

TORONTOS TOOK ONE FROM LEADERS

Newark Had to Go Thirteen Innings to Defeat the Providence Greys.

IN THE EASTERN.
Saturday's Games.
At Baltimore..... R. H. E.
Versey City.....10 000 000-4 11 1
Baltimore.....0 000 000-12 10 1
Batteries-McCaffery and Tott; Miller and McAllister. Umpire, Kelly.
At Buffalo..... R. H. E.
Toronto.....2 000 000-4 11 1
Buffalo.....0 010 000-2 8 1
Batteries-McCaffery and Tott; Miller and McAllister. Umpire, Kelly.
At Rochester..... R. H. E.
Montreal.....0 110 000-1 8 4
Rochester.....0 000 000-2 8 5
Batteries-Papayan and O'Connell; Henley and Carrick. Umpires, Campau and Conahan.
At Newark..... R. H. E.
Providence.....0 000 000-10 00-3 8 1
Newark.....0 000 000-10 00-4 11 1
Batteries-Cronin and Cooper; Hesterfer and Shea. Umpire, Monahan.
Sunday's Games.
At Providence-Providence 7, Montreal 5.
At Newark-Newark 2, Toronto 2.

IN THE AMERICAN.
Saturday's Games.
At New York (first game)..... R. H. E.
Philadelphia.....0 000 000-1 6 1
New York.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Batteries-Plank and Powers; Orth and Kleinow.
At New York (second game)..... R. H. E.
Philadelphia.....0 000 000-1 6 1
New York.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Batteries-Plank and Powers; Orth and Kleinow.
At Boston..... R. H. E.
Washington.....0 000 000-2 6 8
Boston.....0 000 000-2 6 8
Batteries-Fuchs and Wakefield; Tannehill and Peterson. Umpires, O'Connor and Hurst.
At Chicago..... R. H. E.
Cleveland.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Chicago.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Batteries-Walsh and Sullivan; Joss and Benis. Umpire, Sheridan.
At St. Louis..... R. H. E.
Detroit.....0 000 000-2 8 0
St. Louis.....0 000 000-2 8 0
Batteries-Donohue and Schmidt; Powell and O'Connor. Umpires, Evans and Connolly.
Sunday's Games.
At St. Louis..... R. H. E.
St. Louis.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Detroit.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Batteries-Donohue and Schmidt; Powell and O'Connor. Umpires, Evans and Connolly.
At Chicago..... R. H. E.
Chicago.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Cleveland.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Batteries-Walsh and Sullivan; Joss and Benis. Umpire, Sheridan.

IN THE NATIONAL.
At Brooklyn..... R. H. E.
Boston.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Brooklyn.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Batteries-Young and Needham; Pastors and Ritter. Umpire, Johnston.
At Philadelphia..... R. H. E.
New York.....0 000 000-2 7 1
Philadelphia.....0 000 000-2 7 1
Batteries-Taylor and Bowerman; Sparks and Doolin. Umpire, Klem.
At Pittsburgh..... R. H. E.
St. Louis.....0 000 000-2 7 2
Pittsburgh.....0 000 000-2 7 2
Batteries-Taylor and Grady; Willis and Gibson. Umpire, Conway.
At Cincinnati..... R. H. E.
Chicago.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Cincinnati.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Batteries-Lundgren and Moran; Fraser and Schiel. Umpire, Emslie.
Sunday's Games.
At Chicago..... R. H. E.
Chicago.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Pittsburgh.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Batteries-Lundgren and Moran; Fraser and Schiel. Umpire, Emslie.
At Brooklyn..... R. H. E.
Boston.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Brooklyn.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Batteries-Pfeiffer and O'Neill; McIntyre and Bergen. Umpire, Carpenter and Johnston.
At Cincinnati (first game)..... R. H. E.
Cincinnati.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Cincinnati.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Batteries-Weimer and Livingston; Egan, Hoeskoetter and McCarthy. Umpires, Conway and Emslie.
At Cincinnati (second game)..... R. H. E.
Cincinnati.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Cincinnati.....0 000 000-1 6 1
Batteries-Weimer and Livingston; Egan, Hoeskoetter and McCarthy. Umpires, Conway and Emslie.

