OUR PRODUCE IN BRITAIN.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Sept. 23.—The demand for Canadian butter has been slow, except for choicest lots of both salt and saltless, which have made full figures, viz., 110s to 114s. There are many lots of secondary quality of both kinds, some showing signs of storage, which are selling at 104s to 108s, but trade for such is somewhat slow at present. There are indications, however, of an improved demand for cheese. There is a firmer feeling, and prices have an improving tendency. Choicest is 55s to 56s, with occasional sales at 57s; finest, 53s to 54s. Bacon, No. 1, is 57s, 58s, 60s, with firm market.

McCullough, 28 boxes at 11 3-16 cents, 35 boxes unsold.

CANNON FOR THE "VIGILANT."

Under Old Treaty Size of Armament is Now Problematical.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—An interesting point arises in connection with the request of Captain Dunn of the protective cruiser Vigilant, which guards Canada's fishing interests on Lake Erie.

According to the terms of the Rush-Bagot treaty of 1817, the size of the war vessels on the lakes is limited to 100 tons and the guns to 18-pounders. The styles of guns having completely changed, the question arises as to what size of a modern gun would equal in effectiveness an old style 18-pounder.

Should a gun placed on the Vigilant sink a United States vessel, or kill any member of its crew, the point might be raised that the weapon used was of greater effectiveness than permitted by the treaty, and this would lead to international complications.

OVER-COACHING HAS DANGER.

How Hotel Boy Learned to Address Titled Persons.

"Everyone in our line," said a clerk at one of the city hotels last evening, "should know how to address a person of rank. Now, how would you address him? Oh, that way?" Reference was made to an eminent guest.

Presently the dignitary, the unsuspecting cause of the official's perplexity, sauntered up for his key, and the clerk acquitted himself beautifully.

Some Toronto publishers might well issue a little compendium, for pitfalls sometimes yawn in the faces of those whose lot it is to address the great.

In the old country on one occasion, a nobleman asked the hotel clerk if he could be called at 7 sharp.

"Certainly! Certainly, my Earl," was the reply.

On another occasion a page was carefully—very carefully—coached concerning the manner in which he should address a bishop when tapping at the door with his hot water. The crucial moment came. "Who is there?" asked his lordship, gruffly.

"'Tis the Lord, me boy, with the hot water," stammered the boy.

Overcoaching has its dangers.

OBITUARY.

W. G. Hannah.

The friends of the late W. G. Hannah will regret to hear of his death at his late residence, 164 Park-road, which occurred at 10 a.m. Sunday. The cause of death was angina pectoris.

Mr. Hannah was the eldest son of the late Charles Cote Hannah of York County, and was for the past forty years a citizen of Toronto. Thirty years ago, in partnership with the late Thomas H. Ince, he commenced to practice as a barrister in Toronto and continued in active practice of his profession until within a short time of his demise.

He married Gertrude, the second daughter of Edgar Barker, barrister, of Dunnville, who, together with a family of two sons and one daughter, survives him.

ASKS FOR RE-CONSIDERATION.

Caracas, Sept. 23.—The French government has asked the Venezuelan government to reconsider its last note, issued Sept. 20, saying: "The government held documents proving that the French Cable Company had accepted the result of the judicial proceedings brought against it. The government was only waiting to establish new relations between it and the company, and therefore the French protest could only be considered an act of personal hostility."

KOMURA GOES VIA OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Word has been received here that Baron Komura will pass thru Ottawa on his way to Vancouver on Wednesday night. The baron desired to meet Hon. Sydney Fisher, but the minister has left for the Northwest, but will join the same train that the baron is on at Calgary and go to the coast with him.

Mails Closed to Fraud.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—The section in the postal guide prohibiting the use of the mails by persons engaged in illegal business is amended so as to apply to those using or endeavoring to use the postoffice for any fraudulent purpose.

SALE OF SUBMARINE PLAN TO BERLIN SCARES FRANCE

Paris, Sept. 24.—Consternation reigns in French naval circles because the plans of the best French submarine have been obtained by the German naval constructors.

A despatch published recently in several papers stated that a submarine boat had been launched at Kiel, and that the vessel had been constructed on plans made by a French engineer. It was asserted these plans had been reasonably sold to Germany.

M. Laubeuf, the naval constructor upon whose plans the largest type of French submarine has been built, has declared his belief that the boat launched at Kiel is a copy of the Aigrette.

QUEEN A GOOD PHOTOGRAPHER HAS SOME PICTURES ON VIEW

London, Sept. 24.—The most interesting feature of the fiftieth annual exhibition of the Royal Photographic Society at the new gallery in Regent-street is the selection of splendid enlargements from negatives by Queen Alexandra.

