Barlow Cumberland reports that the new "Olty of Paris" of the Inman line, whose remarkable trip from Glasgow to Liverpool at the rate of 21 knots per hour created an escitement in *hipping circles, arrived at New York on Wednesday, 6 days 19 hours from Queenstown. A splendid first trip. A Poemlet of Spring.

In the spring the postlet
Tunes his little lyre,
Opes his little liplets,
Touched with sacred fire. In the spring the puller Little eggs doth lay, And the little chickles

Peeplete all the day, In the spring the manles Gambles on the board, While the lusty calflet Gambles on the sward.

In the spring the treelet
Dons its suit of green,
While the dainty damelet
Follows suit, I weep.