EASTERN STANDING.
Won. Lost. P.C.
Buffalo.....19 10 66.7
Jersey City.....19 11 63.3
Newark.....19 14 57.5
Baltimore.....15 18 45.1
Rochester.....15 18 45.1
Providence.....14 17 45.1
Montreal.....15 25 37.5
Toronto.....11 20 35.3
New York.....14 14 50.0
Philadelphia.....23 15 60.5
Cleveland.....23 14 61.9
St. Louis.....23 14 61.9
Detroit.....19 19 50.0
Chicago.....16 21 43.2
Washington.....15 25 37.5
Boston.....12 20 37.5
Cincinnati (first game).....14 14 50.0
Cincinnati (second game).....14 14 50.0
Batteries-Weimer and Livingston; Egan, Hoeskoetter and McCarthy. Umpires, Conway and Emslie.

NATIONAL STANDING.
Won. Lost. P.C.
Chicago.....28 15 65.0
New York.....28 15 65.0
Pittsburgh.....28 15 65.0
Philadelphia.....28 15 65.0
St. Louis.....21 25 45.8
Brooklyn.....17 27 38.6
Cincinnati.....18 28 39.1
Boston.....12 20 37.5
Cincinnati (first game).....14 14 50.0
Cincinnati (second game).....14 14 50.0
Batteries-Weimer and Livingston; Egan, Hoeskoetter and McCarthy. Umpires, Conway and Emslie.

THE RING.
DECISION ON THURSDAY.
New York, June 3.—Magistrate Breen, at the hearing in the Jefferson market police court yesterday, in the cases of Terry McGovern and Jimmy Britt, the prize-fighters arrested at Madison Square Garden last Monday night, refused to hand down a decision. He ordered briefs submitted on Tuesday, and said he would render his decision on the following Thursday.

ATHLETICS.
MICHIGAN TOOK FIRST HONORS.
Chicago, Ill., June 2.—The games of the colleges and universities of the Western inter-collegiate conference were held today on Sheppard Field, the new athletic grounds of Northwestern University at Evanston. They were attended by a vast crowd, including strong delegations from the seventeen institutions represented among the contestants. The meet was the most important affair of its kind ever held in the West.
Chicago University experienced a severe loss in the absence of its star quarter-mile sprinter, Quigley, who failed to enter within the prescribed time limit and was barred out.
A new world's record in the pole-vault today marked the meet.
The University of Michigan team took first honors, scoring 62 1/2 points.
The Roy Same, of Indiana University, by vaulting twelve feet, 4 1/2 inches, established a new world's record for the vault.

EARL GREY HAD A PLEASANT VISIT

Continued from Page One.

avenue, with its handsome pavement and canopy of maples, was charming, and the masses of color, added to by the costumes of the ladies on the walks made a brilliant spectacle.
The route was up Richmond street to the depot, and large numbers viewed the procession as it moved along, led by City Engineer Graydon, who was drawn by a pair of dapper chestrys, driven by a coachman in a catchy livery.

There were probably three thousand people at the depot, and they surged forward around the car so that the police had their hands full to keep them back.
Remembered the School Children.
His excellency and Lady Sybil, after bidding good-bye to the members of the committee, then entered the car, accompanied by Miss Howard, Hon. Mr. Hyman, Hon. Mr. Beck, Mayor Judd, and Chairman Gillean, who continued to chat with the visitors until the train moved out.

Then Lady Sybil asked the mayor to proclaim a holiday for the school children and Chairman Strong, of the board of education was sent for.
To Mr. Strong, Lady Sybil said she would like to give the children a holiday, so that they might remember her and feel that they had not been overlooked. She made it a personal favor, and the gallant chairman gave his promise, assuring her that the children of London would long maintain a warm place in their hearts for her.
Lady Sybil was very well pleased, and thanked Mr. Strong again and again.
The boys will be pleased with Lady Sybil, said a member of the committee.
"You don't surely mean to leave the girls out?" her ladyship inquired.
"No, indeed," the chairman quickly assured her. "The girls will be given a holiday, too."

