Let Murray-Kay's Make Your Home as Comfortable as Possible These Warm Days

While many folks spend the entire Summer away from the city, the number is small compared with the tens of thousands who are content with occasional excursions and a two or three weeks' vacation. A great majority of homes are kept open during July and August, and it is important that everything pos-sible be provided for making the home cool and comfortable in appearance and in reality. Be sure to have your windows and doors well screened; add a few comfortable, artistic pieces of Summer Furniture for the porch or living-room. A Summer rug makes a pleasing addition to the porch furnishing and les-sens the housework if substituted for the Winter rugs indoors. Then you may need more of the pretty cretonnes for cushions and draperies. Yes, the middle of Summer always comes in with suggestions of home comforts that you'd neglected until the actual need appeared.
