

1785.
March 23,
London. Pierre Roubaud to General Haldimand (in French). Discussion with Mr. Maseres on the constitutional law governing the case of du Calvet. Page 113
- March 26,
London. Same to the same (in French). Further discussion with Mr. Maseres. The rage and threats of du Calvet; he has asked Roubaud to occupy a room in his house. 120
- March 28,
London. Same to the same (in French). Sending copy of letters from La Fayette to du Calvet, and is told of another. Roubaud's proposal to draw some money, so that he might live with du Calvet and draw everything from him. Du Calvet proposes to him to take the letters home and answer them, but all is spoiled by Adhemar. The necessity of watching du Calvet and Adhemar's letters. His proposed interview with Mr. Nepean and desire to see Major Mathews. 127
- April 1,
London. Pierre du Calvet to the Marquis La Fayette (in French) (written by Roubaud from notes by du Calvet, and approved by him). Would go to Philadelphia to press his claims against Congress but for his suit in London. Will, however, appoint an agent in the United States, and calls on the United States to recompense him and avenge him. 129
- April —,
London. Roubaud to —. Statement of proposed amendments to the Quebec Act, to be brought forward; du Calvet has asked him to write a letter to Sir Joseph Yorke (see p. 143). 144
- April 15,
London. Pierre du Calvet to Sir Joseph Yorke (in French). Discussing his judgment; sends copies of pamphlets against Haldimand; denounces his being sent back as Governor of Quebec, and anticipates a favourable verdict in his (du Calvet's) case. 145
- April 15,
London. Pierre Roubaud to Evan Nepean. Account of the proceedings of the London committee; their cool reception of Mr. Maseres; the quarrel of du Calvet with some of them. 150
- April 15,
London. Same to the same. Communicating the tenour of petitions and letters from Canada; its distracted state. The bad effects of du Calvet's pamphlet. The good conduct of the priesthood. The tame temper of the Canadians usually, but their sudden fury. How the petitions were got up. Not a charge made in them against Haldimand or his friends. His return to Canada would restore peace. Reforms wanted in the judicature. How reforms may be made; want of public instruction. Some of the letters received are of a very incendiary nature. His own personal affairs. 153
- April 23,
London. Same to General Haldimand (in French). The loss of du Calvet's suit against Watson and Rashleigh has made him almost crazy. His threats. Has no money to pay for another publication. Gamelin's deposition; his disappearance whilst it is being prepared. Remarks on the Canadian petitions. 171
- April 26,
London. Same to the same (in French). Pitt's replies to the different petitions. The United States threaten to take the posts by force. Watson and Rashleigh will issue an execution against du Calvet's property. The effect on the other creditors. 176
- April 29,
London. Same to Evan Nepean. The good effect on the committees of the reported return of Haldimand to Canada. The resolutions of the committees. The opposing Canadian petitions. Commission granted to Haldimand to examine witnesses in Canada excites the rage of du Calvet. Attempt to hurry the Canadian petition before Parliament. The mad rage of du Calvet threatens to break out into murder or suicide. Adhemar's prudent conduct. His own