Mr. Strong then announced that Friday next will be a holiday in the city schools.
His excellency congratulated Hon. Mr. C. S. Hyman, Mayor Judd, and Chairman Gillean upon the success of the reception, declaring that it had proved one of the pleasantest events he has experienced since his arrival in Canada.
As the train pulled out, the band played "God Save the King," and the crowd cheered until the train was out of sight. All the while Earl Grey and Lady Sybil stood on the rear platform, bowing to the cheering multitude.
Around the depot at the time were scores of farmers' rigs, the farmers having driven in to take part in the reception.

The Public Reception.
The public reception in the city hall lasted about forty minutes. The hall was crowded and both balconies were filled.
The arcade downstairs was prettily decorated with bunting, and the council chamber had been handsomely fitted up with tapestries and palms.
His excellency stood at the floor of the dais, with Lady Sybil at his left, and there received the citizens. Sir Crawford, P. C. Robert, Black, and Barnhill, Detectives Rider and Nickle, and others, were stationed at the doors and allowed no one to pass until the signal was given.

When all was ready the military men took their places on either side of the earl, and Lady Sybil, and the members of the reception committee also filed into the chamber. Then the address was read and presented by Mayor Judd. It was as follows:
"To His Excellency the Right Honorable the Earl Grey, G.C.M.G., Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada:
"May it please Your Excellency—
The mayor and council of the city of London, on behalf of the citizens, joyfully welcome you to our city, and desire to express our grateful appreciation of your visit, and hope that you may have pleasant memories of the hours spent here.
"In no part of the fair Dominion of Canada will you meet subjects more happy and prosperous, or more loyally devoted to their country, the integrity of the great Empire of which we form a part, and to the person of His Majesty the King. Some 48 years ago this city had the honor of entertaining his majesty, then her apparent. We now hope that Their Majesties the King and Queen will be graciously pleased to further honor us, and thereby give the citizens an opportunity of showing their affection, admiration and loyalty.
"It is gratifying to find that your excellency takes such a warm interest in the homes of the people, and we believe that your acts as Governor-General will be marked by a high degree of statesmanship.
"Rejoicing in the privilege of forming part of an empire encircling the earth and bound together by the principles of justice and freedom, we beg to extend to you a welcome both as sincere and heartfelt as the representative of a King to whom loyalty on the part of the people of Canada is held as a sacred duty."
J. C. JUDD,
Mayor.
"S. BAKER,
City Clerk."