She seldom travels without a camera, which, in fact, is one of her most constant companions, and her majesty's collection of photographs, therefore, is both extensive and unique.

One may note the strong evidence of artistic feeling in the selection of a subject as displayed in the pictures chosen for exhibition, and the fact that they have stood the enlargement so well is excellent testimony to her majesty's technical knowledge of art.

In the sea views, particularly, the Queen's artistic instinct is strongly marked with delightful cloud effects.

Personal.

Mrs. Hetty Green says she has at various times held mortgages on twenty-eight churches.

King Edward, at Marienbad, promenades in a green Tyrolese hat adorned with the usual feather, a blue suit, with brown boots and a red tie.

General Luis Terrazas, governor of the State of Chihuahua, is probably the largest land owner in the world, as well as the richest man in Mexico. It takes an eight hours' journey on a fast train to travel from one end of his property to the other.

William Rayner, son of Senator Rayner, of Maryland, is seeking the Democratic nomination for a seat in the house of delegates from Maryland. Senator Gorman already has a son in the Maryland legislature.

Earl De Grey is counted the best all-around shot in England. In twenty-nine years he has bagged 316,699 head. In Ireland on one occasion he is said to have brought down sixteen wild geese with two barrels. Another famous shot is Lord Walsingham, who in one day, with the expenditure of 1500 cartridges, brought down 421 brace of grouse.

KNIFE BELONGS TO "BAD EYE" BUT BRUNO IS MAN CHARGED

Inquiry Into Mimico Murder is Begun—Marlow's Queer Conduct Before He Was Killed.

Investigation by the county police and the evidence of two Italian boys all points to the guilt of Dominique Tabarinti as the murderer of Amos Marlow at Mimico on Friday night.

Curly Marlow's chum is still positive that he can identify Bero Bruno as the man who struck the blow, but every other bit of evidence seems to disprove this. The only two witnesses sworn at the inquest in the Windsor Hotel on Saturday night were the two boys, Ricardo Muscone and Bebe Agustino. They added very little to the facts in the hands of the police. In fact, they seemed to be concealing something. They could only tell of the return of the rioters after the murder. Both agreed in the story that Dominique, better known as "Bad Eye," had been very uproarious and declared his ability to beat any six white men. But both were persistent in their declaration that the only reference to a quarrel had been to a "fist fight." They swore there had been no mention of knife play in it.

The coat which the police are confident was that of the murderer has been identified by several as that of Tabarinti. The knife, too, which they say did the job, was also Tabarinti's. Tabarinti has only been on the job a few days, and is generally accepted as a bad Italian. He has been quarrelsome on several occasions, and his companions are more or less afraid of him.

Had a Premonition.

Those who were with him say that Curly was silent and distraught that night. He would sit silent for a few minutes, then he would walk in behind the bar and pump up a few drinks. Each time he felt better and would joke with the rest. Once when a crowd were drinking their liquor, Curly stood with his glass half raised to his lips, looking at nothingness, and recited in a low tone the words of the Lord's Prayer. Several times his companions tried to wake him up from his reverie, but he paid no attention until he had finished the prayer. Then, finishing his drink, he went away to the corner by the door and sat down.

It was only a quarter of an hour later that he was roused by the noise of the six Italians quarreling amongst themselves. Their arguments became heated—it was an old inter-racial dispute—and two of them grappled.

Interfered in Fight.

Curly Marlow hopped down from his seat near the door and walked unsteadily over to them. Forcing his way between the fighters he rested his elbows on the bar and told them there was to be no fighting. The crowd jostled him toward the door, and as he stood astride the high threshold a knife came out and was plunged into his abdomen. The six Italians hurried around the house and the wounded man staggered out the door toward the dwelling that takes the place of the burned hotel. There he dropped and expired.

Joe Bracken, the barkeeper, was standing in the little knot who surrounded the dying man when an Italian rushed up to him and asked if he could get a drink. It was Bruno. Thinking to catch him Bracken assented, but when the bartender had reached the door of the shanty his man took across the fields. It was there that Constable George Simpson caught him after a short tussle.

Then came the fight in the Italian quarter and the arrest of the six men.

Remanded Until Thursday.

On Saturday, before Magistrate Ellis, Bruno was charged with murder and the other five as accessories. All were remanded until next Thursday.

Marlow's relatives live at Brockville. Liquor seems to have been his curse.

