NOT SO WARLIKE THIS MORNING

And Yet There is a Feeling of Uneasiness in Diplomatic Circles.

FINANCIAL MEN DO NOT EXPECT A FIGHT

London Bankers Say It Will be Nothing More Than a Newspaper War-The French Yellow Book on Fashoda Has Not Marchand's Report-Salsbury and De Courcel Are Playing the Diplomatic Game.

ADDITIONAL WAR NEWS ON PAGE 7. The Fashoda war cloud has lifted a little during the past 24 hours, but still the diplomats are uneasy. However, the financial circles of London and Paris are taking the situation coolly...

ONLY A NEWSPAPER WAR

Yet There is an Uneasy Feeling in Diplomatic Circles-Bankers Are Not Yet Alarmed. New York, Oct. 23.-The London correspondent of The Tribune in cabling to his paper today reviews at length the Fashoda affair and the probability of war between Great Britain and France...

THE FRENCH YELLOW BOOK

Does Not Include Marchand's Report-France Claims to Have a Right at Fashoda. Paris, Oct. 23.-A semi-official note issued this evening says: "There is no foundation for the alarmist rumors regarding the relations between France and Great Britain..."

TRAFALGAR DAY

Yesterday was Trafalgar Day. The Nelson column was splendidly decorated and surrounded with patriotic crowds from the head lines of the newspapers hawked in the streets...

GAME OF NEWSPAPER BATTLE

Singularly enough, the same opinion is held in the newspaper offices. Scarcely as the headlines may be, and portentous as the leaders invariably are, I do not know any London editor who believes that there will be war over Fashoda...

MARCHAND GOT THERE FIRST

Judging from the yellow book despatches, the foregoing represents the French standpoint. M. Delcasse considers that as Marchand reached Fashoda first, England had no right to demand an evacuation of Fashoda prior to negotiations...

NO ROOM FOR DISCUSSION

Current diplomatic opinion in London may be summarized as follows: England cannot allow France to occupy Fashoda, or even discuss the question as one open to negotiation. This contention cannot be abandoned whether the Sudan is Egyptian by previous conquest or British and Egyptian by reconquest and actual possession.

JIMMIE'S MISTAKE.

JIMMIE STRATTON: Do I get Mr. Dryden's long boots if he goes down ag'in? MR. HARDY: Sure. JIMMIE STRATTON: Then, by ginger, I'd like to know what I'm doin' out here with a rescue party.

ROSSLAND SHIPMENTS.

Considerably More Than Twice as Many Tons Went Out Last Week as Same Week Last Year. Rossland, B.C., Oct. 23.-[Special.]-Orders for the week were: Le Roi, 2700 tons; War Eagle, 1033; Iron Mask, 70. The cross-cut which is being run from a point in the west drift in Sunset, 200 feet from the main shaft to the top of the Discovery vein, at a depth of 500 feet, is now in 100 feet. It is expected the vein will be struck the end of next month.

THE OLD MISTAKE.

Gordon Atkinson Was Playing With a Revolver and Now Has a Broken Jaw. Gordon Atkinson, the 16-year-old son of J. L. Atkinson of 121 Borden-street, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. It was another case of playing with a revolver and not knowing the chambers were loaded. The lad and two companions, Reggie McKinnon and Charlie De Geer, were out at the back of Wells' Hill, when a revolver was produced by young Atkinson, who wanted to show his friends how it worked. There were two empty chambers in it, and he thought, when he pulled the hammer back and let it go, that it was over one of these, but no, it was the old mistake, and the boy shot himself in the upper part of his mouth, the ball entering just under the nose and coming out of the right cheek, breaking his upper jaw and carrying away some of his teeth. Dr. F. C. Hood of 710 Spadina-avenue, who was near at hand at the time, dressed the wound and the boy was taken to his home by County Constable Tomlinson. When his father was seen last night by The World, he said that the results would not be serious.

Festive Days in Furs at Dineen's.

Rain spoiled a pleasure to many ladies last Friday and Saturday-the anniversary opening days at Dineen's, and prevented the usual large attendance which graces Dineen's on such occasions. But the festive displays of new fur fashions and new styles in hats and the festive air of a special celebration are preserved in full radiance with rich attractions in every department of the new store. And they are grand enough to interest visitors all through this week. Dineen's have inaugurated the new season with the lowest cash prices ever offered to cash buyers.