Impressed With City's Beauty.
His excellency's reply was delivered in a firm, clear voice, and he made a good impression on his hearers. He said:
"Mr. Mayor and Members of the Municipal Council of the City of London.—I thank you for the welcome you have given me as the representative of the King, and I also thank the citizens of London for the very cordial reception they have accorded me. My trip has been one of continual interest from the moment I left my car. The beauty and prosperity of your city has greatly attracted and interested me.
"I don't think I ever visited a city which so impressed me with all those things which make for the benefit and well-being of all. The splendid reports which I received at Ottawa regarding your prosperity and progressiveness, and the abundant evidence of such which I have been permitted to see today, convince me that your statements in the address presented to me, namely, that no happier city can be found in the entire Dominion, is well founded. (Cheers.)
Felt at Home Here.
"You state in your address that there is no part of the empire more loyal to the crown than is the city of London. I am not surprised. Wherever you go in this city you come across names which draw the mind back to the old country. Today I met Covent Garden Market, Piccadilly and Oxford streets and others. I tell you, I feel at home in your city. (Cheers.)
"I would like to congratulate you upon the way your streets are laid out—upon the width of your streets and the miles of beautiful trees, upon the broad spaces of lawn between the sidewalks and the houses. All these things present a spectacle which fills the heart with thankfulness.
"Let me tell you that you have attained an ideal in this regard for which the people across the water are striving now to attain—that is to establish garden cities in England, where the people may live in health and peace and prosperity. (Cheers.)
"If you continue as you have begun, you will have a city as beautiful, more beautiful, I might say, than any city to be found on the other side of the Atlantic. (Cheers.)
"Permit me to thank you for your expressions of loyalty. Canada's future and the part she will play in influencing the well-being of the world, promises better if she remains an ever-increasing part of the empire than if she was outside of it. (Cheers.)
"On behalf of myself and daughter, I thank you for this very pleasant visit. I hope to be able to pay you another visit. (Cheers.) We shall go back to Ottawa, this evening, remembering nothing but the pleasures of this visit."
Prolonged cheers followed the close of the speech.
The reception then took place.
Many Presented to Visitors.
The ladies who had dined with Lady Sybil at the residence of Hon. Mr. Hyman were first received. They were Mrs. (Hon.) C. S. Hyman, Mrs. (Senator) Coffey, Mrs. (Mayor) Judd, Miss Lorna Gibbons, Miss Josephine Macfie, Miss Edna Leonard, Miss Betts, Miss Dora Labatt, Miss Hale, Miss Edna Kent, Miss Allie Hyman and Miss Nenone Carling.
The Earl and Lady Sybil shook hands cordially with all, after which many prominent Londoners were introduced. Chairman Gillean introduced all, and when the crowds began to pour in, Mr. Gillean was kept very busy, but he gave the names clearly to His Excellency and Lady Sybil.
In all, about three hundred were introduced. They were people from all walks of life—some young, some old and gray. Not a few paused to say that they were born near the earl's estates in Britain.
A Pleasant Little Incident.
Then a very pretty incident occurred. An old lady approached the door of the ante-chamber. She carried a garland, in a brown pot, wrapped in white paper. A half blown flower and a few delicate half blown petals relieved the quiet green of the plant. The old lady was dressed in black, and was a little stooped, and it was plain that she had gone past the three score and ten allotment.
"Give this to the earl for me," she said to Officer Black.
"Wait a moment and give it to him yourself," the officer said, kindly.
Then she was ushered into the chamber, and before Ald. Gillean had time to announce her, she rushed up to the earl and handed him the simple little flower.
His excellency's face beamed with good nature as he stooped over, took the flower, and shook hands with her. "I knew your father well," she said. "You are a good man and your father was a good man. I was born near where you were born."

"To His Excellency the Right Honorable the Earl Grey, G.C.M.G., Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada:
"May it please Your Excellency—
The mayor and council of the city of London, on behalf of the citizens, joyfully welcome you to our city, and desire to express our grateful appreciation of your visit, and hope that you may have pleasant memories of the hours spent here.
"In no part of the fair Dominion of Canada will you meet subjects more happy and prosperous, or more loyally devoted to their country, the integrity of the great Empire of which we form a part, and to the person of His Majesty the King. Some 48 years ago this city had the honor of entertaining his majesty, then her apparent. We now hope that Their Majesties the King and Queen will be graciously pleased to further honor us, and thereby give the citizens an opportunity of showing their affection, admiration and loyalty.
"It is gratifying to find that your excellency takes such a warm interest in the homes of the people, and we believe that your acts as Governor-General will be marked by a high degree of statesmanship.
"Rejoicing in the privilege of forming part of an empire encircling the earth and bound together by the principles of justice and freedom, we beg to extend to you a welcome both as sincere and heartfelt as the representative of a King to whom loyalty on the part of the people of Canada is held as a sacred duty."
J. C. JUDD,
Mayor.
"S. BAKER,
City Clerk."

