HOW IT HAPPENED. A grim tragedy was enacted at Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon. starting at 4 o'clock, and culminating about two hours later. The home team were slaughtered by a youthful twirler named Michael Friske, who has a way of pitching balls that the majority of the London "heavy hitters" cannot smite. To witness Jo-Jo Keenan strike out twice was hard on the rooters. Both Ward and Keenan seemed to be afraid of the umpire, who they consider treated them badly in the matter of strikes. He certainly appeared to be away "off color." Then Mr. Meara helped the Blackbirds on to victory at every opportunity. A number of balls went into his pasture, and he made vain attempts to get after them. His return of the ball was painfully slow, and made the enthusiasts say things not altogether complimentary of Mr. Meara as a ball player. One fan suggested that Keenan and Meara had sold the game-a cruel thing to say. Hagerman was in the box for London, and was effective until the eighth and ninth innings, when he was pounded pretty heavily. Carey played the star game of the season, and if luck had favored the team, with having the bases full when he stepped up to bat, the score would have been a decidedly different one. Out of four tims at bat he made three nice hits, for a total of ten bases—a home run and two three-baggers. This is indeed a record for batting in one game by an individual player. Mr. Carey's stock has taken a huge jump with the fans.

The visitors scored their first run in the second inning. McKevitt drew a pass, stole second, and came in on Dean's drive to right field. The home team evened up matters in the fifth, thanks to Carey, who drove the ball out to the right field fence for a homer. Hamilton took the lead again in the Elton went to first on balls, and to third on Congalton's hit to left field, which Meara allowed to be converted into a two-bagger, Marr Phillips fan-ned; McKevitt hit safe and gored Elton. McKevitt kept right on going to make second, but Congalton stayed there, and queered him. The fans en-joyed this immensely. Three more runs were scored by the Blackbirds in the eighth. Elton started the fireworks by a two-bagger to left field, and Congalton followed with a long drive to right for three bases, scoring Elton. Phillips hit to center for two bases, scoring Congalton. McKevitt and Bradford were disposed of, and Dean scored Phillips by a safe hit to third. In the home team's half of this inning they succeeded in piling up two more runs Mohler got a base on balls, Smink singled, and Laroque made a nice drive between right and center, scoring Mohler and Smink. Keenan ended the scoring by fanning. In the ninth Friske hit safe for three bases, and came home on Hagerty's single. Congalton sent a long drive to left field, and reached third scoring Hagerty. Congalton stole second, and crossed the plate on MceKvitt's single. Carey made a three-bagger in Lonion's half of this inning, but died on third Score: LONDON