SEVERAL LUCKY CANADIANS

Returned From the Klondike Country With Nuggets and Dust. Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 23.-[Special.]-The steamer Rosalie H. has arrived from the north with 200 passengers, bringing a quarter of a million in gold dust. There was scarcely a passenger on board who had not some dust in his possession. The most lucky ones were Canadians-Capt. Garland, Messrs. Warburton, Tracey, Barker, Hibbert, Cross and Bowker. Two of these gentlemen had 100 pounds of gold nuggets and dust between them. They said that they had walked over ground in the Klondike, including Eldorado, Hunker, Dominion, Sulphur and Bear, that could not be panned dry in five years. News not yet published was from Stewart River. Two new creeks were struck, of great richness. Bruin Creek and Crozier Creek. The passengers named claim to have seen $300 taken from a strike on the former by two men in sixteen days in bar work. Stewart River is very rich. Colors were found everywhere and men are making in many places $21 to the pan. Mr. Warburton spoke of Hunker, in the Klondike as now the richest creek. He said shovels of dirt from this creek pan out $10. Seven members of the Dominion of Canada survey party, sent to survey the Stewart river, had covered 200 of the 500 miles of river. They report that prospectors are thick enough, but don't know their business, and have gone over ground with a curse that afterwards panned out very rich. The steamer J. C. Barr was placed by, and will be succeeded to by this winter. Dysentery is raging with terrible fatal results in Dawson at present.

Caught at Peterboro.

Peterboro, Oct. 23.-[Special.]-James McFee, alias Harry, was arrested here today at the request of the Tweed authorities, where he is wanted for shooting a man named Perry. When arrested a revolver was found on him, one chamber of which was empty.

Copper River Clean-Up.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 23.-[The City of Seattle arrived with nearly 300 miners from Klondike and Copper River. Ten members of the Great Government exploration party have reached the coast from Copper River. The Copper River clean-up amounts to $50,000.

Is the Romeo Hall Lost?

Gothenburg, Sweden, Oct. 23.-Considerable anxiety is felt in shipping circles here as to the safety of the steamer Romeo Hall, the vessel, which is now three days overdue, has on board a number of Americans and carries a cargo of American horses.

Charged With Shoplifting.

P. C. Macdonald (85) of No. 2 Drisdale street, arrested Annie McDevitt of 90 Richmond street west, at 6:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Timothy Eaton's, where she is charged with shoplifting. A quantity of ribbon was found on her person.

Funeral from above address on Monday at 3 p.m. to Necropolis Cemetery. ROSE-On the 22nd inst., at Fort McLeod, Florence, beloved wife of E. R. Rolph, and eldest daughter of S. W. McMichael of H. M. Customs. Notice of funeral later.

Workman Dropped Dead.

Fort William, Ont., Oct. 23.-Hugh McLeary, while working at unloading steel at this port, dropped dead on the dock this morning of heart disease.

SHOT BY BURGLARS.

Tweed Butcher in Critical Condition Resulting From an Encounter With Suggested Tramps. Tweed, Ont., Oct. 23.-Mr. Robert Perry of this place was shot yesterday evening. He was about to close up his butcher shop when two men stepped up to him and told him to throw up his hands and demanded his money. He struck the one nearest to him and knocked him down, and the other shot a revolver at him, the ball entering the lower jaw close to the neck. The men escaped, and are supposed to be tramps. He boarded a freight train going west, which was in at the time. One of the men has been arrested at Peterboro. The ball has not been extracted as yet, and Mr. Perry is in a very critical condition.

Archbishop O'Brien Speaks.

His Grace of Halifax Says to Come to Toronto Would be a Backward Step For Him. Halifax, N.S., Oct. 23.-The World's despatch published here concerning Archbishop O'Brien's reported transfer to Toronto created immense interest and was the subject of conversation. The respondent saw His Grace at the transfer and was informed that the Archbishop said it would be a step backwards for him, as Halifax was the older see of the two, and he had two bishops in the diocese, whereas Toronto had but two in its jurisdiction. The Archbishop did not believe there was any foundation for the report. He thought it was only a newspaper story, and the person who furnished it clearly did not understand the case. "The successor to Archbishop Walsh will probably be selected in the usual way," said His Grace. "The two bishops will send three names to Rome, and the first name or one of the three will be appointed. New York and Baltimore are a parallel case. New York has the large Catholic population, but Baltimore is considered to be the more important see by the church."

Peace Jubilee Begins.

Opened With Special Services of Prayer and Thanksgiving. Philadelphia, Oct. 23.-The Peace Jubilee began today. It fittingly opened with special services of prayer and thanksgiving in all the churches of the city. Sermons were preached on the horrors of the war and the blessings of victorious peace, and there were services of song and worship on these themes. This was the spiritual inauguration, the material and spectacular beginning will not be until Tuesday.

Belleville Notes.

Belleville, Ont., Oct. 23.-James Scott, a sneak thief, was today sent up for two months. Alva Spencer has been committed for trial on the charge of appropriating cattle. Bull in 230 was accepted. In a trap shooting contest yesterday afternoon at Massena Park the Wolman's Corners Club defeated Striding and the Quinte Gun Club of Belleville. The match was for the district championship.