Impressed With City's Beauty.
His excellency's reply was delivered in a firm, clear voice, and he made a good impression on his hearers. He said:
"Mr. Mayor and Members of the Municipal Council of the City of London.—I thank you for the welcome you have given me as the representative of the King, and I also thank the citizens of London for the very cordial reception they have accorded me. My trip has been one of continual interest from the moment I left my car. The beauty and prosperity of your city has greatly attracted and interested me.
"I don't think I ever visited a city which so impressed me with all those things which make for the benefit and well-being of all. The splendid reports which I received at Ottawa regarding your prosperity and progressiveness, and the abundant evidence of such which I have been permitted to see today, convince me that your statements in the address presented to me, namely, that no happier city can be found in the entire Dominion, is well founded. (Cheers.)
Felt at Home Here.
"You state in your address that there is no part of the empire more loyal to the crown than is the city of London. I am not surprised. Wherever you go in this city you come across names which draw the mind back to the old country. Today I met Covent Garden Market, Piccadilly and Oxford streets and others. I tell you, I feel at home in your city. (Cheers.)
"I would like to congratulate you upon the way your streets are laid out—upon the width of your streets and the miles of beautiful trees, upon the broad spaces of lawn between the sidewalks and the houses. All these things present a spectacle which fills the heart with thankfulness.
"Let me tell you that you have attained an ideal in this regard for which the people across the water are striving now to attain—that is to establish garden cities in England, where the people may live in health and peace and prosperity. (Cheers.)
"If you continue as you have begun, you will have a city as beautiful, more beautiful, I might say, than any city to be found on the other side of the Atlantic. (Cheers.)
"Permit me to thank you for your expressions of loyalty. Canada's future and the part she will play in influencing the well-being of the world, promises better if she remains an ever-increasing part of the empire than if she was outside of it. (Cheers.)
"On behalf of myself and daughter, I thank you for this very pleasant visit. I hope to be able to pay you another visit. (Cheers.) We shall go back to Ottawa, this evening, remembering nothing but the pleasures of this visit."
Prolonged cheers followed the close of the speech.
The reception then took place.
Many Presented to Visitors.
The ladies who had dined with Lady Sybil at the residence of Hon. Mr. Hyman were first received. They were Mrs. (Hon.) C. S. Hyman, Mrs. (Senator) Coffey, Mrs. (Mayor) Judd, Miss Lorna Gibbons, Miss Josephine Macfie, Miss Edna Leonard, Miss Betts, Miss Dora Labatt, Miss Hale, Miss Edna Kent, Miss Allie Hyman and Miss Nenone Carling.
The Earl and Lady Sybil shook hands cordially with all, after which many prominent Londoners were introduced. Chairman Gillean introduced all, and when the crowds began to pour in, Mr. Gillean was kept very busy, but he gave the names clearly to His Excellency and Lady Sybil.
In all, about three hundred were introduced. They were people from all walks of life—some young, some old and gray. Not a few paused to say that they were born near the earl's estates in Britain.
A Pleasant Little Incident.
Then a very pretty incident occurred. An old lady approached the door of the ante-chamber. She carried a garland, in a brown pot, wrapped in white paper. A half blown flower and a few delicate half blown petals relieved the quiet green of the plant. The old lady was dressed in black, and was a little stooped, and it was plain that she had gone past the three score and ten allotment.
"Give this to the earl for me," she said to Officer Black.
"Wait a moment and give it to him yourself," the officer said, kindly.
Then she was ushered into the chamber, and before Ald. Gillean had time to announce her, she rushed up to the earl and handed him the simple little flower.
His excellency's face beamed with good nature as he stooped over, took the flower, and shook hands with her. "I knew your father well," she said. "You are a good man and your father was a good man. I was born near where you were born."

