A GIRL PILOT.

gate for Money.

Job.

If her present plans do not miscarry, Miss Elizabeth Polhemus, a 20-year-old girl of San Diego, Cal., will be a certified pilot in about six months. Her father now holds a responsible harbor position at San Diego. Some time ago Mi. Polhemus cast about for means to earn her own living.

Having on numerious occasions acted as pilot on incoming vessels—of course under the supervision of certified navigators—she determined to study for examination. Aided by her father she has made rapid progress, and for six months it has not been necessary to change one of her orders when bringing a ship into port. She will be examined by the State Board of Pilot Cormissioners in a few months and confidently expects to pass. The fees for dently expects to pass. The fees for bringing a vessel into San Diego are $5 per foot on the draught of the vessel and 4 cents per ton. A 3000 ton vessel drawing twenty feet of water would ne $2900.

COVERS FOR A COMFORT.

Utilize Old Cotton Clothes Tha

Are Past Wearing. When it comes to cotton goods, most bag and then go and buy material to cover comforts. Take your old print and gingham dresses and rip them carefully apart—children's frocks, too—and then have everything washed and starched. See that they are all ironed and folded smoothly and will not be in muss when you get ready to work at forces and tear them in strips of say four to six inches wide. Sew pieces of like kind together evenly till you have them the length of a comfort. Then sew the strips together in alternating stripes, sew on the meahing and the sex of the sex tripes, sew on the machine and before you know it you have covers for a comfort. The better part of the pillow slips and sheets will answer nicely to go in these covers, or if you like them darker there are cotton dyes that are easily used. It is such an economica, way to use every scrap of old wrapper and dress skirts. The thicker gingham skirts can often be best utilized in making kirchen aprops. ing kitchen aprons.

Proper Proportions. Women who are correctly proportioned and neither too fat nor too lean are few in number. It may not be amiss to few in number. It may not be amiss to give some idea of the correct proportion of the features and the body. The head should be one-seventh of the body. The nose, forehead and chin of equal length. The distance between the eyes, the length of the eye. The distance from the inner angle of the eye to the dividing line of the lips should measure from two and one-quarter to two and one-half inches.

A woman of five feet should weigh 110 pounds.

A woman of five feet one inch should weigh 115 pounds.

A woman of five feet two inches should weigh 120 pounds.

A woman of five feet three inches should weigh 127 pounds.

A woman of five feet four inches should weigh 134 pounds.

A woman of five feet five inches should weigh 142 pounds.

A woman of five feet six inches should weigh 146 pounds.

A woman of five feet seven inches should weigh 152 pounds.

A woman of five feet eight inches should weigh 160 pounds.

A Badge of Slavery.

The wedding ring was the subject of an excited debate in a London drawing room, one side contending that it was a badge of slavery. She who so regards it may avoid the slavish badge by itipulating that there shall be no ring in the ceremony. It is to be hoped that no woman will have the presumption to intimate the possibility of slavery without the badge.

ish, there was no increase in the speculation; that was the real trouble with the market. Primary receipts, were less than $60,000. Clearances over $00,000 bushels. New York led in the selling. presumably realizing on the wheat yes, terday. Corn easier; that lost wheat one support. The cash situation at the sead board seems to have improved of late, but lack of speculation and big stocks here prevent more than fractional rallies. The corn situation is not very different from the wheat. There was some ferent from the wheat. There was some export business reported from the seaboard. Western receipts were light. The local inspection was only 71 cars, but New York, which led the buying Tuesday, was the seller to-day. Receipts of hogs fell short of the estimate and they were quoted 5c to 10c higher. This caused an active market in product early at higher prices, but the selling on the advance was good, and the public showed but little interest. The market weakened when the grain markets sold off and all the advance was lost, the closing being weak at but little better than ing being weak at but little better than yesterday's prices. The tendency of the market is still towards a lower level.
