you can. When the inflammation is severe the lard will be absorbed in a very short time. Be prepared to change the paste as often as needed. Never mind wasting the salt. There is no particular rule only be sure to mix in enough. All that is not needed will remain on the cloth.

One always has this remedy in the house. So it can be made ready in a moment, and the quicker the better is the order in such cases. I have used it where the patient was in a perfect agony of suffering, and the doctor far away. The result was always more than satisfactory, there being a very perceptible decrease of pain in a wonderful short time. Of course the doctor smiled knowingly when I told him, but then I was quite willing he should smile, for the patient was comfortably sleeping when he arrived.

In another case all other remedies failed, and it was said the patient must die—but she didn't.

His Wedding Invitation.

"At last," said the old colored inhabitant "I done mek' up my min' ter get married ergin, en I wants you, ef you please, suh, ter write the invitations for me."

"Been married before, then?"

"Yes, suh, ef I don't disremember, I has been in wedlock fo' or five times—I ain't sho' how many; en now I gwine ter tackle it for de las' time."

"Well, what do you want to say?"

"Des say, suh, the havin' mek' up my min' ter marry I invites all that know me en what don't know me ter come ter de wedding, admission—25 cents for gentlemen, en 15 cents for ladies; children 10 cents a head. En say, suh, ef you please, dat de wedding supper will be barbecue shot en baked 'possum, at 15 cents a plate all round—come, come, come all—both de great and de small."

It is agreed by the medical authorities that olive oil is one of the best tonics for the nerves. Plenty of olive oil in salad dressings, etc., will aid digestion, while a teaspoonful taken clear once a week is the best medicine for a run-down system, and it will also help clear a muddy complexion.

Courage is the thing that enables us to forget our fears.

COOK'S ANODYNE LINIMENT.

Humorous.

She Took His Advice.

A beautiful youth in Harlem fell in love last summer at the seashore with a girl from Cleveland, but he could never screw up enough courage to propose. This caused him much anguish of soul and made the girl despise him a little for a while. After vacation was over and they were separated, a novel fell into his hands, in which the hero won his bride by making so brusque and offhand a proposal that it startled her into consenting before she had time to think.

The Harlem man thought he would adopt that plan so after much cogitation and the writing of many letters, only to test them up at once, he evolved and sent her this:

"Dear Girl: Let's get engaged." He considered that a masterpiece, until he got her answer, which was:

"Dear Boy: Took your advice last night. Get engaged to Jack. Whom will you get engaged to?"

Then he kicked that novel all around his room.

"Miss Perque," said Mr. E. Z. Marque, "you make good bread."

"I can, Mr. Marque."

"Can you broil a steak?"

"O yes, I always broil papa's steaks."

"Can you manage with economy a small household's affairs?"

"Well, papa and mamma say they save money by allowing me to do all the marketing."

"Miss Perque"—and Mr. E. Z. Marque's voice grew soft, while he hitched his chair a little nearer—"Miss Perque can you do plain sewing?"

"Yes, sir."

"Miss Perque!" exclaimed Mr. E. Z.
Marque, dropping on his knees before her; "Miss Perque, will you be my wife?"

"Indeed, I will not, sir," said Miss Perque, rising to her feet. "This is not an employment agency. You will find one down town, I fear it will be closed for the night before you get there if you do not hurry."

A moment later Mr. E. Z. Marque's footsteps on the cement walk sounded like a thundering man pounding on a building with a sledge hammer.

It was in an open "experience" meeting and Brother Jones arose and said:

"Brethren, I'm the man that put water in the milk."

"That's for the man that drew the water for him," said Brother Brown penitently.

"An' I'm the woman that milked the cow, and knowed all about it," sobbed Sister Jones.

"An' here's the man," said a loud voice from the rear, "that sold 'em the cow an' hain't got paid for it yet!"

Then Brother Jones was sorry he had spoken and was embarrassed to notice as he reached for his hat. "Never did believe in these experience meetin's no-how!"

"How's all the family?"

"Right peart."

"An' how'd your crop turn out?"

"Jesse middlin'."

"An' how's the lame mule doin'?"

"Only 'tallable."

"Bank much 'taters?"

"Right smart."

"An' yer rheumatism—how's it?"

"Well, hit's done left one j'int an' croke into another, but of I kin jest rub it down my left leg I won't keer much, kaze half that leg is wood."

Polite.

A little girl, before going out to a tea party, was coached in conduct by a fond mamma. "You may take cake twice if it is offered you, but if you are asked a third time you must say with all possible politeness, 'No, thank you.'"

On her return home she gave assurance that she had remembered and followed the maternal instructions. "But," she added "the servant brought the cake to me a fourth time."

"And what did you say then?" inquired mamma.

"Oh," was the rejoinder, "then I thought of what papa does sometimes, and I said: 'Take it away and don't bother.'"

After a man has made a fool of himself he realizes what a fun-loving lot of acquaintances he has.

When a man has a hoi he is apt to keep his wife in hot water.
