

TORONTO TO FORM RECRUITING LEAGUE

Prominent Citizens Will Join in Crusade for Reinforcements.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

Resolutions Passed at Great Rally Held in Massey Hall.

The following resolution was unanimously carried at the meeting of the recruiting meeting in Massey Hall last evening:

"That this meeting approves of the formation of a recruiting league, to be designated the Toronto Recruiting League, to stimulate recruiting in Toronto and the immediate surrounding district until the termination of the war and to render every possible aid to the military authorities in all means affecting recruits and the welfare of soldiers. That the persons named at the end of this resolution be appointed a committee to associate with themselves others, not exceeding 100, and serve as a permanent executive of the league. That this meeting urges employers to assist in the work of recruiting by posting recruiting notices in prominent places and promising to retain positions for returned soldiers and by intimating that after the war positions, so far as practicable, will be filled by returned soldiers."

The mayor and board of control, J. W. Woods, C. A. Masten, Harry Rye, Thos. Stevenson, H. C. Hocken, T. A. Warburton, W. C. Crawford, P. Brown, A. H. Campbell, W. S. Dinick, W. E. J. Hume, E. H. A woman's auxiliary of the league was proposed and the following are named as members with power to add to their number: Hon. president, Lady Hendrie; convenor, Mrs. Mackenzie Alexander; Mrs. W. H. INTERNED SEAFARERS' PAY LIVE QUESTION

Case Now Before British Court is Regarded as Test One.

In the recent test case of Mrs. Beal, the wife of an interned merchant of Montreal, who is a member of the Imperial Merchant Service Guild, F. W. 2 Hordlock, owner of the steamer Corralle Horlock, which was seized by the Germans on the outbreak of the war, Justice Rowlatt decided in favor of the claimant in respect to her being entitled to pay for the loss of her husband's ship. The shipowners have now decided to appeal against this judgment, and the Imperial Merchant Service Guild have, therefore, instructed their solicitors to act on behalf of Mrs. Beal, with a view to upholding the judgment of Justice Rowlatt.

This case is one of immense importance and the ultimate decision will be a landmark in the history of interned seafarers. Although it is one dealing with the position of an interned merchant officer, nevertheless it will govern that of all interned seafarers in Germany.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve-building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which is present or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisulphate of magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach, but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than possibly could be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisulphate of magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisulphate of magnesia directed above and see if I'm not right."

HARBOR BOARD MAY FINISH CONTRACT

Trouble Arising in Connection With Improvements Far Reaching.

REPORTS UNDER STUDY

Hon. Robert Rogers Will Receive Full Data on Return From Manitoba.

Special to The Toronto World.
OTTAWA, July 20.—It is pretty well understood here that the trouble which has developed in connection with the contracts for the new Toronto harbor is far reaching, and that the action of the department of public works suspending operations pending investigation, was decided on after careful consideration. The harbor board of Toronto is composed of a number of able men, who are giving close attention to the work, and they and their engineers have for some time been dissatisfied with the way in which the contract was being filled by the sub-contractors and the Canadian Stewart Construction Co. over them, and that on the information thus supplied, Hon. Robert Rogers felt justified in the course he has taken. In the meantime Hon. Mr. Rogers has left for Winnipeg to take part in the elections now being held in Manitoba, whether anything of a definite character will develop on his return, when full reports are to be laid before him, is not at this moment known. One report here is that the harbor commission at Toronto are willing to take the whole of the work over themselves and carry it out as they think it ought to be carried out.

outstanding points. Tonight the delegates were visiting their districts canvassing the sentiment there preparatory to tomorrow's vote.

Lloyd George Mediator.
If tomorrow's meeting should bring a settlement of the strike the thanks of the country will go chiefly to David Lloyd George, the munitions minister. For it was his appeal here Monday night that paved the way for breaking the deadlock between the miners and mine owners. The chief cause of the miners' unrest was that they considered the excessive profits the mine owners were making in the sale of their coal at war prices—profits in which they were not sharing. They also deeply resented enforced arbitration as was authorized by the application of the Munitions Act to coal miners. This is now a law which is made of its future scope in the proposed settlement.

To Work Immediately.
If the vote tomorrow is favorable to ending the strike 200,000 men will return to work immediately and agree to abide by the terms of the settlement in all sections of the coal field. The hopeful turn of affairs has been received with a sigh of relief all over Great Britain, for the humiliation of the public that a strike should have taken place at such a time was keen. This humiliation was reflected in all sections of the press, and there was growing talk of the government taking over the mines.

Sokal they or their Austrian allies extended their forces slightly on the right bank of the Danube river.