CALM BEFORE STORM.

The Internal Affairs of France are Giving Pessimists Anxiety.

THE REPUBLIC DIVIDED AGAINST ITSELF

Revision of the Dreyfus Case Causing Vituperation-Struggle for Supremacy May Strike at the Very Foundation of the Republican Form of Government-Trouble Feared on Tuesday.

Paris, Oct. 23.-The absolute calm of the past week is thought by pessimists to be that which precedes the storm. On Tuesday parliament will meet under circumstances, which, for more than a generation, are without a parallel. France is avowedly divided against herself by the violence and vituperation of both the opponents and the partisans of revision-for when Frenchmen quarrel among themselves they show no mercy-measured with a conflict for supremacy of the civil and military authorities, which may strike at the very existence of the republican form of government; confronted with the possibility of war with England over about half an acre of malarial African swamp; exasperated by professional patriots, nationalists, revolutionists, socialists and reactionary leaders, popularity hunters and free-lance journalists. Add to this the volatile Parisian population, largely composed of hot-headed students just back from holidays and youthful livers from the slums and exterior boulevards, all keenly eager to create a "journé historique," and you have the stage-setting in which are to be enacted the two great events so much dreaded by timid observers-the assembling of the Chamber on Tuesday and the opening of the Dreyfus revision by the Court of Cassation on Thursday.

Patriots Will Meet Tuesday. M. De Poulle and the League of the Patriots have announced their determination to assemble at the Place de la Concorde on Tuesday, and "denounce by word and act insults that the Cabinet has allowed to be heaped upon the army, the flag and the nation." A vigilance committee in permanent session at Belleville, consisting of forty members elected by "A coalition of Revolutionists, Socialists and Anarchists," has also declared its intention of assembling on the Place de la Concorde on Tuesday, and making a counter demonstration against Deroulade and his league, who are accused of plotting to establish a military dictatorship.

Extraordinary Precautions. Meanwhile the Government is taking extraordinary precautions to preserve order, which recall the most exciting days of Boulangerism. The garrison of Paris, now amounting to 50,000 men, will remain in barracks, ready to move at telephonic notice. All traffic will be suspended on the Quai d'Orsay between the Rue de Solférino and the Esplanade des Invalides. No one unprovided with a deputy's ticket will be permitted to cross the Pont de la Concorde; no group consisting of more than three persons will be allowed to appear on the Place de la Concorde. Large bodies of cavalry and infantry, and the Garde Republicaine will be concealed in the Tuilleries Gardens, and behind the Palais Bourbon. Observant Parisians who have weathered many a revolution and "journé historique" highly commend these measures, and express confidence that there will be no fighting, nor disturbances of any kind next Tuesday, although all admit that the corner wine shops, which always form centres of Parisian political activity, will reap a superb harvest.

Royalists Are Active. Meanwhile, Royalists like Louis Desmoulin encourage street demonstrations and declare that the "Republic having at least destroyed every other form of authority, the ground is now prepared for the advent of Judge Lynch, who will certainly put in his appearance in Paris on Tuesday. "Moderate and well-balanced papers, like The Figaro, The Temps, The Debats, The Matin, The Soleil, and even M. Millerand's Socialist Beppe, call imperatively upon all good citizens to hold aloof from public manifestations of every kind.

What About the Cabinet? What will become of the Brisson Cabinet when the Chamber meets is the question on everyone's lips. Its downfall is predicted from almost all quarters, but in parliamentary circles the belief is gaining ground that as Fashoda looms up as an ever-increasing danger, and as the feeling of the country is absolutely opposed to going to war for it, the Opposition will insist that the Brisson Cabinet shall be compelled to bear the prohibition of yielding to Lord Salisbury's demands, and will not permit the resignation until a satisfactory arrangement with England is concluded. In other words, just as Sagasta's adversaries in the Cortes will not permit him to withdraw until he has drained his cup to the dregs by signing the treaty of peace with the United States, so Brisson's opponents in the Chamber will not allow him to resign until he has disposed of the Fashoda nightmare as best he can. Consequently Fashoda is the "crux" of the situation, whether regarded from the point of view of home or of foreign politics. Notwithstanding the widespread opposition to them, some of the supporters of the Brisson Cabinet express confidence that they will be able to weather the storm by refusing to discuss the Fashoda question in the Chamber and by boldly taking issue on M. Cavaignac's interpretation, in which the Minister of War declares his intention of moving from the Court of Cassation and be intrusted to a court martial, but the drift of opinion is that as soon as the Brisson Ministry shall have been compelled to humiliate itself by making a satisfactory arrangement about Fashoda its days are numbered.