The inquest will be resumed on Wednesday night at Nurse's Hotel.

WITTE REACHES BERLIN.

Will See the Kaiser in Hunting Grounds To-Morrow.

Berlin, Sept. 24.—M. Witte, accompanied by his daughter, Mme. Narychkine, wife of the secretary of the Russian legation at Brussels, arrived at the Potsdam Railway station shortly after 6 o'clock this evening and was received by the staff of the Russian embassy.

He proceeded immediately to the Hotel Bristol, where he will reside until Tuesday, when he goes to Rominten, one of Emperor William's famous hunting seats, situated near the Russian frontier, where he will have an audience of his majesty.

Large crowds assembled outside the Hotel Bristol to-night in the hope of seeing the Russian statesman.

RECORD GRAIN SHIPMENTS.

Over 528,000 Bushels Marketed on C.P.R. on Friday.

Winnipeg, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Yesterday established a record for the marketing of grain on the C. P. R. in the west. The quantity reached over 500,000 bushels for the day, being 519,000 bushels of wheat and 9000 bushels of other grains, making a total of 528,000 bushels. The unusual activity is due to the following of particularly favorable weather after the spell of rain, so that the rush has been delayed for some days and now reaches elevators in greater volume.

It would require 500 freight cars to ship this quantity to the head of the lakes, and if these were hauled together would constitute a train more than a mile long.

There have been over 2,000,000 bushels more shipped than for the corresponding date last season.

REORGANIZE BRITISH ARMY BY SECOND CLASS RESERVE

War Office is Memorialized With Suggested Reforms From Independent Army Men.

London, Sept. 23.—The war office is in receipt of a lengthy document, prepared by various independent bodies of volunteer and reserve army men, which embodies an elaborate army reorganization scheme. While there appears to be not even a remote chance of its adoption, the very fact of it being made public seems to show that the authorities are sincerel yanxious to consider suggestions even from outsiders.

After pointing out why the contemplated reforms must lead to an absolute upheaval in the existing system to bring about the desired results, the memorial goes on to say:

"We have a regular army, and a first-class reserve for foreign service, and that is all. Why not create a second-class reserve at once, composed of physically fit and efficient volunteers, militia, yeomanry and ex-army reserve men? Assume we keep up at home a standing army of 150,000 trained men, with 100,000 reserves ready to join at once; if we can add, 150,000 second-class reserves, the total would be 400,000 to send abroad, the knowledge of which would act as a deterrent on some of our foreign friends at times when they became bellicose.

"We believe such a second-class reserve as that referred to might easily be organized by offering the same terms as are now paid the first-class reserves, or similar terms; the conditions of service to be that they are only to be sent abroad in time of war, and that they keep themselves fit for such service by certain military requirements during their period of service.

"If this period were five years, the probability of being mobilized, as a rule, would be remote. With a fortnight or three weeks with the colors each year devoted to training with the regulars, at times suitable to the men, there would only be one week annually for general mobilization purposes. If this could be fixed for the Thursday before Good Friday, till the Easter Tuesday, it would be at a slack time, when the employers would not complain.

"There should be no difficulty in officering such a force, especially to the junior ranks, from among presently qualified officers of the volunteers, militia, yeomanry and university volunteers. The senior ranks might be filled from retired or retiring officers from the army, who had reached the age limit. What seems to us to be wanting is the faculty of organization."

Premier at Old Home.

Premier Whitney will leave for Morrisburg this morning and will be away three or four days. His family will remove to Toronto the end of the week or early next week, and will take up their residence at 29 Wellesley-street. During Mr. Whitney's absence Hon. J. J. Foy will be acting premier.

CLOSING I.C.R. STATIONS.

Unpopular Plan of Retrenchment of Minister of Railways.

Moncton, N.B., Sept. 23.—It seems that the convenience of the public is not to stand in the way of the so-called retrenchment movement inaugurated by the minister of railways. Stations along the line are to be closed up and the expenses of an agent, etc., saved.

The station at Greenville, N.S., was recently closed, and it is stated that the station at Malagash is also to be closed shortly. People living in the vicinity of the stations in question are not very well pleased with this method of reducing expenses, but it seems they will have to submit.

A protest against the closing of Greenville station was made to the minister, but the people whose convenience has thus been interferred with were given to understand that nothing could be done for them at present.

Just before the next election, however, it is understood all the closed stations will be re-opened and some new ones with them.

Railroad Y.M.C.A. Convention.

Detroit, Sept. 24.—About 1500 officials of the Railroad Y.M.C.A. in America will gather in convention at Detroit on Thursday.
