REPORT TUBERCULOSIS PROMPTLY.

Provincial Health Department Wants Chance to Cope With the Disease.

In the last generation in Ontario the deaths from consumption have been more numerous by ten thousand than those from all other contagious diseases taken together.

The fact that consumption is a contagious disease is being slowly realized, and the provincial medical health department is desirous of having all cases as they occur reported by the physicians in attendance, so that suggestions may be made and precautions taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

Statistics were first collected by the department in 1869, and till the end of 1902 the mortality from this cause in Ontario rolled up to 75,918. Typhoid, scarlet fever, diphtheria, croup, whooping-cough, measles, smallpox and typhus all together gathered only 66 240 victims.

There has been no typhus since 1883, and it has been stated that if people would observe the laws of health in diet, cleanliness, ventilation and clothing, and pay proper attention to their breathing, consumption might become equally rare.

HOW SHE ESCAPED.

Paris, Sept. 9—Princess Louise of Bourbourg and Lt.-Count Matnisch-Keglevitch are stopping in the central quarter of Paris, but their exact location is carefully concealed. The princess, however, narrated to a journalist the story of her escape from Badelster.

The count, she said, contrived to convey messages to her thru an hotel waiter. When all was arranged, the princess left the hotel at 2 a.m., and the nightwatchman, having been bribed, saw nothing. A carriage was waiting for her, in which she drove to Hof, where she took a train for Berlin and there remained concealed for two days.

The princess said that she intended to reach the French frontier by auto, but, owing to frequent breakdowns, decided to take a train at Hildesheim, Prussia, for Cologne, where she took a sleeping car for Paris.

While crossing Belgian territory, she said, a railway official recognized the count, but did not disturb the fugitives.

PRAISE FOR GOLDWIN SMITH.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Sept. 9.—Quoting Prof. Goldwin Smith's saying at the close of his preface with reference to the United Kingdom and its political history, that the friends who urged him to undertake the task know that it has been performed by the hand of extreme old age, The Times says that tho it seemed to others a farewell to his long and brilliant literary career, yet the friends to whom he seemed to be then apologizing for his lingering on the stage, cannot but rejoice, together with all judicious readers, that the hand of extreme old age has been spared to write an appreciation of the great statesman who was his senior contemporary, and to do so in the full light shed on so memorable a career by the great biography of John Morley.

Flathead Railway.

Ymir, B.C., Herald: Steps are being taken for building a railway into the Flathead River coal lands by representatives of two syndicates now in Victoria. These are Judge Prather of Spokane and J. McIntosh of Grand Forks (directors of the Kootenay Coal Company), and F. W. Teetzel of Nelson, representing a Nelson syndicate. Both corporations are heavily interested in lands adjacent to the Crow's Nest Coal Company, and which were recently thrown open.

Arrangements have been made by these two syndicates to hand over one hundred claims between them, comprising 64,000 acres, to this company, the latter in turn agreeing to construct a railway and put up coke ovens. This land on the Flathead River will be opened up to all.

The names of those back of the new company are not known, but an impression prevails that Corbin is back of it. It is said to be backed with ample capital and the company will be capitalized at $10,000,000. Both companies have large holdings of claims yet remaining.

ONTARIO HAS LAGGED IN COURSES OF EDUCATION

Due to Prevailing Opinion of Disregarding Majority for the Purposes of Minority.

The opinions of some oft he city public school principals re the new school regulations have received considerable attention, and a World reporter yesterday waited on John Millar, deputy minister of education. Asked as to whether the new regulations would be difficult to follow, Mr. Millar said:

"By no means. It is distinctly provided that public school inspectors shall be permitted to exercise discretionary powers in the introduction of the new subjects.

"The new subjects are very few—nature study and art are perhaps the only ones, if the former can really be treated as new, for every up-to-date teacher has for many years directed the attention of his pupils to the natural phenomena which elementary science in its various sub-departments reveals. Drawing is now included in the more general term art, and may need the application of new methods in its teaching.

"Improved methods will doubtless be required for some subjects. Modern methods are, however, not unknown to teachers who have not allowed themselves to get into ruts. The department has made every effort to prepare them to teach the new subjects, even going to the length of providing them with summer schools for the purpose. In some parts of the province the inspectors have called their teachers together to discuss instruction in the new subjects.

"For two years before its adoption the draught course was before the teachers. Neither the Educational Association of Ontario nor any other organized educational body was in favor of striking out any of the subjects prescribed.

"A child's powers of observation require to be cultivated. They take a wide range. Thoroness should be sought after and no knowledge too deep for his comprehension should be taken up. To limit the subjects to the three r's would be ridiculous. What, for instance, does reading embrace? Should not a child know of what he reads? I consider that it is in the best interests of the national life that a child should be instructed in the every-day affairs of life, such as the government of country, city, county and township. It being impossible to limit a child's activities, a narrow curriculum would be unpedagogical.

