

FACTS for ADVERTISERS.

The circulation of the DAILY and WEEKLY MERCURY is DOUBLE that of any Paper in Guelph, and larger than that of any paper published west of Toronto. Advertisers, both in this County and at a distance, should bear this fact in mind when they wish to make their business known to the public.

ADVERTISING HUMBUGS.

The Listowel Banner of this week has a timely and sensible article on the advertising humbugs and swindlers who, with scarcely a week's interval, continue to annoy publishers of newspapers. It comes down heavy on that numerous class of swindling advertisers who have their field of operations in the States, and who periodically pester Canadian publishers with shoals of advertisements, for the insertion of which they offer all sorts of articles at fabulous prices, from a needle to an anchor, from a piano to a toothpick. These are invariably valued at double what they are worth, and after offering the publisher a certain amount for inserting the advertisement, he is modestly asked to pay the balance due on the article in cash before he can get possession of it. Sometimes we receive as many of these advertisements at one time as would fill half a page of the Mercury. Were we to comply with the request we would have to pay out hundreds of dollars, while all we would get for our money and our work would be a lot of trumpery articles not worth half the value put on them. Our rule is to consign all such advertisements, with their accompanying circulars and due bills, to the waste paper basket, and we are glad to observe that almost every respectable paper in Canada treats them in the same way.

But there is another class of advertisers who are willing to pay, and who do pay cash for their advertisements, but who want them inserted for the merest trifle—usually about a third of what would be considered a fair price. These parties are generally the makers or vendors of patent medicines or other nostrums, who make their living solely by advertising or puffing, and who somehow have reduced it to such a nice system as generally to get their puffing done for much less than those who are in what we would call legitimate business. The Banner instances Dr. Radway, of Montreal, the man who has made a splendid fortune out of the three R's—who had the impudence to offer $20 for a yearly advertisement of one column, together with fifty-two special notices! There are many similar cases we could mention within our own knowledge, but we have invariably given these gentry a wide berth, or sent them off to some more accommodating customer. Radway has tried us several times with similar offers, but we took no notice of them. There are other parties outside the medicine business who imagine because they get their advertisements inserted in some third-rate backwoods paper for a mere song, that all the other papers in Canada should do likewise. Only the other day we received a proposal from the head of a Commercial College in Ontario, to insert an advertisement for a year, which would occupy half a column of the Weekly Mercury, and a special notice which would require a third of a column, and all for $20, payable in script, which we might be able to sell in three years at twenty-five per cent discount! As an inducement to accept these terms we are often told that other papers do so. Our answer is, that we don't care a straw what other papers do—our circulation warrants us in charging the regular rates, which are fair and equitable, and if these do not suit, then they can go somewhere else. Besides, we hold it to be wrong and unjust to charge local advertisers these rates, and make a reduction on them to parties at a distance who may wish to use our columns for the purpose of selling their wares.

We would fain hope that publishers are now beginning to be conscious of the fact that this class of advertisers have hitherto been reaping all the advantage, while they have been doing the work for much less than it was worth, and for much less than they could have obtained had they only stood on their rights. We should like to see every newspaper in the country take the matter up in the same style as the Banner, and manifest the same manly, independent spirit in dealing with Dr. Radway and all others in the same line of business. Its concluding paragraph contains some wholesome truths, which our brethren of the press will profit by if they would carefully consider and act up to them. It says:—"We could never see the propriety of newspaper publishers inserting quack medicine advertisements at a lower rate than is charged to their local patrons. Why should a merchant be charged a certain price for a column or half-column advertisement, and the same amount of space given to a foreign humbug for a less sum? We know that hundreds of country news-comprehend the policy that allows them to degrade and injure their own business in such a manner. If our country contemporaries generally would make up their mind to change their policy and insist upon a full rate for foreign advertisements, we feel convinced they would still get just as much of that sort of patronage as they desired."

The Railway Contest in Normandy.

The Mount Forest Examiner of this week refers to the spirited canvass which has been going on in Normandy between the Hamilton and Guelph Railway delegation on one side, and the Toronto narrow gauge men on the other. The policy of the broad gauge men, it says, was to procure the withdrawal of the published by-law in favor of the narrow gauge, and the substitution of one for each road, to be voted upon simultaneously, in which event the draft of their by-law was to embrace the condition of a road from Mount Forest or Harriston via Ayton and Neustadt. The Council, however, at its meeting on Monday, found, on taking legal opinion, that two by-laws cannot be admitted simultaneously, and rejected the application. Failing this, the broad gauge men went in to fight the narrow gauge by-law, and so effectually did they conduct the contest that the Normandy Council held another meeting on Wednesday, when they agreed to withdraw the narrow gauge by-law. This was done as announced in our telegraph dispatch received yesterday from Mount Forest. The Examiner says it is now in contemplation to submit another by-law offering a bonus to the first railway to be built through the township by way of Mount Forest. The Toronto delegation consists of, Messrs. T. G. Worts, T. C. Chisholm, Mayor Smith, Aldermen Boxall and Bennett, Messrs. G. Laidlaw, W. S. Taylor, J. G. Moyle, N. Barnhart, of Toronto, and others.