namely, that no happier city can be found in the entire Dominion, is well founded. (Cheers.)
Felt at Home Here.
"You state in your address that there is no part of the empire more loyal to the crown than is the city of London. I am not surprised. Wherever you go in this city you come across names which draw the mind back to the old country. Today I met Covent Garden Market, Piccadilly and Oxford streets and others. I tell you, I feel at home in your city. (Cheers.)
"I would like to congratulate you upon the way your streets are laid out—upon the width of your streets and the miles of beautiful trees, upon the broad spaces of lawn between the sidewalks and the houses. All these things present a spectacle which fills the heart with thankfulness.
"Let me tell you that you have attained an ideal in this regard for which the people across the water are striving now to attain—that is to establish garden cities in England, where the people may live in health and peace and prosperity. (Cheers.)
"If you continue as you have begun, you will have a city as beautiful, more beautiful, I might say, than any city to be found on the other side of the Atlantic. (Cheers.)
"Permit me to thank you for your expressions of loyalty. Canada's future and the part she will play in influencing the well-being of the world, promises better if she remains an ever-increasing part of the empire than if she was outside of it. (Cheers.)
"On behalf of myself and daughter, I thank you for this very pleasant visit. I hope to be able to pay you another visit. (Cheers.) We shall go back to Ottawa, this evening, remembering nothing but the pleasures of this visit."
Prolonged cheers followed the close of the speech.
The reception then took place.
Many Presented to Visitors.
The ladies who had dined with Lady Sybil at the residence of Hon. Mr. Hyman were first received. They were Mrs. (Hon.) C. S. Hyman, Mrs. (Senator) Coffey, Mrs. (Mayor) Judd, Miss Lorna Gibbons, Miss Josephine Macfie, Miss Edna Leonard, Miss Betts, Miss Dora Labatt, Miss Hale, Miss Edna Kent, Miss Allie Hyman and Miss Nenone Carling.
The Earl and Lady Sybil shook hands cordially with all, after which many prominent Londoners were introduced. Chairman Gillean introduced all, and when the crowds began to pour in, Mr. Gillean was kept very busy, but he gave the names clearly to His Excellency and Lady Sybil.
In all, about three hundred were introduced. They were people from all walks of life—some young, some old and gray. Not a few paused to say that they were born near the earl's estates in Britain.
A Pleasant Little Incident.
Then a very pretty incident occurred. An old lady approached the door of the ante-chamber. She carried a garland, in a brown pot, wrapped in white paper. A half blown flower and a few delicate half blown petals relieved the quiet green of the plant. The old lady was dressed in black, and was a little stooped, and it was plain that she had gone past the three score and ten allotment.
"Give this to the earl for me," she said to Officer Black.
"Wait a moment and give it to him yourself," the officer said, kindly.
Then she was ushered into the chamber, and before Ald. Gillean had time to announce her, she rushed up to the earl and handed him the simple little flower.
His excellency's face beamed with good nature as he stooped over, took the flower, and shook hands with her. "I knew your father well," she said. "You are a good man and your father was a good man. I was born near where you were born."

celency commented most highly on the situation and scenery. After luncheon, the health of the King was proposed, and drunk with great enthusiasm.

Mayor Judd, in rising to propose the health of His Excellency Earl Grey, said:

"I am sure I voice the sentiments of the citizens of London when I say that it is with extreme pleasure that we welcome you on this your first visit to the City of London. Our feelings, at this time are mingled. We feel great pleasure at having you visit our beautiful city, but we regret exceedingly that we must part with you so soon. We would have been more than pleased, could you have spent a couple of days here, and we assure you, that in that time we would have shown you many more beautiful sights. I am proud to be mayor of London on such an occasion as this. We are a contented people and have happy homes. Our people are rearing their children in the way they should go, and are teaching them to be loyal British subjects.
"I am not going to make a long speech, but will now ask you to drink to the health of His Excellency Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada."

Hopes to Come Again.
The toast was drunk with great enthusiasm, and cheer after cheer greeted his excellency. It was some time before he could begin his speech.

"Mr. Mayor and gentlemen," he said, "I thank you most heartily for the enthusiasm with which you have greeted this toast. It is indeed a pleasure to come to London. I have heard much of your beautiful city, and was anxious to visit it. It is not often that one's expectations are agreeably disappointed. I am sure that one's expectations are realized. I must say that although my expectations were great, the reality has far surpassed my highest anticipations. I regret exceedingly that my stay is so short. I hope before the conclusion of my term to come here again and bring Lady Grey."

"I must congratulate the mayor and council on such a well-ordered city as London. There are very few cities where there are such conditions for happiness and good living as in the city of London.
"I hope you may be more and more recognized as one of the happiest cities in the wide empire."

What a Time They Had.
After luncheon the guests assembled on the lawn, and a most informal time was spent. A discussion arose between P. M. Love and Hon. C. S. Hyman as to their jumping abilities, and the matter had to be settled right away. Off went silk ties and coats, and these worthies started to settle the question of supremacy. Hon. Adam Beck opined that he was somewhere at the "Pumping game himself, and he entered, P. M. Love, however, corralled a "dark horse," which he was determined to back for millions against the whole outfit. Soon the entire party were at the jumping business. The honors went to Hon. C. S. Hyman, with Hon. Adam Beck a close second. Earl Grey thoroughly enjoyed the fun, and congratulated the winners on their excellent form.