"I am a firm believer in fre education. This matter, however, is to a very great extent in the hands of the city board of education.

"I do regret to say Ontario has lagged behind regarding the courses of study, due mainly to the prevailing opinion that the requirements of matriculation should dominate the high school and of the entrance the public school. We are only just awakening to the fact that the interests of the pupils who do not propose going to high school should have first consideration, and the high school pupils who do not intend to proceed to the university or enter a profession should be accorded like treatment in the high schools. There need be no clash of interests in this connection.

"The new subjects required in the fifth form, which are abligatory, are: Reading, literature, grammar, composition, history, geography, writing, arithmetic and mensuration, and elementary science. For the other subjects may be selected, such subjects or parts of subjects as may suit the requirements of localities. The optional subjects are: Algebra, geometry, art, stenography, typewriting, manual training and household science."

AND THEY ARE IDLE.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Sept. 9.—It is reported that the Russian Jews, who emigrated to Winnipeg from Donlais, Wales, are greatly disappointed. Many of them are penniless and have had to resort to begging. Their rabbi states it was understood that work would await them by arrangement with the Jewish colonization association which administers the Baron Hirsch fund, but on the emigrants arriving at their destination they found no employment had been provided.

Labor Unfit for Humans.

Leeds, Eng., Sept. 9.—The Trades Union Congress at its session to-day unanimously adopted a resolution emphatically protesting against the government's action in sanctioning the South African labor ordinance, as opposed to the best interests of British workmen at home, and abroad, as sanctioning conditions of labor unfit for human beings and as contrary to the anti-slavery traditions of the British empire.

FREE TO MEN

A despondent, weak, nervous man—a man without any vim, snap, vigor or ambition—such a man needs my treatment. For nearly forty years I have been treating those peculiar nervous symptoms which result from dissipation in youth or in later years, such as DRAINS, VARICOCELE, RHEUMATISM, LAME BACK, etc. I treat weak men and weak men only. That is my specialty. I know the CAUSE, the EFFECT, the CURE. I never use drugs. I have not written a prescription in all that time—as long ago as that I discovered the life-giving properties of GALVANIC ELECTRICITY. I then gave to the world my famous DR. SANDEN ELECTRIC BELT, and from that time until now I have treated hundreds of thousands of weak men and have effected permanent cures in nearly all cases. My desire is that every weak man should try my treatment and convince himself. To show my faith in what I know I can do, I let any sufferer who will call or write use my world-famed invention

Free Until Cured

I do not ask one penny in advance or on deposit. Use the belt 60 days and if satisfied, pay me price of it—many cases is low as $4. If not satisfied there is not a cent expense to you. Being a crowning triumph, my belts are of course imitated. What good thing is not? But the valuable advice I give from ripe experience is mine alone, and given my patients freely until cure is complete.

Call or send for one to-day and convince yourself of my wonderful remedy and offer. Or if you want to investigate the matter further get my two best little books ever written upon Electricity and Its Medical Uses. Free, sealed, by mail.

DR. A. B. SANDEN, 140 Yonge-street, Toronto, Ont. Office hours: 9 to 6 daily. Saturdays until 9 p.m.

Dr. Clarke succeeds Dr. Henry Hurd, the eminent medical superintendent of Johns Hopkins Hospital, in editorial work. The new duties will in no way interfere with Dr. Clarke's present position as superintendent.

CONFESSES TO MURDER.

Topeka, Kansas, Sept. 9.—B. F. Stalgal, alias Robert Romaine, a deported Colorado miner, under arrest here for burglary, has confessed to the county attorney to complicity in the independence depot and the Vindicator Mine explosions in the Cripple Creek district, last June, by which fifteen non-union miners were killed outright and others injured. Romaine says he helped to place the dynamite and wires running beneath the depot, and by which the charge was set off. Romaine gave the names of those who he alleges were implicated with him in the plot.

A Botanical Wonder.

Norway Bay, Sept. 9.—The only forest in Canada growing, in close proximity, the three different kinds of pine, is Norway Bay Park. Within a radius of two feet may be seen the Norway, or red pine, white pine and pitch pine growing, one would think, out of the same root. This fact was made known to the department of agriculture, and they sent men to investigate. They found this to be true, but can give no reason for the peculiar growth. The park is owned by the Canadian Bible Institute and is a source of much amusement to botanists and lovers of nature. The land about the park is well wooded with red pine, but how the pitch and white pine became so peculiarly interwoven is a mystery yet to be solved.

May Be a Dark Horse.

Wiarton Canadian: The Reformers will meet in convention at Port Elgin on the 22nd to select a candidate for the Dominion house. The party seems to be divided between Messrs.
