CAUGHNAWAGA SCHOOL EXAMINA-TIONS.

WHAT RELIGION HAS DONE FOR THE FIERCEST OF INDIAN TRIBES.

The yearly examination of the Caughnawaga Indians took place on the 8th of July. The pupils were remarkably clean and intelligent, perficies by the use of three tabular numbers and a marvellous improvement was noticed as having taken place within the past few years. Among those present to witness the examination were the Rev. N. V. Burtin, missionary at Sault St. Louis; Rev. Father St. Jean, O. M. I., Missionary of the Seven Islands; Mrs. R. H. Macdonald, widow of the late R. Macdonald, Esq., of Glengary, Ont.; Miss E. Williams, Miss DeBlois; E. Glendinneng, Esq.; Grand Chief Williams; Joseph Barnes, Esq.; James Bruce, Esq.; Richard Danay, Esq.; Francis Macdonald, Esq.; Francis Dallibout, Esq.; Mrs. Joseph Williams; Mrs. J. Lauronde, and N. Deparois, Esq. At the close of the examination, John

Francois, a little fellow of about eleven summers, advanced towards the Very Rev. Father Burtin, and, making a very polite bow, read the following address in a clear and distinct

Reverend and Respected Father Burtin:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN :- As time passes by there comes an hour, a day, which is a landmark in our lives, that may hereafter bid us stop and cast a glance upon the time gone by. How pleasing when such an hour is marked in the mind, when, in the retrospect, we but awake again the enthusiasm of an earlier day in which so many youthful hearts beat responsive to our own. For such an epoch, one ever to be remembered in the even and happy current of our young lives, the pupils of the Indian school would now offer to you, Reverend and respected pastor, their grateful thanks Your esteemed presence has made a festival within our walls. Often, in more brilliant scenes, have you, Reverend Sir, received the homage of more eloquent and learned lips. When among the talented and the great you have listened to more exalted language than you are listening to now, but we do not fear that you will refuse to smile upon this, and the simple words in which we are taught to speak our heartfelt welcome.

You, Rev. Father, seem not to forget to extend to us your fatherly kindness in rewarding us for the progress which we, from day to day and year to year, make. And you, Grand Chief Joseph Williams, we have to thank you and E. A. Meredith, Esq., Deputy Minister of the Interior at Ottawa, for your generosity in procuring rewards and prizes for the pupils of the Iroquois school who have attended regularly during the past year. May God reward each of you for your generous undertaking. Rev. and respected sir, we would impress upon the minds of our poor parents their most important duty, a duty before God and society, to secure to their children a good education and religious training, for, next to the blessings of redemption and the happiness consequent upon it, there is no gift bestowed by God upon man equal to a good religious education.

Signed by Napoleon G. Raise, Peter Macdonald. Paul Aronhentha, Sawatis Kanawato, J. P. Murray, Charlotte Barnes, Ennis Ja-cobe, Amiline S. Martin, Joseph Stacey, John Francois, Peter Stacey, Oliver Vennet, Clestie Dalliboue, Louis Jacques Resue, Israel Raise, John Macdonald, Warie-Sarot, Daniel Anguis, Saksarie Jacobe, John Patton, Peter Danay, Thomas Rabit.

After the distribution of prizes, the Rev. Father St. Jean, missionary of the Seven Islands, delivered the following address to the children and parents :-My Dear Children,-It is pleasing to see that the work of your good schoolmaster has not been cast aside. The work of this day is something that I never expected to see in this school. Your reading and writing are peret · your man-tracing is wonderful · narsing in the English grammar, together with mental and practical arithmetic, cannot be surpassed; you have paid attention to the instructions of your teachers, and the results are that you have been well paid. I noticed, in the distribution of prizes by your excellent schoolmaster, that most of them were given for good attendance and cleanlieess. Now, my dear children, these are two very important points. The speaker then went into details on the duties of parents towards their childrex, especially sending them to school. The following is a copy of a certificate given by a good old Protestant gentleman who accidentally happened to be present: "It affords me much satisfaction to state that the public examination of your school held this day evinced your assiduity in the discharge of your duties. I was much surprised with the progress your scholars have made during I heartily recognize the great progress made by your pupils in each particular branch. I can assure you that 1 was very much sur-your stay amongst the Iroquois. Dealing as you are with persons alien to your language, prised at their writing, reading and cleanliness. Nothing but unwearied exertion could have accomplished your work."

