

Sherbrooke street, at 2 o'clock, with military honours. The cortège was preceded by a firing party of 100 men of the Grand Trunk Foot Artillery, under Major Wallis, after which came the band playing the Dead March and other funeral airs ; the body in a hearse was attended by six pall-bearers, Captains Symmington, Wilson, Taylor, Doran, Wainwright and Huddell, the chief mourners being the father, Mr. C. J. Brydges, with the relatives and friends of the family. The Grand Trunk Rifles, Artillery and Engineers, followed ; the whole being under command of Lieut.-Col. Bailey. Then came the High School Cadets, officers of the Grand Trunk Brigade, officers of the Volunteers ; Col. Dyde, Commandant ; Lieut.-Col. Osborne Smith, A.A.G. ; Lieut.-Col. G. Smith, A.A.G., V.M. ; Lieut.-Col. David, A.G.C. ; Lieut.-Col. Macpherson, D.A.A.G. ; Lieut.-Col. Bacon, Brigade Major ; Lieut.-Gen. Sir Charles Wyndham, K.C.B., Commander of the Forces and Staff ; and Major-Gen. Russell and Staff ; Faculty of Arts and Students of McGill University ; His Worship the Mayor and members of the Corporation, with many of the employees of the Grand Trunk Railway, and others.

The procession, which was a very long one, proceeded along Sherbrooke, down St. Lawrence Main, St. Catherine and St. Denis streets, to Trinity Church. The body on entering the Church was met by the Rev. Canons Bancroft and Balch, and the Revds. Messrs. Dumoulin and J. B. Curran, who preceded it up the centre aisle, reading the burial service ; the "Dead March in Saul" being played with much solemnity on the organ. The pulpit and reading desk were in mourning. The 39th and 90th Psalms were then read by the Rev. Mr. Dumoulin, and 1 Cor., 15 chap., by the Rev. Canon Balch.

A funeral anthem "Rest, Spirit Rest" was then sung by the choir, Miss Jones rendering the solo effectively and Mrs. Jones presiding at the organ.