Col. Peters then took up the subject of golf. He took great delight in showing his excellency his collection of great golf sticks. Earl Grey desired a demonstration of their worth, and a contest between Col. Peters, Major Cronyn and Geo. C. Gibbons, K.C., took place. Not one of these gentlemen, to the intense amusement of the crowd, failed to lift the ball twenty feet. At last Col. Peters got under one and made a true drive. Earl Grey then took Col. Peters' driver and had it not been for the boards, it would easily have been the best drive of the day.
The earl then took their carriages for the city hall.

His Excellency's Arrival.
His excellency was met at the depot by about 40 of London's most prominent citizens, including the mayor and aldermen, Hon. C. S. Hyman, minister of public works, and Hon. Adam Beck.
It was about 11:35 when the C. P. R. express pulled in with the vice-regal car Cornwall, which bore the Governor-General and his party.
Hon. Mr. Hyman at once entered the car, which he introduced Mrs. Judd, wife of the mayor, and Mrs. Coffey, wife of Senator Coffey.
Then the ladies presented two very handsome bouquets of roses to Lady Sybil and Miss Howard, after which Mr. Hyman introduced his excellency, first to Senator Coffey, and then to the other gentlemen of the party. Captain Trotter, a veteran of the Boer war, and with one sleeve empty, was then introduced, the military members of the party being especially hearty in their hosannas.

Without further ceremony the party entered the carriages waiting for them, his excellency being driven about the city by Mr. Andrew Thompson, liveryman, who drove his own carriage. The ladies went direct to Idleywood, the residence of Hon. C. S. Hyman, on Grand avenue.
The scene at the station was a brilliant one, the uniforms of the officers commanding No. 10 Company at Wolseley Barracks, No. 11 Little, Major Hume Cronyn, and others—conveying the somber dignity of the frock coats and the hats of the reception committee.
The Drive About the City.
The drive of the Governor-General was without incident. The roads having been well watered, there was scarcely any dust. Along the route many houses were decorated, but there were not as many decorations as the reception committee had hoped for.
As the party left the C. P. R. depot, cheers were given by the assembled crowd. The same occurred in East London. There the people crowded the doorsteps and verandas, and children frequently waved flags and shouted for the King's representative.
In South London some very beautiful decorations were noticed.
Along the route his excellency, whose hobby for years has been the improvement of workmen's homes in Britain, frequently remarked to Hon. Mr. Hyman, Hon. Mr. Beck and Mayor Judd that the homes of London's working classes were very creditable. In fact, the cottages all along the route did look well, and the Londoners were delighted with the earl's remarks. The many beautiful streets of London also elicited warm compliments from his excellency.

There were no crowds along the route, the greatest numbers being met with in East London, where a large number of workmen cheered the party at Queen's Park.
Cheered By Little Tots.
When the drive was almost completed his excellency was charmed with the reception he was accorded by about 50 inmates of the Protestant Orphan's Home. The children were drawn up in front of the institution, and as the earl went by they cheered lustily and waved flags.
The party then drove to the Kennels, where luncheon was partaken of.
The order of the carriages, with the occupants, was as follows:
Leader—A. O. Graydon.
Carriage No. 1.—His Excellency, Mayor Judd, Hon. C. S. Hyman, M. P., Hon. Adam Beck, M. P. P.
Carriage No. 2.—The ladies, Mrs. (Mayor) Judd, Mrs. (Senator) Coffey.
Carriage No. 3.—Col. Peters, Col. Little and two aides.
Carriage No. 4.—Geo. C. Gibbons, Senator Coffey, Judge Macbeth and Judge Elliott.
Carriage No. 5.—No. 1 committee of the council.
Carriage No. 6.—No. 2 committee of the council.
Carriage No. 7.—No. 3 committee of the council.
Carriage No. 8.—S. Baker, John Pope, Dr. English, F. Darch.
Carriage No. 9.—Col. McDougall, Major Cronyn, Major Laybourne and Col. A. M. Smith.
Carriage No. 10.—S. Scraton, W. T. Strong, J. C. Hazard and W. McPhillips.
Carriage No. 11.—J. W. Pocock, T. H. Smallman, J. Stevely, C. B. Hunt.
Carriage No. 12.—G. Meredith, F. Love, Sheriff Cameron, and President A. White.