Here is still another :-

EDWARD GLENDINNENG, Caughnawaga, July 8, 1878.

It affords me much pleasure to state that I consider your success in the Indian school at Caughnawaga a triumph In January, 1870, I was present at your school a short time after you had opened, and on examining the children, it would seem that even a schoolmaster had never been in Caughnawaga. It must be satisfactory to the parents to see the progress which your pupils have made. Nothing but great exertions could have brought on the children so admirably, when I consider that the chil dren could not speak English or even French. D. J. MACDONALD.

QUEBEC CORRESPONDENCE.

An examination was recently held at that select commercial and scientific institution, Arsenal street, under the direction of that well known commercial teacher and mathematician, Charles O'Reilley, presided overand conducted by the eminently distinguished founder, Revd. Father Henning, Superior of St. Patrick's, under whose liberal patronage this establishment exists.

Seldom or ever has it been my fortune to assist at so splendid an exhibition in commercial arithmetic as that displayed by the two lowest classes. The most notable for their profound knowledge of all the sums prowere Masters Thomas Byrns, John Byrns, Patrick O'Rourke and Thomas Miles, whose perfect knowledge of those rules were not like school boys, but teachers demonstrating philosophically to a junior class.

The manner in which the 3rd class also exhibited their perfect knowledge of the most complicated and abstruce sums in proportion, of vulgar and decimal fractions, astonished and delighted the Rev. founder. The notables of this class were Master John Ryan, William Girard, Joseph Lamarre, Joseph Campbell, Francis Haines and Ernest Vezina. The same class made a most extraordinary exhibit | peared, and is supposed to have gone to the on scientific subjects. The Rev. Father in States, taking with him, among other articles, tical problems. Not one mistake was made by those mathematical aspirants. Most notable among this group were Masters Ryan and Girard, who were the shining stars in solving difficult problems, many different ways; some as many as four different methods.

It is worthy of remark that those two can solve all the problems in mensuration of su-

Everything done at this examination was philosophically demonstrated, giving a reason for everything done throughout the whole. The extraordinary proficiency made in this institution for the last scholastic year is really astonishing.

A beautiful address to the Rev. founder was read by Master Haines in clear and pleasing tones, after which the Rev. Father Henning made a few remarks in his own peculiar and happy style, which will not be readily forgotten by those who had the good fortune to be present on the occasion. The teacher, Mr. O'Reilly, returned thanks to the Rev. Father in an appropriate and pleasing manner. The Rev. Father then declared vacation until the first week of September next, after which he gave his benediction to all present. Thus closed one of the most brilliant examinations for the advancement of knowledge that ever I had the good fortune to attend.

THE QUEBEC SHIP LABORERS' BEN-EVOLENT SOCIETY.

> THE ANNUAL PROCESSION. [From our Special Correspondent]

QUEBEC, July 24. The day broke bright and clear, a happy change on the last few days, with thick, fleecy clouds intervening between the sun's scorching rays and the susceptible humanity who marched in the glare. The rain of the last few days converted our otherwise dusty streets into thick, slimy accumulations of mud. About 10 o'clock the different sections of the Society assembled at their starting point-the Christian Brothers' school in Champlain street—and at about 10:15 they started in the following order:-First came the Irish and Canadian flags, carried by men who walked in front of No. 1 Section of the Society, and then came the magnificent silk banner of the Society, representing the loading of a ship with timber, &c., and containing the inscription-" We support our infirm; we bury our dead.9 Then came the Emerald Independent Brass Band, the most creditable and justly popular musical organization of the city, followed by the section headed by the chief officers of the Association—J. Kelly, President; P. Mullins, Vice-President : James Quinn, Treasurer : J. Mahony, Secretary. This section of the Society, which consists of Irishmen, chiefly from Champlain and Montcalm Wards, was so numerous, and covered so much ground, that a second band had to be engaged to walk about the middle of the section. This band was that of the St. Patrick's Total Abstinence Society, which performed its duties very creditably. Many Union and other flags were carried in this section. The members elicited the encomiums of the onlookers for their muscular, well-built, respectable and orderly appearance. Section No. 2 followed, consisting of the New Liverpool contingent, headed by its officers and the 8th Battalion Band, which played only as regulars can. The New Liverpool section made a good turn-out in point of numbers, and a very pleasing appearance. The handsome banner of the section, with embossed figures thereon, and several flags, were carried by the men.

