FEW CASES OF HARDSHIP OVER LACK OF FUEL

Coal Dealers Doing Best to Give Supplies Where Absolutely Needed.

MORE COAL COMING IN Small Amounts Reach London and Dealers' Optimism Continues.

The coal situation here remains practically unchanged. Small amounts o fuel are reaching the city, but there i a demand for all that can be obtained, and individuals are still experiencing difficulty in getting enough coal for their nomes. Few cases of real hardship have charitable institutions, as coal dealers have done their best to give supplies in cases where they are absolutely neceseary. Most places, however, where ap peals are made report that more requests for help in obtaining coal have come in than in any year previously.

The situation although it is causing trouble is not regarded as serious, as nearly all the coal men are optimistic that conditions will be better by next week.

"I have the wives of five soldiers under my care as a landlord's agent, and the intimidation to make them vote for Borden has been frightfulness itself," said a resident of South London today. "These women wanted to think the matter out for themselves, but they will not be given the chance if certain people can help it.

"They have been told that all soldiers' wives are conscripted to vote for the Government and that they will be placed under arrest if they do not vote that way. But this threat only had the opposite to the desired effect, for these women came to me in a body and asked me the truth of the matter, and I told them. Intimidation in this case insured several

A lady, who describes herself as English and said she was the wife of a soldier, called The Advertiser today to have it asked why these "society ladies," who had never thought of coming near them before, were now so solicitous for the welfare of the soldiers' wives. "They never came near us when we needed them," she said. "If the help of every citizen is needed. Have you done YOUR share? Parkhill and Newbury are the latest to pass their objectives in the county.

The London branch of the Great War Veterans' Association bought a $500 bond today. They not only went across, but are coming across.

Who puts in the most hours around headquarters? The answer is easy. Gordon Philip, London's industrial commissioner, is on the job early and late and has been the moving figure in the Victory Loan's great organization. He's the man on the job all the time.

The Metal Polishers International Union of North America, Local No. 32, has subscribed for $200 worth of bonds. Good work. Come on the rest of you trade locals and invest your money at 5½ per cent instead of letting it lay in the bank at 3 per cent per annum.