Success on Dniester.
The Russians also gained another success on the Dniester River yesterday, capturing 500 prisoners and five machine guns.

Northwest of Warsaw on the Vistula front columns of the enemy approached within artillery fire of the fortress of Novo Georgievsk, from the walls of which siege artillery opened fire on the heads of these columns.

Advancing Upon Riga.
The Russian war office also reports that the advance of the enemy towards Riga was continued on Monday, when the front line advanced to the walls of which siege artillery opened fire on the heads of these columns.

Partial attacks were made against some of the Russian trenches held by a regiment north-east of Suwalki, in an engagement which has been going on since Wednesday last. The Germans here brought up enormous batteries and recaptured some trenches from the Russians, which they had lost on Sunday.

Other centres of activity in the large meeting were the 10th Regiment's recruiting street car in front of Massey Hall, where over 90 men were enlisted and taken to the doctor. Speeches were made to the crowds from the car by ex-Mayor Hocken, ex-Controller McCarthy, Lieut. J. Clarke of the 10th and other officers. The Union Station was crowded with enthusiasts who gathered around the band in the station, and the recruiting stations were walking to and fro taking the names of likely recruits. Their efforts were well rewarded.

Men from every regiment paraded the streets and brought men into the various recruiting stations, where they signed up.

BRITISH AVIATORS DESTROYED TAUBES

Three Hostile Aircraft Reported Disposed of Off Eastern Coast.

SPECTACULAR FIGHT

Thousands Viewed Aerial Combat Near Mouth of Thames.

LONDON, July 20.—Three big German Taubes were destroyed in a battle in the air with 12 fast British aeroplanes off the mouth of the Thames the other day, according to circumstantial stories circulated here. The German biplanes are reported to have crossed the North Sea, intending to raid the English coast. Approaching shore they manoeuvred in wide circles, giving observers time to telegraph warnings to English aviators, who rushed to the scene by twos and threes and immediately gave battle.

Exciting Chase.
The Germans tilted upward to a great height, hotly pursued. Thousands of feet below watchers gathered on the shore, saw the machines darting back and forth, silhouetted in the sunlight, heard the faint sputter of motor exhausts, and the crack of rifles and pistols. Four British planes first came in contact with the Germans, and as others joined in the battle the Germans were cut off in their attempt to retreat seawards. First the foremost Taube was seen to fall. Then the second shot downward in a mass of flames, plunging beneath the waves. The third Taube was reported to have been lost.

The following day naval boats found one of the German planes floating on the water, its occupants strapped to their seats with bullet holes thru their heads. The third Taube is reported to have been lost.

Col. Currie Cheered.
Col. John Currie cheered to the echo when he was called on. The colonel said he took the applause more for the boys at the front than for himself. He brought a message from the boys at the front, in which they said they were glad to hear that the young men of Canada were fighting for their country.

would come when they would be afraid to show their faces on the streets of Toronto. It is for the young men to say whether the British race is what it was 100 years ago. If the young men of Toronto would not enlist, the speaker said, he would offer himself to go and do his share. The opportunity is now open, which has never before existed, or never will exist again.

He advised the mothers not to deter their sons, who were fighting for the protection of womanhood and liberty against those who have overrun Belgium. His parting remarks to the young men were to make that sacrifice which is necessary, and if they sustained a loss, they would be consoled by the fact that they gave their life for the preservation of rightness, womanhood and the empire.

Dr. James L. Hughes, who was glad to hear a large number of young men had enlisted, he hoped God would bless them. Some people say who are fighting for England, it is not England's war it is our war. It is going to unify the empire, he said.

Col. Currie's Address.
Col. Currie said Toronto soldiers have shed blood and fame on the name of Canada. The measure of the enemy has been taken, also it has required months to do so.

During the colonel's address the 12th York Rangers, dressed with torch lights and their band playing the "Maple Leaf," in which the whole crowd joined. The scenes of 1890, 1870, Batocche and South Africa, carrying large Union Jacks, led by Col. E. A. Belcher, Major Moon and Col. Leach, marched thru the crowd to the platform, while "Rule Britannia" was played by the band.

Ex-Controller McCarthy said he wished to give all the honor to the man who went to the front realizing the danger in front of him. He had asked one man why he had enlisted and the man's answer was "I'd rather die than live under German rule."

Sir Herbert Ames, the author of the patriotic fund, was an expected speaker, but was unable to be present. Some of those on the platform were: Richard Ivons, president of the Overseas Club; Ald. Dunn, Alfred Coyne and Capt. McLaurin.

Other Recruit Centres.
Other centres of activity in the large meeting were the 10th Regiment's recruiting street car in front of Massey Hall, where over 90 men were enlisted and taken to the doctor.