The Levis Section (No. 3) was headed by the famed City Band of Montreal, whose success at the late band competition has stamped them the best corps de musique in the Dominion. The bandsmen presented a fine appearance with their bright, gay uniforms and handsome brass instruments; they attracted great attention, this being the first opporsilver strains since the late competition, for which the city is indebted to the enterprise of the S. L. B. S. The beautiful embossed silk banner which was carried at the head of this section was inscribed in French with mottoes of the language. The fourth section of the Society hails from Gilmour's Cove. It was preceded in the pro-cession by the musical band of St. Joseph de Levis, who intend, if the criticism passed upon their this day's doings come from a good musical source, competing, and successfully, at a future trial. This section, like the others, had a very rich silk banner and flags carried by the members. The officers of this section were dressed off with regalia; they were, therefore, very conspicuous.

The St. Sauveur Section (No. 5) came next, bringing up the rear. It was headed by its officers and the Beauport Band, who won laurels at the contest. They did not belie the award in their work of to-day. The men of this section turned out in large numbers, and bore a good supply of bunting.

The above was the order of the procession. They took twenty minutes to pass a given point; it was considered the grandest effort of the kind ever put forth in Quebec. They marched through the programmed streets, saluting as they went the different officers of the association, the Lieut.-Governor, and the Mayor, and broke up on the Champlain market, where they dispersed and went to their homes. Rock Valley and the Swamp were profusely decorated with bunting.

CITY ITEMS.

Immigration .- Seventy-four Mennonites arrived at the Tanneries this morning. They arrived at Quebec per the S. S. "Borassia." After having breakfasted at the Express Hotel, they started for Manitoba.

THE GENERAL ELECTIONS.—It is now said that the General Elections will not be held till October next, instead of September, as was at first supposed. The former supposition is all the more likely, as those who should be in the confidence of the Government are not at present making any strenuous exertions. The campaign will probably commence in the middle of August.

INSPECTION .- The St. Jean Baptiste Company were inspected last Saturday on the Champ de Mars. As an individual company, they have reason to be proud of themselves, both as regards physique and knowledge of drill. As a whole, we may safely say that there is not another company of any other battalion in the city which can match them in these respects. ABSCONDED .- Mr. G. H. Holland, director of the 6th Fusilier band, has been victimized by man named W. H. Adams, formerly of the 17th Regiment, in the sum of about $400. Mr. Holland taking pity on the destitute condition of the man, had him employed as caretaker of the band room, and procured him a position in the band. Subsequently various articles were missing, but from the apparently straightforward manner of Adams, he was never suspected. A fortnight ago he suddenly disapquestion kept those six boys two-and-a-half two musical instruments, valued at $150, and hours solving and demonstrating mathema- some military clothing.

Messrs. Todd and Leith, the young men re ported as having been lost in the yacht Sadie," have arrived all safe at Niagara. The water along the river front in Quebec is so low that it is dangerous for the shipping to lie alongside. The unemployed are beginning to start from Quebec, and are taking up land in the St. John district.

High masses are being said by the Roman Catholic clergy, in the vicinity of Quebec, for the banishment of the potato bug. The proposal to make the rate of taxation in Toronto 26 mills on the dollar for the curtion, the gold medal over all competitors for the superiority of their pencils. Work has been proceeding rapidly on the Pembina branch for the past ten days. Messrs. Upper and Murphy intend pushing the work along rapidly. Since the robbery of the Receiver-General's Office at Toronto, changes have been made in the Post Office building to prevent any more such daring acts. The Island of Manitoulin, Lake Huron, is fast being settled. Settlers are pouring in faster than the Government Surveyor can locate the allotments.