After the luncheon, the party again took their carriages and drove to the Armories which his excellency inspected.
Much of the charity that begins at home isn't charity. It is self-defense.
IT IS AN ELIXIR OF LIFE.—Since forgotten time, men have been seeking for the Elixir of Life, which tradition says once existed. Dr. Thomas' Elixir Oil is an elixir before which pain cannot live. It is made up of six essential oils, carefully blended so that their curative properties are concentrated in one. It has no equal in the treatment of lumbago, rheumatism and all bodily pains.

People like, because it is pure and good.
Cowan's Perfection Cocoa
(Maple Leaf Label)
Is an absolutely pure Cocoa, made in Canada, and is unequalled for strength and fine flavor.
THE COWAN COY., LIMITED
TORONTO. 20th-z

People like, because it is pure and good.
Cowan's Perfection Cocoa
(Maple Leaf Label)
Is an absolutely pure Cocoa, made in Canada, and is unequalled for strength and fine flavor.
THE COWAN COY., LIMITED
TORONTO. 20th-z

People like, because it is pure and good.
Cowan's Perfection Cocoa
(Maple Leaf Label)
Is an absolutely pure Cocoa, made in Canada, and is unequalled for strength and fine flavor.
THE COWAN COY., LIMITED
TORONTO. 20th-z

SMALLMAN & INGRAM

THE WEATHER TODAY
Fine and warm.

THE SATISFACTORY STORE

The June Bride Will Need a Pretty Parasol

—Not only because it's the height of fashion to carry one, but because a great deal of the honeymoon will be spent out in the open air, on the steamer deck or at the summer resort, for instance, and a parasol affords a welcome shade against the warm summer sun.

The smartest of our parasols are the Sixteen-Ribbed Harukos. These are shown in all the leading pastel shades, also plain white and black with white stripes. Because we import direct from the makers in England we are able to offer you exceptional values. Prices from $2.00 to $5.00.

Dainty White Chiffon Trimmed Parasols with lace applique and medallions. Very dressy—the kind for the June brides. Prices are reasonable, indeed.....$5, $7.50, $8.50, $9

Plain Black or with frills, also black and white stripes and fancy striped borders. Big variety to choose from.....$1.25 to $4

Great demand for Linen Parasols, in blind embroidered designs with here and there a little eyelet work to smarten them up.....$1.75 to $3.75

Get Your Traveling Suit Made in

Our Ladies' Tailoring Department. The gentleman in charge of this department is experienced and capable. He will design you a suit that will win your own, your husband's and the guests' approval. Good fit, smart appearance, well made and moderate in price.

If The Gloves For The June Wedding Are

Chosen here they will be right in every way—and you want them right for such an important event.

They will be correctly cut, perfect in fit, graceful and shapely on the hands.

Made by the world's foremost makers. The skins are carefully selected for their pliability. Workmanship and finish are excellent. Every inch of them—from the tops to the finger tips—speaks of high quality. Every pair guaranteed.

Gloves For The Ladies

16-Button length, white Glace Kid. A beautiful glove.....$2.75

16-Button Suede, white.....$2.00

16-Button Suede, black.....$2.75

12-Button Suede or Glace Kid. White, champagne, pearl gray, tan and mode.....$1.75

8-Button Glace Kid, black, white, champagne and castor.....$1.50 and $1.60

2-Clasp Washable Kid. White, pearl gray and champagne.....$1.50

2-Clasp Kid Gloves. White, gray and tan. A splendid glove for.....$1.25

Gloves For The Men

White Kid. Good quality.....75c

Suede. Pearl gray and mode.....$1.50

See the special line at.....$2.00

SMALLMAN & INGRAM, 149, 151, 153 and 155 Dundas Street.

also elicited warm compliments from his excellency.
There were no crowds along the route, the greatest numbers being met with in East London, where a large number of workmen cheered the party at Queen's Park.

Cheered By Little Tots.
When the drive was almost completed his excellency was charmed with the reception he was accorded by about 50 inmates of the Protestant Orphan's Home. The children were drawn up in front of the institution, and as the earl went by they cheered lustily and waved flags.
The party then drove to the Kennels, where luncheon was partaken of.
The order of the carriages, with the occupants, was as