The grain grops are so much heavier in Grimsby than expected, that enough hands cannot be got to harvest them. Farmers are offering from $2 to $2.50 per day for hands and cannot get them.

Hon. Mr. Laurier, on his arrival in Quebec, was waited upon by a deputation from his con-stituency of Quebec East, and requested again to allow himself to be nominated for that division. The hon, gentleman consented to their wishes.

The Toronto Orange Sentinel, of July 25th, has an attack on the volunteers, and says they are subjected to the sneers of Catholic journals. Reference is made to St. Jean Baptiste Infantry Company, which, it says, has tarnished Her Majesty's uniform by assisting recently in an idolatrous Romish display, the occasion being the Fete Dieu procession in Montreal. It asks if volunteer corps should be composed of such scarecrows as Beaudry's lambs, the confreres of men who raided our frontiers in 1866, or those who parade our streets on the 17th of March, carrying seditious

> FEAST OF OUR LADY OF MOUNT CAR-MEL'AT NIAGARA FALLS.

It is not generally known to the Catholics that there is a monastery of the Carmelite Fathers situated on the banks of the Niagara Falls. Some few years back the zealous and other shoulders. Their occupation will be to open a house of retreat for clergy and laymen at the Falls, and also to give missions whenever invited by the Bishops Father Pius, the learned Superior, is just after finishing a retreat of the clergy of the Archdiocese of Toronto. He also has given missions in a good many of the churches, both of the city and country, and also in Hamilton. These missions were attended with very great success. The festival of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel was chosen to give minor orders to one of the students, two made their first vows, and two others joined the novitiate, making with those formerly received ten of a com munity. The scene on the morning of the sixteenth was touching and sublime. The procession was formed at the monastery, composed of the students and fathers, followed by the Rev. Dean Mulligan, St. Catherines; Rev. Father Kiernan, assistant; Rev. Father Sullivan, Thorold; Rev. Father Harold, assistant; Rev. Father Kilcullen, Port Colborne Rev. Father Gallagher, Niagara; the Archbishop of Toronto, with his attendants, and acolytes closed the imposing cortege. On one side as it slowly moved on to the Church, were the rapids, above the mighty Falls splashing into foam, formed a grand symphony to the Gregorian chant of the Benedictus. On the other side were crowds of fervent people that came from all parts of the country in order to assist at the sacred ceremonies of the day

Habits were placed upon the altar to be blessed, and the young men stood in fervid expectation, to be clothed in the livery of the great Mother of God. The ceremonies now are most impressive-the young men, kneeling at the foot of the altar, remove their outward worldly dress, and having solemnly promised to renounce the world with all its vanities and amusements, and to follow Christ, under the protection of His blessed Mother, and to labor all their lives for their own sanctification and the salvation of others, received the habit from the Very Reverend Prior, Father Pius, assisted by Father Angelus master of novices. Then two other young men, after a year's novitiate, in which they were exercised in piety and learning and in the observance of the strict vows of poverty, chastity and obedience, pronounced their adherence to those vows with a great deal of fervor and pathos. Then the four young men prostrated themselves in humble prayer, adoration and sacrifice. They rose up as soldiers of Christ, soldiers of the cross, in humility and self-denial. Subsequently, His Grace the Archbishop assumed his Pontifical vestmonts, and gave one of the seniors first the tonsure, and afterwards the four minor Catalogue.

You march onward under the command of a renowned captain, the Vicar of Christ (the Pope), as head of the Church on earth, guided by your own ecclesiastical superior; and by perseverance in this course, which you have on this day undertaken to pursue, it is not a large pension or an earthly crown you will receive, but a diadem of immortal glory for ever in Paradise, and a dwelling in palaces not built by human hands, but in those of never-ending bliss,

ISGRACEFUL.

Some American Ladies told us yesterday that they had been recommended to a certain Dry-Goods store by the employees of a leading Hotel, and were given to understand said store was about the only decent Dry-Goods establishment in Montreal. The Ladles visited the place and decided that if there was not a better store, or a store where they sold cheaper, in the city, they would not purchase here, but try some other place in Canada. Had these Ladies not have called in our store, "which they did just by chance," their purchases would probably have been made in Toronto, as they were going West.
